o Many Women.
oney for Everybody.
ncer and Fear.
00,000 of Whiskers.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(Copyright, 1927.)

RKEY has 481,137 excess women, according to a census taken. Kemal Pasha decided one wife is enough for one , so surplus women are taking ork of all kinds. That is bet- than a dull harem, and one among many.

HTING kills off the men— lways has, which accounts for amy. One man could not pos- keep several women happy contented. That accounts for veils on their faces and prison-like harems.

Kemal's interesting experiment, abolishing polygamy, will cause more rapid increase of population, for one thing, and perhaps restore the ancient glory of the Turks, a powerful race, admired for gallantry by all their enemies—except the Armenians.

MR. JACOB COXEY, who led his famous army to Washington thirty-four years ago, evolves a new plan at the age of seventy-three. He would have the government lend money to citizens at one-half of one per cent interest a year.

"Interest is the economic bookworm of the nation," says he.

The economic bookworm for the borrower probably would be the scarcity of collateral, unless Mr. Coxey's plan would not allow government to demand collateral.

THE worst of cancer is fear.

Cancer is a variegated disease, including growths of various kinds.

Taken in time, a cancer is no more dangerous than a bad splinter that might cause blood poisoning if not removed.

EACH cancer begins very small. If near the surface, detected and removed promptly—that's an end of it. If allowed to grow, it sends out particles of itself that grow elsewhere. A cancer in the thumb will reappear in the armpit.

WHEN you notice any abnormal growth, however small, see a doctor that knows something—or, failing that, go to a hospital and ask for a specialist.

DON'T be afraid of the word "cancer"; it is not the word that kills.

There is NO CURE FOR CANCER except the surgeon's knife, and in some cases radium. Medicine is worthless, although frauds recommend it.

Cheerfulness helps, perhaps. A cheerful heart being more efficient in fighting disease. Many who fear cancer have no such thing. They should go to a hospital and make sure.

CANCER is not inherited, but tendency to cancer is inherited. It is believed that the right "crosses" in marriage would eliminate cancer, but the wrong wife or husband is worse than cancer.

CHRISTMAS spending, one sign of American prosperity, amounts to fourteen hundred and twenty-two million dollars, about. Whiskers for imitation Santa Clauses alone cost $300,000.

THE most welcome present is often something useless; it seems really LIKE a present. The farmer and his sons that gave the wife and mother a new ax to chop kindling wood did not understand Christmas giving.

THE Rev. John R. Hart, at the University of Pennsylvania, has established a forum of forums "to combat atheist clubs in the colleges." All discussion is useful, but atheist clubs need worry no one. They combat and destroy themselves.

Watch your atheist in an earthquake, big storm at sea or heavy thunderstorm and you see in his face the fact that man is naturally a religious animal, and "would have to invent a God if he did not have one."

POIRET, French dressmaker, complains that American women are "too conservative" in dress. He is hard to please. American women display their arms, legs, knees, armpits, ribs, back down to the waist and chest as far down in front as possible. What else would Monsieur Poiret suggest?

BEFORE he died Bratianu, dictator in Rumania, predicted war caused by Mussolini's policies, and said Rumania would "never cede any of its new territory." Never is a long word. If Russia should develop a Muscovite Napoleon one of his first bites would probably take in the whole of Rumania.

Every nation created artificially exists in constant danger. Real nations, like languages and individuals, grow.

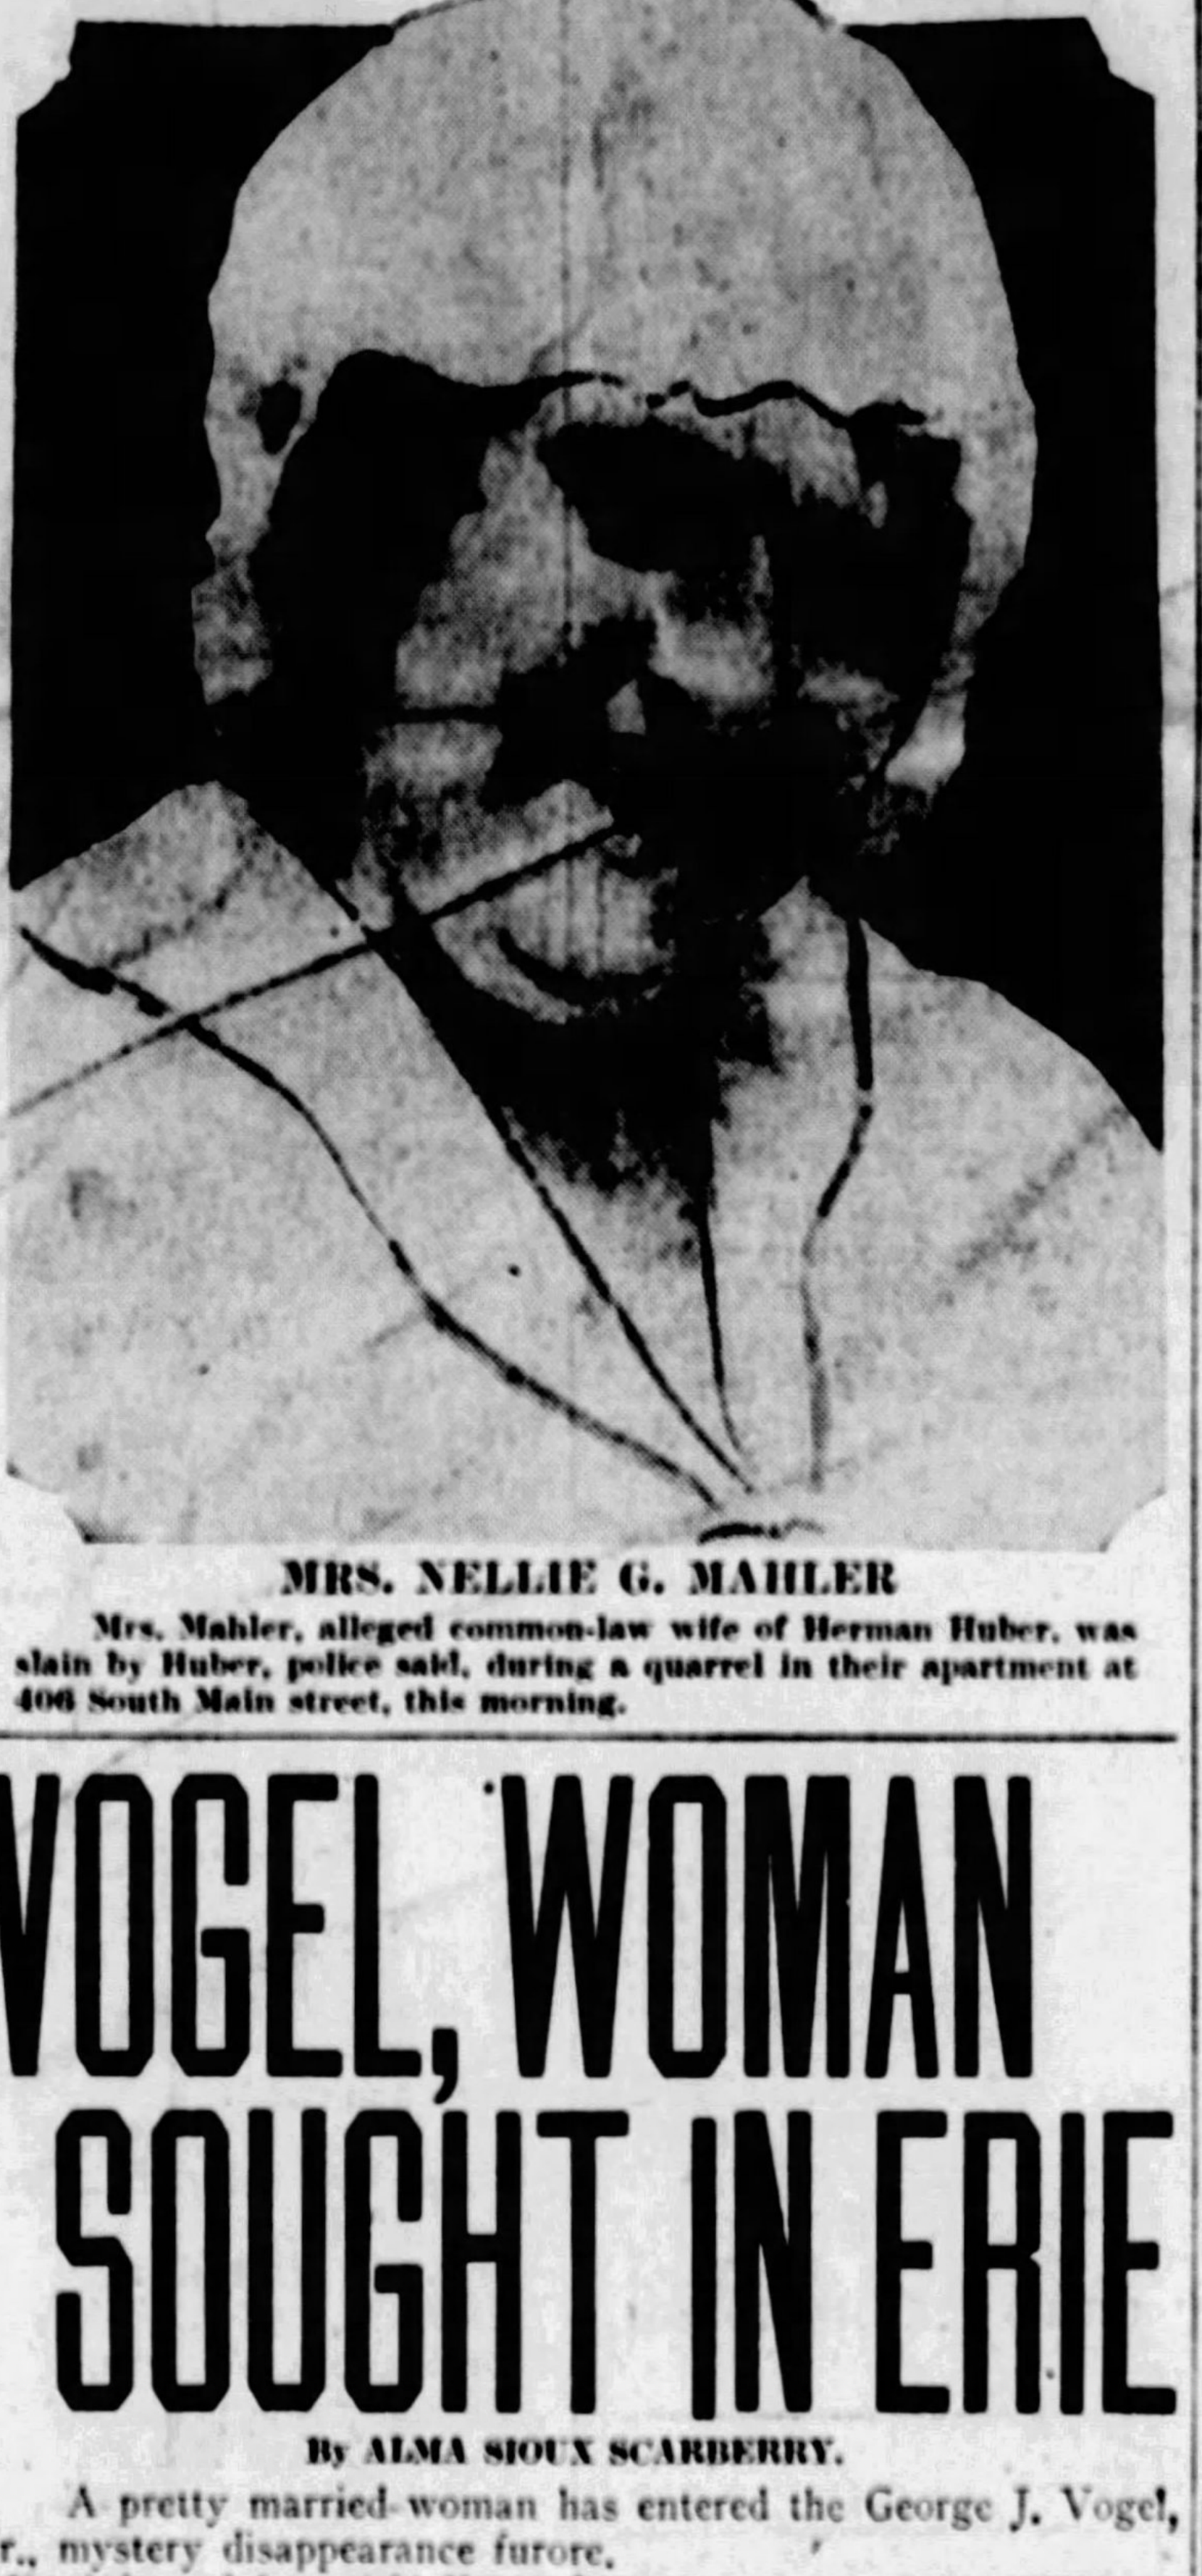
ANOTHER California idea. Bees waste too much time and energy flying long distances to find honey. Frank S. Clark, of Los Angeles, will have his colonies of hives on trailers, hauled behind motor trucks.

The bees, hives and all, will be carted about and kept always within easy reach of blossoms, orange, clover, alfalfa, depending on the season, and the bees will be kept working on an efficiency basis all the time.

LOST ARMY FLIERS FOUND DEAD

I Loved Her, Wife-Killer Shouts, Then Shoots Self

Slain in Apartment



MRS. NELLIE G. MAHLER

Mrs. Mahler, alleged common-law wife of Herman Huber, was slain by Huber, police said, during a quarrel in their apartment at 406 South Main street, this morning.

BULLET ENDS SPAT

"I'm sorry I did it, I loved that woman!"

After shouting these words to the family upstairs, Herman Huber, about 38, after killing his alleged common law wife, Mrs. Nellie G. Mahler, in their apartment at 406 South Main street this morning, shot himself in the head. He is in a critical condition at the South Side Hospital.

The couple had been living together about two years, according to neighbors, who told police they quarreled incessantly. They evidently had been drinking together this morning.

Mrs. Anna Mayberry, who lives on the floor above, said after Huber had called to her, she heard one shot. She ran downstairs and found Mrs. Mahler dead, and Huber sprawled in the doorway.

Police had received a telephone call from a man who said a murder had been committed in the apartment, which is only four doors from the West End Police Station. They believe Huber made the call himself and then attempted to take his own life.

Neighbors say Mrs. Mahler had been separated from her first husband. She is said to have had one child, a boy.

CRASH IN PA. MTS.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 28.—In a deep gully, five miles from Hopwood, the bodies of Pilot E. R. Emory and Mechanic William D. Vollman, missing Army fliers, were found today, near their wrecked airplane, by Coroner H. A. Baltz and Lieut. Eugene B. Bayley. Both bodies were badly crushed, and identification was made by means of tags attached to their parachutes. They had been missing since Friday.

One of the parachutes had partly opened, but the other indicated that the distance from which the leap was made was too low and the aviator crashed to the ground with terrific force.

Parts of the wrecked machine were found strewn over an area of 200 feet and the bodies were found quite a distance from the main portion of the plane. Emory was found 20 feet from the plane with his parachute partly opened. Vollman was about 200 feet from the plane and a similar distance from Emory.

Trucks and ambulances started to the scene were unable to get within four miles of the wrecked plane and the bodies were borne out on litters in relays.

The scene of the crash is in the wildest part of Fayette county, and swollen streams prevented trucks reaching the plane.

W. T. Byers, coal operator, probably the last man to see the aviators alive on their trip from Bolling Field, Washington, to Columbus, O., stated they were flying so low as they crossed the National Pike Friday that they nearly ripped the top of his auto.

When found the plane was within three and a half miles of Burgess Field. The wrecked plane was sighted from the air this morning by Lieut. Bayley, who returned and led Coroner Baltz to the scene.

Companionate Union Wrecks

MR. AND MRS. JOHN E. CONSTABLE, JR.

Erie's companionate marriage, the first in Pennsylvania, is on the rocks—and it didn't take it long to get there. Viola Griffin, 18-year-old Erie telephone operator, married John E. Constable, Jr., a member of the Erie Central High School senior class, July 17, 1927. She was to live with her parents. He was to live with his. Instead both lived with hers for two weeks and then separated. Saturday she appeared before Judge Uriah P. Rossitter charging non-support. The case was continued for one month.

VOGEL, WOMAN SOUGHT IN ERIE

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY.

A pretty married woman has entered the George J. Vogel, Jr., mystery disappearance furore.

Vogel dropped from sight November 13. Police have been asked to look for Vogel and a Pittsburgh woman in Erie, where, the husband of the woman declares, two friends saw them the Wednesday after the disappearance.

The husband of the woman says his wife has been a friend of Vogel for more than a year. He said:

"I feel quite certain Vogel is with my wife. Some time ago I

CALL GRANT 5400

Says Beach Told

By International News Service.

COURTHOUSE, MAYS LANDING, N. J., Nov. 28.—Willis Beach, alleged clandestine lover of Mrs. Lilliendahl with whom he is jointly accused of murdering the woman's husband, admitted the murder on the day a warrant was sworn out for his arrest, Assistant Prosecutor S. Cameron Hinkle declared before the jury in his opening statement here today.

Beach, a poultry raiser and neighbor of the Lilliendahls, confessed to a friend that he had slain Dr. Lilliendahl, the prosecutor asserted. "He was trying to raise funds for his defense when he went to his friend with the admission," Hinkle declared.

The startling charge came near the close of the prosecutor's opening statement and revealed a heretofore unannounced "ace" in the state's hand.

"We will show that when Beach disappeared, the day the warrant was sworn for him, he tried to raise money to get rings out of pawn in another city. We will

CALLES-SACASA PACT REVEALED

Today's Disclosures

The Sun-Telegraph presents today the draft of a secret treaty drawn up by President Calles, of Mexico, and Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa, rebel leader in Nicaragua. Under the terms of this agreement the following concessions were to be made by Mexico and the Nicaraguan Liberals:

President Calles was to recognize the Sacasa government. He was also to furnish money, munitions and men to help the Liberals put the American-recognized government out of office.

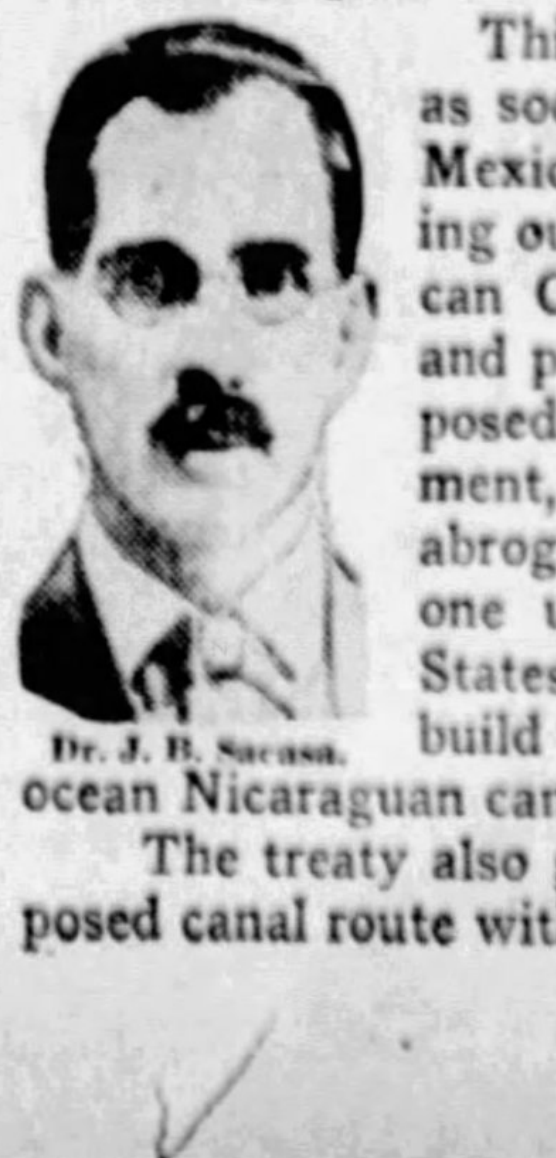
In return for this Dr. Sacasa agreed to abrogate a treaty made by Nicaragua with the United States for an ocean-to-ocean canal.

Mexico was to have the privilege of colonizing this ceded territory with men from Mexico or men from another world power.

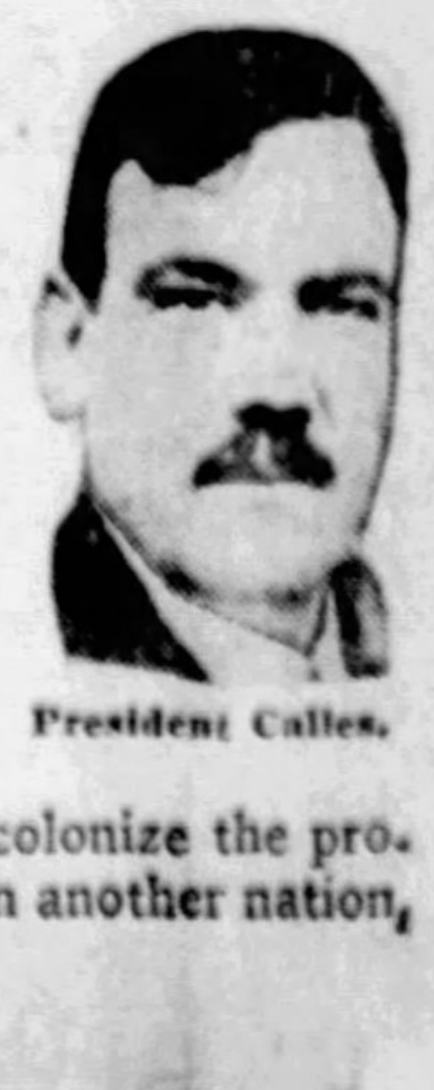
By JOHN PAGE.

(Copyright, 1927, by the Washington Herald.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—A secret treaty between Mexico and the Liberal revolutionary government of Nicaragua and directed against the United States, is presented today by the Sun-Telegraph and associated Hearst newspapers.



Dr. J. B. Sacasa.



President Calles.

This treaty, to go into effect as soon as President Calles of Mexico could succeed in wiping out the existing pro-American Government in Nicaragua and putting in control the proposed Sacasa Liberal government, pledges Nicaragua to abrogate such treaties as the one under which the United States now has the right to build the much needed ocean to ocean Nicaraguan canal.

The treaty also gives Mexico the right to colonize the proposed canal route with men from Mexico or from another nation,

Heavy City Tax Boost Looms

A tax increase of 3 mills on land and 1.5 mills on buildings is forecast by the city budget to be submitted to Council Wednesday by Mayor Charles H. Kline.

The increase would be even greater had not the valuations been boosted approximately $43,000,000, a raise of $35,000,000 on buildings and $8,000,000 on land.

The original estimates of city departments and bureaus would have required a tax increase of 10 mills on land and 5 mills on buildings over the 1927 rate, the Mayor informed Council in a letter today. These estimates were pared to their present point by the Mayor.

Pay raises demanded by city police, firemen and other employes are not included in the budget that will be sent to Council by the Mayor, the latter stating in his letter that "there are many city employes who are underpaid, but it is my conviction that all equalization, adjustments and increases should comprehend the mass and not just a percentage thereof

CRASH ENDS JOY RIDE; ONE HURT, TWO HELD

One woman is in the hospital, another woman is under arrest on a reckless driving charge, and one of her male companions is charged with drunkenness following an automobile-street car smashup in Center avenue, near Melwood street, early this morning. Another man, said to have staggered away from the scene, is being sought by police.

The injured woman gave her name as Mrs. Josephine Donnelly, 26, of 326 Boquet street. She was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital, where her condition was reported good. The other woman said she was Mrs. Harry Gorbach, 32, of the same address, but residents at 326 Boquet street said both women had moved away from there sometime ago.

The man charged with drunkenness told police he was Fred Miller, 30, of 212 Helman street. He and Mrs. Gorbach were released on bail bonds pending a hearing. Mrs. Gorbach will be arraigned in Traffic Court and the drunkenness charge will be heard at Oakland Police Station.

CRY OF NEEDY IS HEARD

this special effort in their behalf. None of the families for whom the plea is made was aware that it had been chosen as most worthy of assistance.

The 20 neediest cases have been selected by expert social workers familiar with poverty and suffering in the city. From the records of the Associated Charities, the Catholic Charities of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, the Pittsburgh Association for the Improvement of the Poor, the Salvation Army and the Volunteers of America, the most heart-rending examples of misfortune have been selected. Those whose hearts are touched may contribute to the succor of the unfortunates in full confidence that they are not being imposed upon, and that every cent of the gifts will be devoted to the purpose for which they are requested—that is, the purchase of food, clothing, medicine, medical attention, fuel and lodging. All of the 20 are worthy.

No other appeal will be made than the printed one in The Sun-Telegraph. No pressure is to be brought to bear on anyone. There will be no personal solicitation, no canvassing. The response must be to the uncolored presentation of the facts.

The outlines of the 20 cases were given in The Sun-Telegraph. One case a day will be reported during the continuance of the effort.

CASE NO. 1:

The N family lives at the top of one of Pittsburgh's highest hills. Old Mr. N. was a hard working man who cared tenderly for his crippled wife and her aged mother. On going to work before daylight one morning, he fell down a long flight of stairs, injuring himself so seriously that he will never be able to work. This old couple are in great distress for fear their little home will be broken up. They plead to be allowed to remain together in their two little rooms. Their wants are few. Since last April the family of three has been able to live on a little over $50 a month. Through their united efforts the simple household tasks are performed.

Clark Changes Mind; Lets "Fatty" Act

Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle will be allowed to appear at Loew's Aldine Theater today, Public Safety Director James M. Clark ruled, revising an earlier ultimatum in which he had threatened to revoke the theater's permit if Arbuckle took the stage.

If there is "a violent public reaction" to the appearance of the man who stood trial twice in the death of Virginia Rappe, actress, five years ago, Clarke may revoke the license. He reserved that right.

PROPELLOR WRECKED IN START

HORTA, Island of Fayal, Azores, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The Junkers plane D-1230, en route from Germany to the United States, bent its last propellor in an attempt to take off for Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, at 4 o'clock this morning, and further attempts to fly to America this year have been called off.

"Now it's all over," Lilli Dillenz, Viennese actress, said as she stepped ashore. "Our last propellor has been bent."

The plane did not succeed in rising from the water despite good sea and wind conditions.

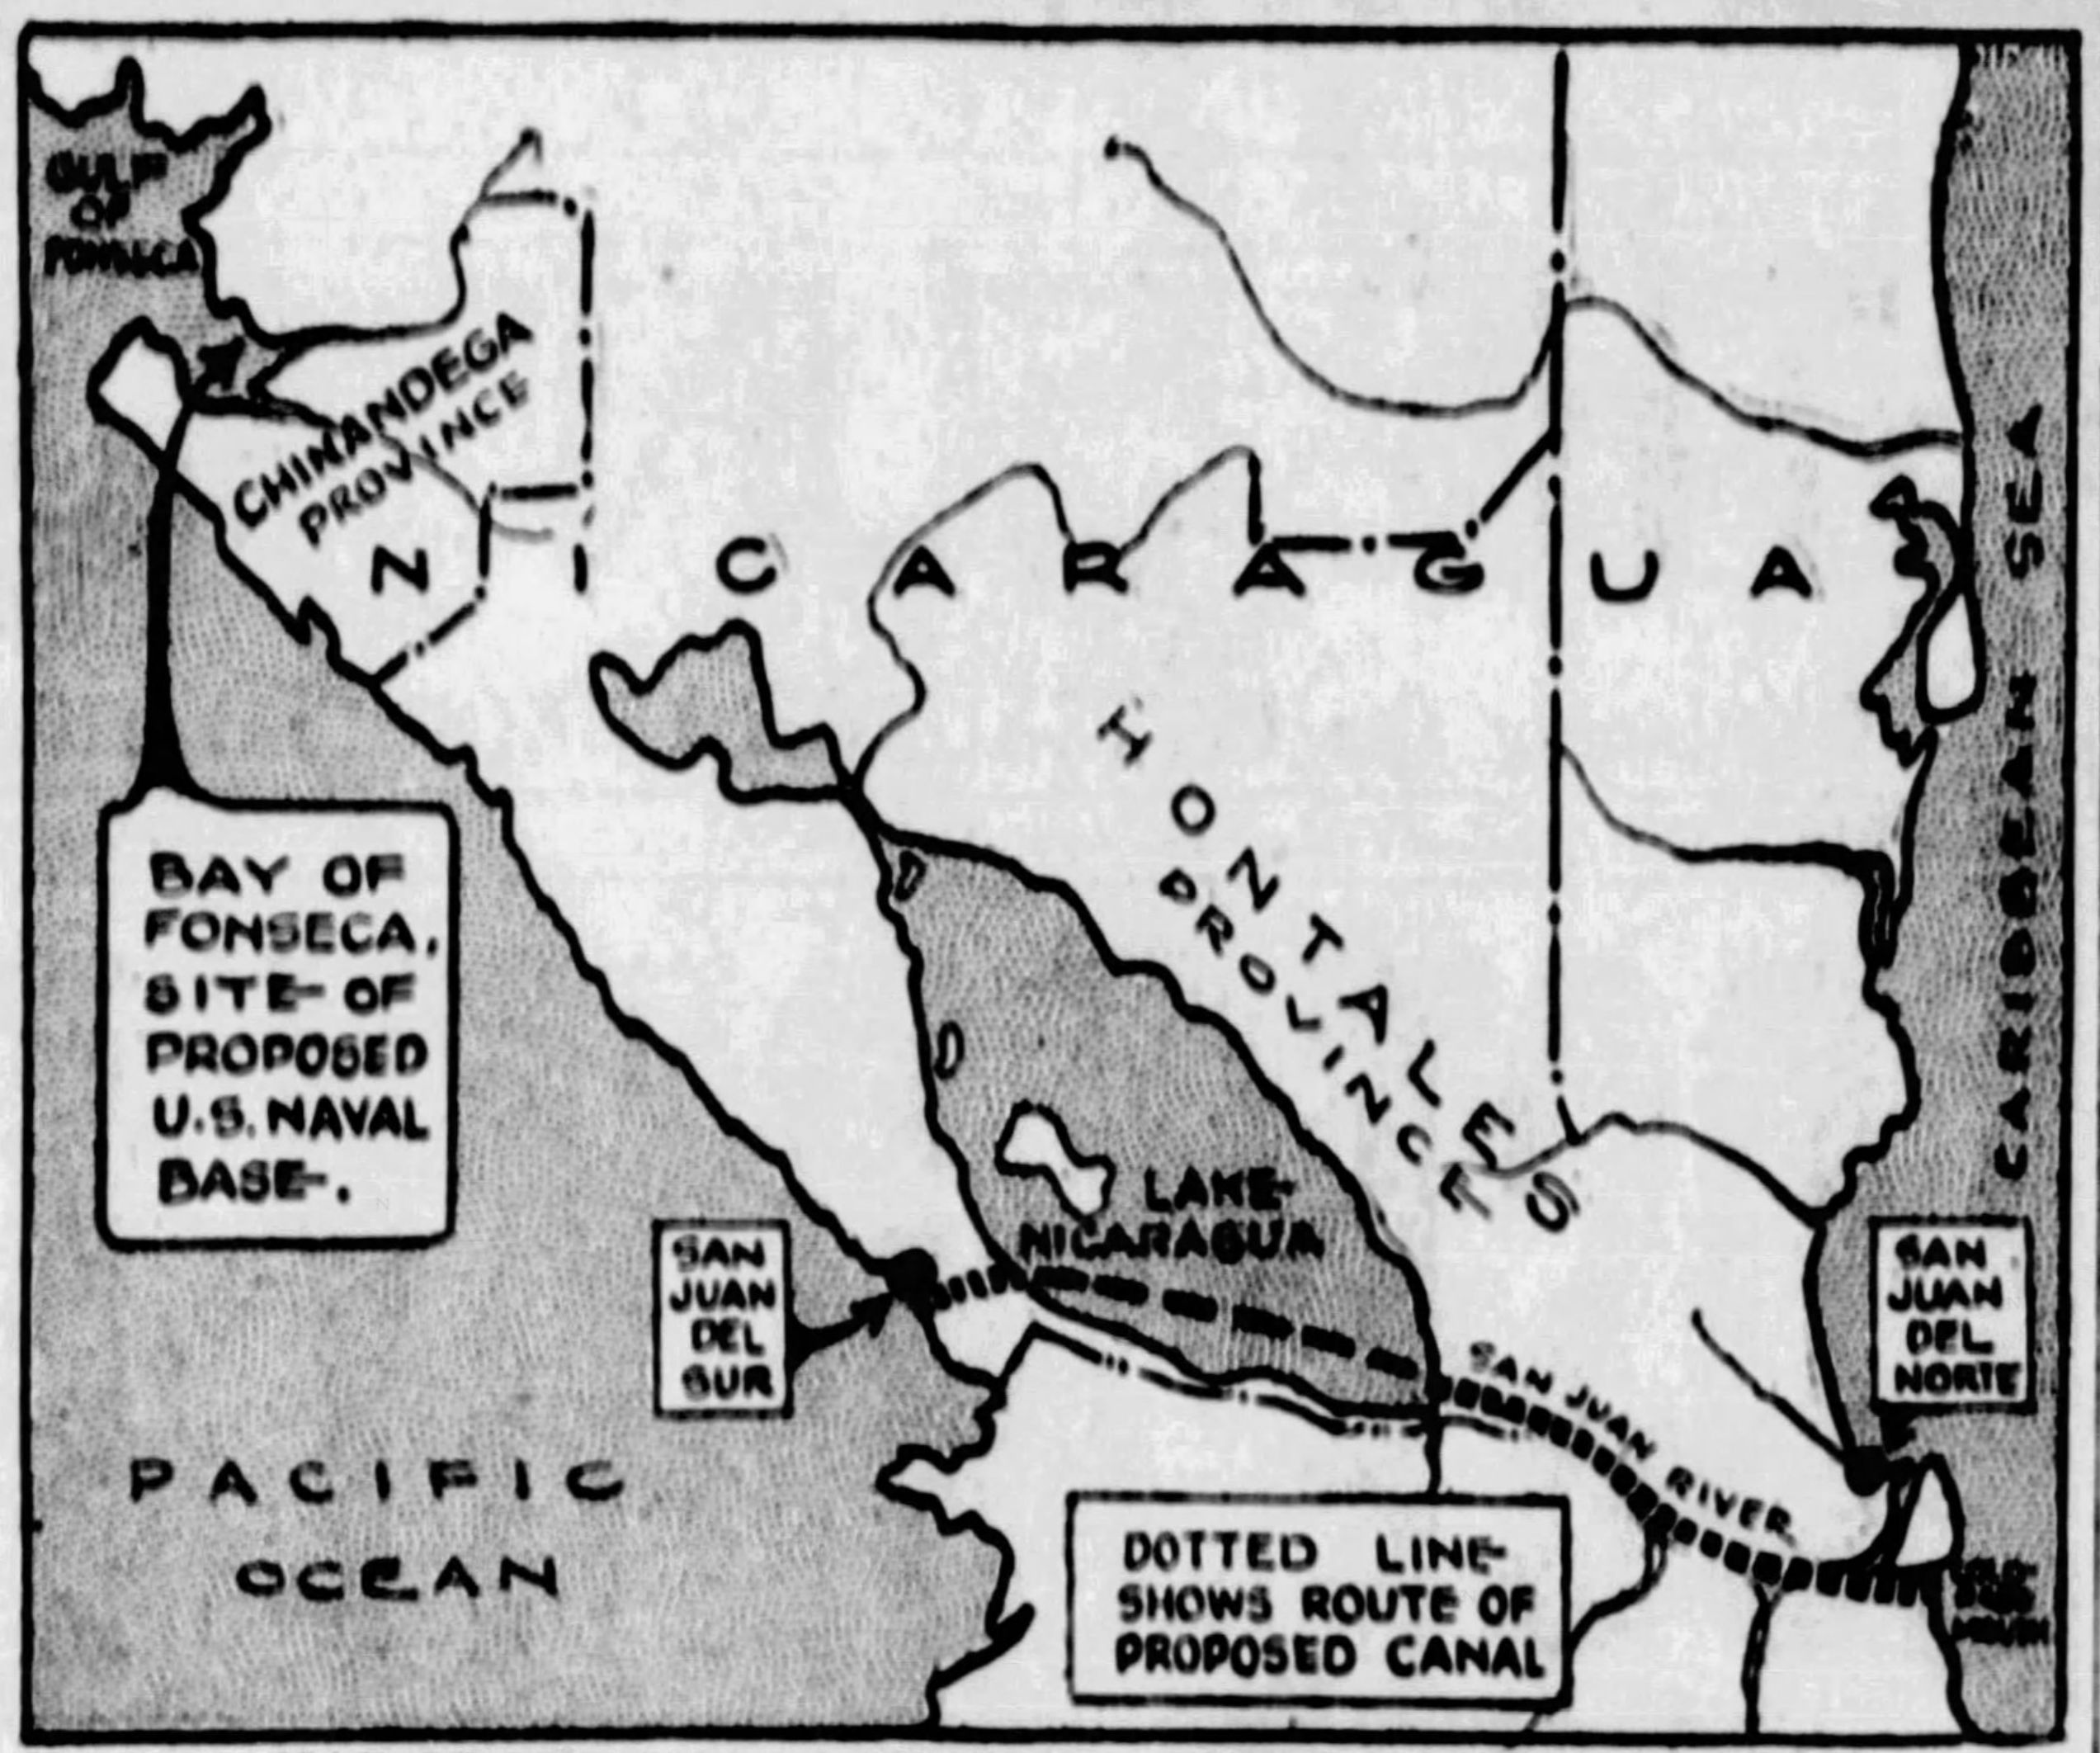
the name of which is withheld from this article. It will be shown later that a great world power is to furnish these colonists, who are to be trained soldiers, pledged to assist Mexico in the event of a foreign war.

Publication of this secret treaty by the Hearst papers proves the present military intervention by the United States in Nicaragua to have been unavoidable, if the interests of the American people were to be protected.

All of the various measures taken by President Calles in the promotion of the Liberal rebellion in Nicaragua are understandable in the light of this remarkable treaty. The text of this treaty has been sought by agents of the American and Nicaraguan governments for more than a year.

This sensational document reveals how completely Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa, Calles' Liberal claimant to the Nicaraguan presidency, was willing to sell his country into the hands of Mexico and an unnamed third power. His reward was to be the privilege of acting as figure-head president of Nicaragua, subject always to the order of his Mexican boss, Plutarco Elias Calles.



MAP OF NICARAGUA SHOWING TERRITORY INVOLVED IN TODAY'S ARTICLE.

Sacasa Against U. S.

Dr. Sacasa pledged himself, in Article V of this secret treaty, to call a special session of the Nicaraguan congress to "revise and annul" the treaties negotiated between the United States and Nicargua in 1916, selling to the American government the right to dig a transcontinental canal through Nicaraguan territory and establish a naval base in Fonseca Bay, off the Pacific coast of Nicaragua.

Article IV of this "secret and provisional" treaty stipulated that Dr. Sacasa, upon occupying the presidency of his country, should call the Nicaraguan national congress into session for the purpose of granting to Mexico the right to colonize the districts of San Juan del Sur and Chinandega, either with Mexican colonists or those of "another" nationality. That other nationality will be specified tomorrow.

Americans will quickly recognize the vital threat to the United States in Article IV. The district of San Juan del Norte is at the eastern end of the proposed transcontinental canal route, San Juan del Sur would take in the canal's Pacific terminal, and the coast of Chinandega is washed by the waters of Fonseca Bay. In this bay the United States has the right, obtained by treaty, to establish a naval base for the protection of the canal which is so vitally necessary for the commercial requirements and military safety of our country.

Mexico Pledged Aid

In return for these concessions, aimed directly against the United States, the Mexican government pledged itself in the secret treaty to extend every moral and material aid to Dr. Sacasa, "to the end that he may recover the executive power" in Nicaragua.

The treaty pledged Mexico to make every effort to induce the governments of Central and South America to break their diplomatic and commercial relations with the Nicaraguan government and invite their "sympathy and friendship" for Sacasa. Mexico also was pledged to contribute all funds necessary for "the organization of military expeditions to go to fight on Nicaraguan territory," and to furnish "arms, munitions and transportation mediums." These pledges were faithfully fulfilled.

President Calles further engaged to loan $5,000,000 to the Sacasa government immediately upon its installation in Managua, the Nicaraguan capital. It never became necessary to fulfill that engagement.

The text of the treaty follows:

To the Citizen President of the Chamber of Deputies.

You will please take note of the following provisional secret treaty, agreed upon between the Citizen Constitutional President of the Mexican Republic and the Citizen Constitutional Substitute President of Nicaragua, Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa, in order that the said treaty may be presented by that High Chamber to the National Congress for its study and ratification.

PROVISIONAL SECRET TREATY

WHEREAS, the Government of Mexico, taking into consideration the imminent peril which menaces the peace and stability of Latin America through the continuance in the Executive Power of the Sister Republic of Nicaragua of the Usurper Emiliano Chamorro, who possessed himself of the public power by means of a military revolt, deposing from their posts the Citizens President and Vice President of the Republic, obliging the first to renounce his constitutional rights and expelling the second from the country, though by administration of the law he should, after the forced resignation of the President, have assumed the executive power of the Nation, and

Secret Treaty

WHEREAS, the Government of Mexico, considering that the Constitutional Government of Nicaragua should be re-established in the executive power of the said country, in order thus to set a precedent for morality among the Sister Republics of Central America and in this manner fortify the treaty which was signed between them by their representatives in Washington in 1922:

THEREFORE, in accordance with the foregoing, the Citizen President of the Republic and the Citizen Constitutional Substitute President of Nicaragua drew up the following agreement, which will be given the form of a provisional and secret treaty, until the Constitutional Government shall have been re-established in Nicaragua.

ARTICLE I.

The Government of Mexico, through the medium of this secret provisional treaty, pledges itself solemnly to extend every moral and material aid to the Citizen Constitutional President of Nicaragua, Dr. Juan Bautista Sacara, to the end that he may recover the executive power of his government in the Sister Republic of Nicaragua.

Pledged Munitions

As to moral aid: The government of Mexico will make every effort possible through diplomatic channels to induce the other sister republics of Central and South America to break their diplomatic and commercial relations with the usurper's government of Emiliano Chamorro, at the same time inviting sympathy and friendship for the constitutional government headed by Juan B. Sacasa.

As to material aid: The government of Mexico will contribute all the funds necessary for the organization of military expeditions which will go to fight on Nicaraguan territory, and will furnish the arms, munitions and transportation mediums which may be required to facilitate military operations in that country.

ARTICLE II.

The government of Mexico will extend every facility and give pecuniary aid to the agents and representatives of the Nicaraguan Liberal Red Party (Partido Liberal Rojo Nicaraguense) in the establishment of propaganda and recruiting offices in all places in the Mexican Republic which may be deemed advantageous for such purposes, supplying to the said agents or representatives officers of the Mexican army, in order that they may organize and discipline the expeditionary forces, to which they will attach themselves until these forces are aboard the ships which are to conduct the expeditions to Nicaraguan territory.

ARTICLE III.

The government of Mexico will supply the constitutional government of Nicaragua, through the medium of the Mexican Navigation Company (Compania Mexicana de Navagacion) with the ships necessary for the transportation of expeditions or war material required to conduct the campaign on Nicaraguan territory. The government of Mexico will take care of the expenses incurred, both as to ship's personnel and fuel.

ARTICLE IV.

The constitutional substitute president, Dr. Juan Bautisa Sacasa, pledges himself solemnly by this secret provisional treaty, upon occupying the presidency of the Republic of Nicaragua, to convene the national congress and request that it extend to the Republic of Mexico the right to colonize the districts of San Juan del Norte, San Juan del Sur and Chinandega, either with Mexican colonists or with those of another nationality; these to be subject to the laws and immigration regulations in effect between the two countries.

Significant to U. S.

(Editor's Note: The districts of San Juan del Norte and San Juan del Sur, as will appear from an examination of the map published on this page, command both terminals of the proposed canal route. In the opinion of Dr. Manuel Zavala, Charge d'Affaires of the Nicaraguan legation in Washington, this article could be interpreted so as to permit the colonization of the entire proposed canal route with Mexicans or colonists of another nationality designated by Mexico. The position of the district of Chinandega in relation to Fonseca Bay also will be noted. It is in Fonseca Bay the United States proposes to establish its naval base for the protection of the Nicaraguan canal).

ARTICLE V.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL SUBSTITUTE PRESIDENT OF NICARAGUA, DR. JUAN BAUTISTA SACASA, PLEDGES HIMSELF SOLEMNLY BY THIS TREATY, THAT DURING THE FIRST YEAR OF HIS ADMINISTRATION OF THE PUBLIC POWER IN NICARAGUA, HE WILL CONVENE A CONSTITUTIONAL CONGRESS, FOR THE PURPOSE OF STUDYING, WITH GREAT CARE, ALL THE TREATIES ONEROUS AND HUMILIATING FOR THE COUNTRY, SIGNED BY THE USURPER EMILIANO CHAMORRO, TO THE END THAT THOSE WHICH MAY BE CONSIDERED A MENACE TO THE SOVEREIGNTY AND NATIONAL INTEGRITY, AND PREJUDICIAL TO LATIN-AMERICAN HEGEMONY, MAY BE REVISED AND ANNULED, IF THIS SHOULD BE OF ADVANTAGE TO THE NATIONAL INTERESTS OF THE COUNTRY.

Bryan Treaty

(Editor's note: The treaties which the Mexican government pledged Dr. Sacasa to procure the annulment of were the so-called Bryan-Chamorro treaties, entered into between the United States and Nicaragua in 1916, giving the United States the right, in consideration of a payment of $3,000,000, to build a transcontinental canal through Nicaraguan territory and establish a naval base for its protection at Fonseca Bay. While Calles and Sacasa professed to consider these treaties a "menace to the sovereignty and national integrity" of Nicaragua, and "prejudicial to Latin-American hegemony," Calles in reality foresaw that if they should be carried into effect his dream of a Central American and Caribbean Federation headed by Mexico and supported by one of the great world powers, never could be realized.)

ARTICLE VI.

The government of Mexico pledges itself by this treaty to extend its diplomatic recognition to the constitutional government of Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa, substitute President of Nicaragua, immediately upon the establishment of his government in any place in Nicaragua, aiding financially in whatever expenses may be incurred in the installation of the said government. These expenditures shall be added to sums loaned previously, making a total which shall be recognized by the constitutional government and paid as is set forth in the article which follows.

ARTICLE VII.

The government of Mexico shall make a loan of ten million pesos national gold ($5,000,000, approximately) to the constitutional government of Nicaragua when it shall be definitely installed in power in the capital of the Republic, subtracting from this sum the amounts supplied as provisional loans to agents and representatives of the said government during the period of campaign and organization. This total loan shall be redeemed by a bond issue based on the railroads of the country, for a period of ten years, the bonds to be approved by the National Congress.

TRANSITORY.

The Constitutional Presidents of Mexico and Nicaragua by common consent sign this treaty, pledging themselves to fulfill the obligations indicated for each of them; the treaty is of provisional character, in order that the Congresses of both countries may study and ratify it, thus giving it due force and effect.

Mexico, D. F. July 15, 1926.

Signed in the National Palace

Aaron Sanez,
Secretary of Foreign Relations,
Dr. Pedro Jose Zepeda,
Representative of the Nicaraguan Liberal Red Party.

P. Elias Calles,
The President of the Republic.
Juan Bautista Sacasa,
Constitutional Substitute President of Nicaragua.

U. S. Foils Plot

The Liberal movement, backed by Mexico, must have succeeded in Nicaragua but for the vigilance of our State Department and its representatives in Mexico and Nicaragua.

The movement had not gone far before the State Department had well defined suspicions of its real significance. But before these suspicions had ripened into conviction the entire Atlantic coast of Nicaragua was in the hands of the rebels. Expeditionary forces, recruited and equipped in Mexico, had been taken to Nicaragua in Mexican ships, where they were reinforced by native volunteers. These well-armed forces had won several skirmishes and the decisive battle of Pearl Lagoon from the poorly-equipped Nicaraguan government troops.

Once the State Department was sufficiently convinced of the origin and aims of the Liberal revolt it acted swiftly and efficiently to prevent its triumph, with the full approval of President Coolidge. It was realized that a Liberal triumph in Nicaragua ultimately might mean far more serious and embarrassing complications with Mexico and other countries than would result from our military intervention as a preventive measure.

It is regrettable that the documentary evidence now being published by the Hearst papers was not available to our government at the time of its intervention. Publication of these documents at that time might have prevented the misinterpretation of our motives which has arisen in some Latin-American countries.

(The next article in this series will be of an extremely sensational nature. The draft of a secret treaty between Mexico and a world power will be published.)

"I TAKE IT BACK, ROSCOE!"

ROSCOE "FATTY" ARBUCKLE

Director James M. Clark dashed into his office from a spell of week-ending today long enough to issue an official document declaring Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle was "indecent" and therefore could not appear on the stage of the Aldine theater, where he is billed this week. Two hours later the director's mind changed and he rescinded the order. Yes, Roscoe will appear.

PITTSBURGH MAN WEDS IN VIENNA

VIENNA, Nov. 28.—Five hundred guests yesterday witnessed Vienna's most brilliant wedding of the season, when Camilla Segal, daughter of the Austrian attorney, Adolph Segal, and Nathaniel Spear, Jr., son of the Pittsburgh manufacturer and furniture merchant, were married at the Saitdnstetter Temple.

The bride, renowned in Vienna society as a blonde beauty, wore a simple white tulle gown. After the ceremony the young couple lunched with intimate friends at the Segal home, where numerous gifts from America filled two rooms.

Parents of the bride and bridegroom entertained at a reception at the Hotel Imperial. Mr. and Mrs. Spear left tonight for a honeymoon in Italy and Egypt. Later they will go to Pittsburgh, where they will make their home.

Besides the parents, there were present of the family James N. and Alexander Spear, uncle and brother of the bridegroom. Among the guests were leading figures in Austrian governmental, artistic and scholarly circles, including Albert Leskowitsch, court councillor; Emil Junker of the foreign office, Dr. and Mrs. Ernst Bettelheim, Director Solomon Frankfurter of the University Library, Prof. Julius Wolfsohn and Siegfried Trebitsch.

Trades Nose for Hat in Target Contest

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—Robert Hackney, city detective, lost part of his nose but he won a hat yesterday. Hackney and Eads Blocker, a salesman, both expert marksmen, bet a hat on their respective prowess. A pistol was produced and Hackney shot six cigarets from between Blocker's lips. Blocker flicked three cigarets from Hackney's mouth but his fourth bullet pierced the detective's nose. Hackney went to a hospital.

O. K. REMUS UNWRITTEN LAW PLEA

COURTROOM, CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 28.—George Remus today won the most important point yet contested in conduct of his defense on a charge of murdering his wife, Imogene.

Judge Chester R. Shook ruled that since some evidence had been produced in support of the contention Remus had a diseased mind prior to the killing, his witnesses could go ahead and describe events which might have led to such mental impairment.

The ruling opened the way for Remus to introduce evidence pertaining to the relationship between his wife and Franklin L. Dodge, Jr. Remus has alleged that while he was in Atlanta Penitentiary serving a sentence for bootlegging Dodge and Mrs. Remus became intimate and conspired to rob the defendant.

"SICK AND INJURED" REPAIRED AT TOY MISSION

Broken dolls are salvaged and made over into attractive toys and, dressed by the deft hands of hundreds of women volunteers, rival some of the most expensive playthings offered in the stores. Mrs. Harry W. Garwood left, is selecting desirable parts for re-stringing. Mrs. John E. Potter, right, "doll physician," in year past has made over thousands of dolls for the Toy Mission. Before her are dolls redressed by women's clubs and other organizations helping the Toy Mission to supply the poorer children with Christmas cheer.

TOY MISSION GREETS "PATIENTS" ON FIRST DOLL DAY

This is the first doll day at the Toy Mission for the Christmas season of 1927, and several dozen dressed dolls were received and placed aside for distribution among little girls in poorer families of the city. At the same time hundreds of broken dolls and dolls in tattered clothes were brought in from the various receiving stations maintained by the Mission and The Sun-Telegraph Auxiliary.

Mrs. John E. Potter directing the restoration of dolls, was over-joyed with the "patients" that were brought to her hospital in the Old South School Building, Ross and Diamond streets. There were headless dolls, armless dolls, legless dolls and heads of dolls, but in all their states of mutilation, Mrs. Potter said they could be "cured."

"As long as we get a perfect head, an uncrushed body or a complete arm or a leg we can use these parts and fashion as fine a doll as the Black Forest ever turned out; but broken parts are useless and we hope our friends in sending material will bear this in mind," Mrs. Potter said. "The Mission can use all the dolls and parts of dolls that are sent in through the Sun-Tele Auxiliary. The dolls will be handsomely dressed and will go promptly to their little mistresses."

LEAGUE MEETING TO OUTLINE STRATEGY

The executive board of the Citizens' League will meet tonight in the North Side Community House to outline its program for the continuance of law enforcement here under the leadership of William J. Kane, new executive secretary. A canvass of the league's membership is said to indicate almost a unanimous desire that the work of the league be continued.

This same attitude of continuing the work was touched upon by the Rev. Dr. W. Wofford T. Duncan, pastor of the Emory Methodist Episcopal Church, last night in a special sermon to the members of the Emery Brotherhood Class in observance of their seventeenth anniversary.

"The cause of the league suffers only because the public mind for a moment is diverted from the convictions that created the league," Dr. Duncan said.

"The fact that William L. King (resigned executive secretary who now is sought on an indictment charging conspiracy to indict) has broken down not only reveals King's weakness, but the strength of the forces of evil," the pastor stated.

STUDENT BANDS GREET SOUSA HERE

Thousands of Pittsburgh commuters were late to work today because they jammed the Pennsylvania station to catch a glimpse of John Philip Sousa, America's "Grand Old Man" of music, here for a week's theatrical performance.

In his band of 60 pieces there is but one foreigner, "a complete reversal of my first appearance in Pittsburgh 50 years ago," he said. "Then I had only one or two Americans. I think it was the war," he continued, "that developed America's great appreciation of music. A contributing cause, of course, is our cosmopolitan population and ancestry."

Pittsburgh, the noted band leader declared, has always been a center of musical appreciation and one of his favorite cities. He recalled with pleasure, he said, the days of the Pittsburgh Symphony and Victor Herbert and Emil Paur. He appears this week at Loew's Penn Theater. The bands of Schenley, Langley and Allegheny High Schools met him at the station.

TAX BOOST LOOMS

even though some of them compris. potential groups."

Among the sizable boosts provided in the budget are Public Safety Department increases for 100 additional patrolmen and 50 new firemen. An additional $200,000 is provided for garbage and rubbish collection because of increased tonnages.

The total amount asked in the new budget is slightly less than $25,000,000, the Mayor not making public the exact figures. The appropriation bill for 1927 totaled $22,758,712, the increase being something over $2,000,000.

The substantial boost in the valuation is due in part to the annexation of Carrick and Knoxville. Were it not for this increase, the tax rate would have gone up still higher.

The increases include deficits amounting to $445,000 and $278,000 more in 1928 than in 1927 for interest and sinking funds in connection with the last Peoples' Bond issue. The major increases in the budget follow:

Thirty-three thousand five hundred dollars increased appropriation for Council and city clerk; $19,000 for 100 new patrolmen; $102,000 for 50 new firemen; $48,000 to provide filtered water for recently annexed territory; $200,000 for increased tonnages of garbage and rubbish; $30,000 for traffic regulation equipment and maintenance; $42,000 for lighting schedule, due to increased number; $44,000 for rehabilitation of engine houses; $82,000 for firemen's pension fund; $5,000 for municipal pension fund; $65,000 for wages, cleaning and repairing highways; $60,000 for repairs to bridges, sewers and pipe lines; $9,000 for repairs in municipal garage; $10,000 for witness fees in law department; $4,700 for the department of city development; $31,000 for increased cost operation, Tuberculosis Hospital; $60,000 for mental health clinic and increased cost of operation of Mayview Home; $5,000 for fire hose; $12,500 for police equipment; $19,500 for fire prevention division; $13,000 for fire and police cable extension; $16,000 for wages, bureau of water; $15,000 for replacement of filtration plant sand; $20,000 for refund state automobile fines.

The total valuation, as estimated for the use of the budgeteers, is $561,000,000 on land and $570,000,000 on buildings.

WIFE OF DE HAVEN, FILM STAR, ASKS DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—Carter De Haven, stage and screen star, has been sued for divorce by Flora Parker De Haven, with whom he co-starred in vaudeville for many years. Mrs. De Haven alleged in her complaint that her husband was infatuated with another woman and abandoned her and her three children. The De Havens were married at Newark, N. 'RIDER' BANDITS STRIKE TWICE IN NIGHT

The "Night Riders," exponents of modern highway robbery, came to life in the North Side again last night, leaving in their wake two victims, both penniless and one beaten unconscious.

In Canal street the four "Riders," leaving their car, beat down George Lowrie, 53, of 200 Chestnut street, after they had found his pockets empty.

In Progress street they robbed Andy Figurski, 31, of 508 Chestnut street, of $12. Figurski said one of the Riders was a boy about 13, who assured him the holdup was "all in fun."

FRISCO LIKELY G. O. P. CHOICE

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The Republican national convention will meet next June in either San Francisco or Detroit, with chances favoring the coast city, according to all indications, a week in advance of the national committee meeting here to make the final decision.

Although a dozen cities have put in bids for the G. O. P. show, the choice among committee members is said to have virtually narrowed down to these two cities.

William H. Crocker, committeeman from California, will reach the Capital Monday to press the Pacific Coast's claims for its first Republican convention. He has in his pocket 24 pledges from members to vote for San Francisco, besides a certified check for $250,000 to defray the costs of the gathering.

KRESGE WINS IN SUIT AGAINST BROKERS

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—A verdict in favor of Sebastian Kresge, 5 and 10 cent store magnate of Detroit, against W. E. Hutton & Co., brokers, for $640,398.71 was returned today when the sealed verdict in the suit was opened and the jury polled to affirm the decision.

Kresge had brought action against the brokers to recover $655,000, which he alleged the firm had loaned in Kresge stock to J. M. Byrne & Co., defunct brokerage company, without his authority.

The sealed verdict fixed the amount due Kresge at $550,486 with interest, the latter computation bringing the total to $640,398.71.

Hemorrhoids Disappear

All Pile Misery Banished Without Cutting or Salves.

External treatments seldom banish Piles for the very good reason that the cause is inside—bad circulation in affected parts, veins are flabby and bowel walls weakened.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and it has proven successful in thousands of cases—so successful that now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists under a money back guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at May Drug Co., who will promptly refund the purchase price if you are dissatisfied.

The K. & B. Store a Joyous, Busy Carnival of Christmas Gifts

REGROUPING FUR COATS

The days when the fur coat is a vogue will soon merge with those crisper days when it will become a necessity. There is a world of wisdom then in selecting your coat now at these lesser prices. And in inducing "him" that this is the time to buy your coat for Christmas.

Many of these models repeat the color of the coat in the collar, though they vary the type of fur . . . a new note, and well represented in the honey-beige American Broadtail Coat illustrated, with its shawl collar of honey beige fox.

The $395 price is the result of our decision to reduce the number of coats in stock immediately . . . every coat in the lot is worthy of . . . and has been selling at a price much higher. For misses and women.

Other Outstanding Models:

Black Caracul Coat With Black Fox Collar
Grey Caracul Coat With Natural Squirrel
Brown Caracul Coat With Brown Fox
Beige Caracul Coat With Brown Beaver

DENTISTS URGE BETTER TEETH FOR BABIES

Good teeth in babies mean less work for dentists when the babies grow up. Dr. C. J. Hollister of the dental division of the State Department of Health said so; Dr. C. W. Hagan, president of the Odontological Society of Western Pennsylvania, said so, and so did many others who attended the society's annual meeting at the William Penn Hotel today. It was the main theme of the discussions.

That babies may have good teeth they should receive food containing appropriate vitamins even before birth, and the usefulness of cod liver oil was emphasized in this connection. The buds of the permanent teeth are formed pre-natally, and the character of the adult teeth is determined to a considerable extent by the mother's diet, it was said. Hence dentists, with a view to the prevention of dental trouble, in cooperation with the medical profession, are endeavoring to improve the general health of children and expectant mothers.

Nine hundred dentists are attending the convention.

KILLED UNDER TRAIN

James L. Grimes, 40, an engine hostler, of 230 Peter street, was killed, and Peter Jebis, 23, a brakeman, of 23 Meadows street, was injured when they were pinned beneath a freight train of the Union Railroad, which buckled in the yards of the Duquesne Works of the Carnegie Steel Company Saturday night.

Oliver Extols Explosion Aid of City Workers

"When conditions bordered on chaos, city employes, many working 48 hours at a stretch without sleep, went about their tasks efficiently and always in an orderly and good-natured manner."

That was the tribute paid city police, firemen and other workers assigned to the Manchester gas tank explosion by Augustus K. Oliver, chairman of the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Red Cross.

"From the standpoint of the officers of the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Red Cross," said Mr. Oliver, "one of the outstanding features throughout all the relief work in connection with the North Side gas explosion has been the splendid spirit of co-operation on the part of every city department that was called upon to perform duties in the devastated district. Especially in the first trying days when conditions in and about the gas tanks bordered on chaos, the city employes, many of them working 48 hours at a stretch without sleep, went about their tasks efficiently and always in an orderly and good-natured manner. Their only desire seemed to be to help in every way possible.

"The police and firemen who were sent to the Reedsdale street district to maintain order and to aid in wrecking or repairing damaged structures especially deserve commendation. They performed extremely difficult tasks remarkably well. The story of their services in the North Side disaster is a magnificent addition to the already fine records of their departments.

"The men in the Bureau of Highways and Sewers performed herculean tasks. The speed with which the debris was cleared away from the streets was little short of miraculous. Having accomplished this the Highways and Sewers Department took on the extra burden of aiding in the moving of whole families together with their belongings from condemned houses to other dwellings provided for them. No less than 60 families were thus moved by the department's trucks.

"The same praise could be bestowed upon every city department represented in the district. This last includes the Health Department, whose representatives were on the job early and late; the Welfare Department, which performed and is still performing a service of which the city may well be proud; the Bureau of Inspection, which safeguarded the lives of hundreds by taking prompt and efficient measures to guard against the collapse of weakened structures; the Bureau of Bridges, to which was assigned the job of razing condemned buildings, and the division of Missing Persons, through whose efforts were answered the inquiries of hundreds of frantic relatives as to the safety or whereabouts of persons believed to have been in the danger zone."

SEIZE 2 STILLS IN INGRAM RAID

Federal prohibition agents Saturday raided a one-story building on the Broadhead road, Ingram, where they seized two 250-gallon stills, 42 barrels of mash, 1,000 pounds of corn sugar and other alleged contraband. No arrests were made as no occupants were in the building.

In a two-story frame house at 123 Frazier street, McKees Rocks, prohibition agents seized a 100-gallon still, 700 gallons of mash, 18 gallons of moonshine whisky and arrested Angelo Leon. A 50-gallon still, 1,050 gallons of mash, 200 pounds of corn sugar and seven gallons of moonshine whisky were seized in a raid at 23 Miller street, Rankin. John Vivaio, 22, was arrested in the latter raid.

Sylvester Brougher, 33, of Glenshaw, was arrested and 16 gallons of moonshine whisky and 2,300 pounds of corn sugar confiscated in a raid at a three-story building at 1112 North Canal street, Sharpsburg.

"I Spy"

Being the observations of an adventuring Christmas shopper in quest of the unusual:

A MAKE-UP BOX—utterly feminine in its conception and execution. It is gold plated, antique in effect, studded with colored stones. Open it! — Glass-lined compartments for cosmetics... and the most flattering of mirrors. One of those gifts that makes Christmas shopping a glorious adventure. $54.00. (Toilet Wares, Main Floor.)

A TREE ..from France ... of glittering crystal. Nature must writhe in envy, the leaves and flowers are so delicately ethereal in appearance. What an arresting table decoration! A gift she would choose herself. $75.00. (Floor of Ideas, Fifth Floor.)

A NIGHTGOWN from Paris... of palest flesh crepe. Piped ever so daintily with fuchsia georgette, which also fashions the trailing wisteria vines that encircle the neck and trail from one shoulder. So very French...every tiny stitch made by hand. A bit of lingerie to dream about...and in! $65.00. (Third Floor.)

Gift Sets to Adorn

Her Dressing Table—

Accessories for the dressing table should harmonize with the room for which they're intended, and especially with the furniture in that room. We suggest:

Jeweled Sets in the Florentine manner, heavily plated with green gold and set with colored stones . . . These are best suited for use with rather massive furniture, medium or dark in color. Comb, brush and mirror, $75.00; tray, $90.00; make-up box, $50.00; Odd pieces—candlesticks, clock, jewel box, etc., variously priced.

Walnut or Mahogany Sets, in several designs including Colonial, Renaissance, and Tudor. Naturally these would be best used on dressers of matching wood. They're the newest things of the kind obtainable. Three pieces, $10.50 and $22.50; ten pieces, $42.50.

Sets of Pearl-On-Amber Composition. The most versatile type. Suitable for use with almost any kind of bedroom furniture, and in colors almost sure to harmonize with any woman's room—blue, rose, white, green, and maize. Three pieces, $8.50 to $17.50; ten pieces, $12.95 to $85.00.

—Horne's, Main Floor—

A Fascinating Group of Imported Silk Nightgowns

A selection of silk gowns—breathlessly beautiful, each of which is a creation. Unsparing in the use of hand-made laces, microscopic stitches and delicate embroideries which our own country has neither the skill nor the patience to duplicate.

Imported...in the artistry of the cut...in the minute tucks and pleats...in the Frenchy choice of colorings...in the superlative quality of the silks.

Straight-line, tied at the waist in Grecian manner or with a flying panel of georgette, triple voile and crepe de chine in pastel shades. Elaborate with binche, valenciennes, point de Paris, point Colbert, duchesse, Lyons, appliques and calado work. Many are originals from the little French houses. $15.00 to $85.00.

Also—

Imports in Costume-Slips, $12.50 to $30.50.
Imports in Chemises, $8.75 to $65.00.
Imports in Negligees, $25.00 to $175.00.

—Horne's, Third Floor—

Exquisite Gift Wrappings

Papers that have been designed by artists, exquisite in color and texture. They'd make the outside of a gift irresistably tempting. There are modernistic designs in black and white and silver and gold and red and green—confetti-dotted gold paper—star-spangled red or blue—gold striped red or green—and dozens of others.

These and all the other requisites to make dainty packages in one section.

—Horne's, Fourth Floor—

A Menagerie In Brass

Originally intended as cigarette stampers, these tiny modernistic animals make the most engaging ornaments to group on a set of shelves or an end table.

A startled—or hypnotized!—hare...a yowling cat...an inquisitive mouse...a raging elephant...These are a few of the most fascinating ones. $1.25 and $1.75 each. (Stationery Department).

—Horne's, Main Floor—

The Cine-Kodak

A Gift for the Family

Something that carries with it a thousand thrills...exciting days of making movies of your own...absorbing evenings of showing them! Let us demonstrate the Kodascope to you, in order that you may realize just how much fun you'd be giving with the presentation of a home movie outfit this Christmas.

—Horne's, Balcony—

Pictures Framed for Christmas

That favorite snapshot may be enlarged and framed for an unexpected, pleasing gift, or any photograph or picture chosen for a particular person, may be suitably framed. Orders should be placed as soon as possible.

Keepsake Frames are quaint looking, and designed for old-fashioned pictures and daguerreotypes, $4.50 to $7.50.

Metal Frames in oval and square shapes, $2.50 to $35.00.

Leather Frames, in blue, brown or gray, $1.00 to $20.00.

Swing-stand Frames in gold or silver finishes, in single, double or triple opening styles, $2.85 to $22.50.

Swing Frames, Special, $2.00

A new style Swing Frame, with top cut design, for very large photographs, comes in three sizes at this price. 9x12 inches, 10x13 inches and 11x14 inches.

—Horne's, Fourth Floor—

First Quality Merchandise Only

THIS rigorously enforced Joseph Horne Co. policy, which effectively bars all "seconds," "sub-standards," "irregulars" and "imperfect" merchandise at all times from this store's stocks, is particularly appreciated in gift-choosing.

You have the serene satisfaction of knowing that whatever you choose here, however modest or favorable the price, is first quality merchandise and Horne standard in every respect—and so do the recipients of your gifts.

SEES VOTING MACHINES AS POLITICAL MOPS

"Denmark" Not Alone In Cleansing Need

"The last few elections in Allegheny county show that we do not have to go to 'Denmark' to find 'something rotten,'" said Mrs. Clarence Renshaw, political and civic worker, today. "Right now I see no more practical step towards cleaning up the mess than by adopting voting machines.

"The best argument in their favor is the character and unanimity of their opponents. I have lobbied for voting machines in Harrisburg, and I have seen the sickly grins of the scared legislative hirelings when voting machines were mentioned.

"When the backwash of a sewage system is inundating a city, action is indicated. Let us all bring out mops, brooms, cleansing agents, antiseptics, deodorizers and germicides. In such a crisis we should try everything. Voting machines will not clean out all the accumulated muck, but they will serve as extremely practical obstacles to counting out your vote and mine. There has not been a single argument advanced against them that cannot be outweighed a hundred times by their advantages.

"Early this fall I was registrar. I have often been a registrar, but never before have I suspected so much crookedness. The last day people were brought in droves to be registered. How many actually lived in the district I do not know. When we on the board had grave doubts we made the applicants swear to residence affidavits. Details palpably fictitious were glibly recited. In one case a man claiming to live at a certain rooming house was not feazed when the proprietor, chancing in at the same time, failed to identify him. Said the man with the utmost bravado, 'It ain't my fault if you don't see me come in and out.' As far as our board was concerned our one feeble gesture of remonstrance was to write our suspicions in red ink on the margin of the entry.

"So I admit that like many others I passed on the responsibility. I should have liked to see what happened to those whose names we annotated, but like the rest of the civic alibi-producers I haven't had time. I dare say they voted—probably often."

New Envoy

N. B. JUDAH

President Coolidge has appointed Noble Brandon Judah, Chicago attorney, U. S. Ambassador to Cuba, succeeding Maj. Gen. Crowder, resigned because of ill health. Judah served in the World War and left the service as a lieutenant colonel. He is 43.

DIVORCE STOPS FAMILY ROW

Mrs. Rachel J. Krupp won her divorce suit against Stanley A. Krupp when Judge Richard K. Martin handed down a decree in her favor Saturday.

The divorce ended a quarrel of several years.

Krupp had contested the case, heard before Judge Martin last June 30. Krupp had instituted the first divorce proceedings but later withdrew them. Then a fight for possession of the children started and the mother was awarded custody after one child had been kidnapped and taken to Krupp's mother in Toledo. Mrs. Krupp resides in Frankstown avenue and Krupp in West Liberty avenue.

JOHNS-MANVILLE HEAD, 93, DIES

PLEASANTVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 28.—(AP.)—After an eventful life of 93 years, the career of Charles B. Manville, founder of the Johns-Manville Corporation and allied corporations, has ended.

Succumbing to a stroke of apoplexy suffered a week ago, the industrial adventurer who built up a huge fortune from asbestos and its by-products, died at his home here late Saturday night.

Mrs. Catherine G. Coleman.

Mrs. Catherine Gabriel Coleman, 87, died in her home, 2120 Sidney street, South Side, last night after a lingering illness. She was born in Germany and was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, South Side. She leaves two sons, August and George Coleman; 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

George W. Richards, Sr.

George W. Richards, Sr., 77, former member of the Pennsylvania State Legislature, died last night in his home at 121 Dinsmore avenue, Crafton. Mr. Richards was born in Uniontown, February 22, 1851, but was a resident of the Pittsburgh district practically all his life. He was for some time engaged in the wholesale tobacco business here with his father-in-law. He was elected to the State Legislature in 1885, serving one term. He was later a member of the common and select councils of Pittsburgh from the old Tenth Ward. He moved to Crafton 38 years ago and was a member of the first borough council there. He was a tipstaff in Common Pleas Court for 30 years until his retirement a year ago. He was a member of Lodge No. 45, F. & A. M.; of the Masonic Veterans' Association and of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Crafton. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Jennie T. Richards; a daughter, Mrs. Ralph S. Davis; three sons, John P., George W., Jr., and James E. Richards, and 11 grandchildren.

Mrs. A. W. Griffiths.

Mrs. Sanney Emma Griffiths, 62, wife of A. W. Griffiths, of 1207 Montier street, Wilkinsburg, died Saturday in the Columbia Hospital, Wilkinsburg. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church. She leaves four daughters, Mrs. Frank Brown, of Jamestown, N. Y.; Mrs. T. H. Gregg and Mrs. Virginia Aithen, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Thelma Griffiths, of Wilkinsburg; two sons, Arthur Griffiths, Jr., of Swissvale, and Macer Griffiths, of Pittsburgh; three brothers, H. N. Wood, William Wood, of Birdsboro, Pa., and Walter Wood, of Cleveland, O. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Greenstein.

Mrs. Elizabeth Greenstein, 48, died yesterday in her home, 315 Ellwood street. She lived here 30 years and was a member of the Gates of Wisdom congregation. She leaves her husband, Louis Greenstein; three daughters, Ruth, Gertrude and Anna, at home, and one sister, Mrs. Salmon Stutch, of Pittsburgh.

Wolf Herrup.

Wolf Herrup, 68, died yesterday in his home, 5437 Jackson street. He was a member of Adath Jehuda Jeshurun congregation. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Ethel Herrup; four sons, Leon, Sol and Max Herrup, of Pittsburgh, and Elias Herrup, of Vienna, and four daughters, Mrs. Edith Karp, Mrs. Sherlock Stein, of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Minnie Zakuto, of Detroit, and Mrs. Nettie Shwab, of Zborow, Poland.

James V. DeSimone.

James V. DeSimone, 71, died yesterday at his home, 246 Meadow street, East End. He was born in Italy and lived here 44 years. He was a member of Help of Christian Catholic Church. He leaves three sons, Joseph, Anthony and John; three daughters, Julia, Edith and Mrs. Lillian Mag; one brother, Augustine, and one grandchild, all of Pittsburgh.

Elizabeth Lofe.

Miss Elizabeth Lofe, 67, daughter of the late Frank and Magdaline M. Lofe, died yesterday at her home, 51 Pius street, South Side. She was born and lived all her life on the South Side. She was a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church. She leaves two brothers, Joseph and John Lofe, and two sisters, Mrs. Sophia Hansmann and Mrs. William McCormick, all of Pittsburgh.

Thomas Morgan.

Thomas Morgan, 69, husband of Mrs. Margaret Morgan, died in his home, 86 Beltzhoover avenue, Saturday. Besides his widow he leaves five sons, William E., John S., David L., Matthew H. and C. C. Morgan; two daughters, Mrs. David J. George and Mrs. William J. Thomas; one sister, Miss Sarah Morgan, and 14 grandchildren.

Mrs. Margaret T. James.

Mrs. Margaret Templeton James, 92, widow of Dr. Joseph W. James, of Bradys Bend, Pa., died yesterday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. John V. Sloan, 5701 Callowhill street, East End. Besides her daughter she leaves a son, Arthur James, Rimersberg, Pa.; 15 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Mary E. Hughes.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Mary E. Hughes, 81, widow of John Hughes, and mother of Lamont Hughes, of Pittsburgh, a vice president of the Carnegie Steel Company, died Saturday night in the Shenango Valley Hospital. She was born in Northumberland county, Pa., and had resided in this city 40 years. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Beside Mr. Lamont Hughes she leaves three other sons, Prof. James M. Hughes, Edward and Leroy Hughes, of this place; a daughter, Mrs. W. G. Reagle, wife of the Rev. Reagle, of Grove City College; a brother, Joseph R. Ketler, and a sister, Mrs. Ella Barnhart, both of Grove City.

Mrs. M. F. Villano Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"Pimples broke out on my face and back. They were small at first, but later became larger and caused me to scratch. When I scratched them they would fester, and after a while would scale over. My clothing aggravated the breaking out on my back, and some nights I would lie awake scratching. My face was disfigured for a while.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. It helped me so I purchased more, and after using one and a half boxes of Cuticura Ointment and a cake and a half of Cuticura Soap I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Minetta F. Villano, 1902 Willow Ave., Weehawken, N. J.

Keep your skin clear and your pores active by daily use of Cuticura Soap. Heal irritations and rashes with Cuticura Ointment.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden, Mass." Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

PUBLIC INVITED TO VIEW NEW FORD

The full story of the new Ford automobile, described by Henry Ford as being "superior in design and performance to any now available in the low-price, light-car field," will be told first in Pittsburgh next Friday, according to announcement today by local dealers.

A public reception is to be held in Motor Square Garden here simultaneously with similar gatherings at every Ford dealer in the United States, Friday.

Though no detailed descriptions have yet been given out the Ford Motor Company, from its headquarters in Detroit, has announced that the new car will be as far in advance of present public demand for speed, flexibility, control in traffic and economy in operation as Model T was when it was introduced in 1908.

Dealers have not yet been advised as to the prices, but assurance has come from Detroit that the prices will be in accord with the policy of the Ford Motor Company to provide the best possible automobile at the lowest possible price.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the public reception here. City officials and prominent business men have been invited and preparations made to give visitors a thorough understanding of the car.

FLEES AUTO TO ESCAPE ROBBERY BY "FRIENDS"

A tour of Lawrenceville speakeasies with two new-found companions ended when his guests attempted to rob him of his fat wallet, P. H. High, 45, Charleroi, told police, after he had jumped from his automobile at Forty-fifth and Butler streets, Saturday night, and dodged a bullet he says was fired by one of them.

High gave the names of the strangers to the police and later Lieut. John Dye arrested George Doran, 22, of 419 Millvale avenue. Search is being made for another man.

United Artists Decides Against Straight Salaries; Players Get Percentage of Profits—Losses

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.

THERE is a very strong possibility that Constance Talmadge will renew her contract with First National. She had finished her contract with them and it was generally supposed that she would make all future pictures for United Artists. With her brother-in-law, Joseph Schenck, as the head of United Artists, it was only natural that she should want to go with his company.

Now, there is a very good reason for her not making pictures for Mr. Schenck's company. United Artists has decided not to pay any straight salaries in the future. All the stars, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, John Barrymore, Gloria Swanson and Norma Talmadge, receive a certain percentage of each production. If the picture is good—great. They get a big slice of the profits. If it is poor, they suffer as well as the company.

Corinne Griffith, who made one picture, is now making her own pictures and accepting the production responsibilities. Her next, a New York stage production, is still in the throes of negotiations due to be settled almost any time.

First National is very eager to keep Connie and a report that comes to me fairly well verified states that she is talking terms. Connie needs better stories. She is a talented comedienne, but she hasn't had the right break in her comedies.

Robert Flaherty, who had such success with "Nanook of the North," with an all-native cast, has persuaded Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to let him make "Southern Skies," without any white actors. He and 20 technicians and W. C. Van Dyke, his assistant director, are sailing from San Francisco on the S. S. Tahaiti bound for Papete, in the South Seas, where they will film this picture. Production will probably be done on one or two islands of the South Sea Archipelago. Their headquarters will be maintained at Papete. A picture of this sort takes from four to six months and if it is as good as "Nanook of the North," we can promise that it will be extremely interesting.

Comedienne Gets Ride

WHEN CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD, musical comedy star, arrived in Culver City, Cal., to make her motion picture debut via Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Baby Mine," they greeted her with a baby carriage—and conveyed her in it all the way from the station to the M-G-M studios. She is now at work on this picture.

NYDIA WESTMAN IS COMING

The attraction in the Nixon next week will be the comedy by Winchell Smith and John Golden, "2 Girls Wanted." The original cast of New York players has been kept intact for the tour, with Nydia Westman taking the lead. Others in the cast are Mary Philips, Grace Menken, Mary Hampton, May Duryea, Charlotte Denniston, Frank Monroe, Charles Laite, John LeFevre, Herbert Saunders and John Humphrey.

When William Hodge was writing "Straight Through the Door," in which he will appear in the Alvin, beginning Monday, December 5, he had many of the characters in the comedy right under his eyes. The play shows a home in the process of construction and still in the hands of workmen.

Alice Brady is the star of "The Ark," which will be the attraction in the Pitt for the week beginning next Monday. "The Ark" is the work of John Meehan and Robert Riskin and depicts life behind the flaps of the evangelistic tents.

George White's "Scandals" will occupy the stage of the Alvin for the second and final week, beginning tonight and playing the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Opening in the Nixon tonight will be a revival of Shakespeare's comedy, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," with Mrs. Fiske, Otis Skinner and Henrietta Crosman in the leading roles.

"The Spider" enters its third and final week in the Pitt tonight. This company, headed by William Courtenay, has been selected for the London presentation of "The Spider," which opens in April.

Jack Norworth, appearing on the Keith-Albee vaudeville program in the Davis this week, presents a comedy, "The Nagger."

The Gayety opened its week with a midnight show last night, the attraction being Billy Gilbert and his "High Hat Review."

Mary Astor, in "Rose of the Golden West," is on the screen in the Grand.

The Duncan Sisters are stars of "Topsy and Eva," now showing in screen form in the Penn.

Conway Tearle is starred in "Isle of Forgotten Women," photoplay feature in Loew's Aldine.

Flossie De Vere is one of the principals in "Parisian Flappers," bill in the Academy. She appears in new specialties.

"The City Gone Wild," starring Thomas Meighan and Mariette Millner, is showing in the Olympic.

American's Painting Voted Best Here

Gari Melchers, an American artist, won the Popular Prize of $200 for his painting "The Hunters" in the Twenty-sixth Carnegie Institute International Exhibition, according to the announcement made last evening by Homer Saint-Gaudens, director of fine arts. This makes the fourth year that this prize has been won by an American painter.

The Melchers' painting's nearest competitors, in order of preference, were: "Self-Portrait," by Leopold Seyffert; "Scene from the Scottish Highlands," by John Kane; "A June Bouquet," by Silvio Pezzoli; "Spanish Sisters," by Abram Poole, and "Other Days," by Edward W. Redfield.

The award was based on the votes of the visitors to the exhibition during the past two weeks. Five thousand votes were cast. Gari Melchers is well-known in Pittsburgh. He has exhibited in every Carnegie International since the first in 1896. He is represented in the permanent collection of the institute by a painting "Mother and Child."

The international will close next Sunday. A week is allowed between the awarding of the Popular Prize and the close of the exhibition, so that visitors may return to see the Popular Prize painting.

NAB WRONG MAN, RELEASED

Clarence Powers, 2134 Glenmawr avenue, mistaken identity victim, was ordered released from the workhouse today by Judge Thomas J. Ford. Police wouldn't believe him when he denied he was Lawrence Wright, who formerly roomed at the same address and for whose arrest a request had been received from Cincinnati authorities. Powers had been committed for 30 days on a suspicious person charge.

DURANT URGES EARLY MARRIAGES

CITES NEED OF NEW MORAL CODE

Intense silence and gasps alternated in the audience of the Twentieth Century Club today when Dr. Will Durant, author of "The Story of Philosophy," delivered an address on "The Breakdown of Marriage" and punctuated his startling statements with volleys of epigrams. Pittsburgh women never before heard a plainer talk on the subject of marriage and sex relations.

Dr. Durant warned his audience that it was difficult "to speak on the subject without speaking honestly and still more difficult to speak honestly without giving offense." He then launched into his subject and handled it without gloves. He said:

"The age of marriage now is nearer 30 years than 20; it has gone from the natural age to the financial age, and as a result premarital incontinency among women is increasing. The fallen sister belongs to an ancient profession which today is ruined by amateurs.

CITES MORE EROTIC APPEAL

"Woman's appeal to men is more and more erotic and less maternal and domestic. Love as a basis of marriage is disappearing and marriage has become a contract and not a vow. We may have to accept a new moral code to fit late marriages.

"Marriage was invented not to legalize sexual behavior, but to stabilize parental care. It is not an association of men and women, but of parents and children."

The speaker, offering a remedy, declared that early marriages should be encouraged and girls should continue to work.

"Let them practice birth control," he said. "It is better to have marriage and birth control than to have birth control without marriage."

He said the indissoluble marriage is ridiculous, and while admitting divorce a great evil, the incapability of getting divorce is a still greater evil. He concluded:

"Lifelong marriage is still the ideal, and the woes and tribulations of marriage are as nothing compared to the desert of loneliness of the unmarried. Solitude is worse than war."

FIREMEN CARRY 3 TO SAFETY

When a blazing staircase imprisoned them in their bedrooms on the second floor of an apartment building at 559 Larimer avenue, Dr. Michael C. Conti, a dentist, his wife and small child were carried down a ladder to safety by firemen early this morning.

The fire started in the basement of the three-story apartment and worked its way through the building. The first floor is occupied by the Washington Real Estate Company, on the second floor by Dr. Conti and Matt Mealy occupied the third floor. The damage was estimated at $1,000.

TRIBUTE OF FLOWERS FOR DEAD YOUTH

CLASSMATES ATTEND FUNERAL

Robert Vogel, Avalon High School boy, who died Saturday, and whose father, George Vogel, is being sought throughout the nation, was laid to rest this afternoon while thousands paid tributes of sympathy by their presence at the home and the vast number of floral offerings that filled several rooms in the Vogel home. Class and schoolmates of the dead lad attended the funeral in a body at the home, 423 School street, Avalon.

SCOUR ERIE FOR VOGEL

caught them in a car in front of Vogel's office in East Lacock street and dragged my wife out of the car. I don't deny that my temper got the best of me and I blackened her eye.

"Helen and Marie were two girl friends of my wife. I didn't know their last names and I don't know where they live—but I'm trying to find them.

"I ran into them a week before Vogel disappeared and they told me Vogel was running around a lot with my wife and that I would get a big surprise soon. I asked them if they were trying to kid me. Then I heard of Vogel's disappearance—and wondered about it.

"Four days after his disappearance I met them on the street and asked them what they knew. They swore they had seen my wife and George Vogel in Erie the day before on the street, but didn't know where they were stopping."

He went on to explain that he and his wife had separated five weeks before and that she had gone home to her father and mother.

The mother of the woman admitted to police that her daughter disappeared about the time Vogel dropped from sight, but scouted the idea of the two being together. She has had no word from her daughter, she says. But she says that her daughter has fled because she fears her husband.

The husband declares that his wife made engagements with Vogel over the telephone for automobile trips in the presence of his mother.

Many life-long friends of the missing man yesterday laughed at the suicide or foul play theory. They told of his disappearing mysteriously at previous times and later turning up none the worse for his adventure.

Officers of the chain store company declare that there is nothing in Vogel's not having a large amount of money in the bank to sustain the theory of his going away with a large sum of money in his pocket, prepared for a long trip.

His brother, William, denies that any large sum of money was drawn from the company funds before his disappearance. He also says all checks of the company business accounts have been called in.

Myrtle Gift, 1123 Fayette street, questioned at length by police about her knowledge of Vogel, is much relieved now that another woman has entered the case. Still refusing to tell anything "except when necessary and in the presence of her lawyer," she admitted, however, her relief, and says they will find she knows nothing about Vogel's disappearance, despite the letter he wrote to police saying he feared her.

As the hour neared today for the funeral of his favorite son, Vogel had not been heard from by his stricken family at 423 North School street, Avalon. They were confident that Vogel, if alive and free, certainly would come home for the last rites for the son, Robert, 17, who died Saturday after an operation for appendicitis.

Avalon High School, where Robert was a star athlete and active in all departments of school work, dismissed classes this afternoon so that members of the football squad and pupils might attend the funeral. Eight of the lad's fellows on the grid team acted as pallbearers.

Members of the class of '29 of the high school, of which Robert was president, formed in two lines as the funeral cortege left the Vogel home and acted as an escort of honor.

Hundreds of neighbors, friends and schoolmates of the dead boy visited the Vogel home from early this morning until time for the services, and the streets for several blocks from the house of mourning were jammed with people and conveyances. The peculiarly sad circumstances surrounding the disappearance of the father and the boy's death brought an outpouring of sympathy from friends of the family, and the floral offerings filled two rooms at the Vogel home.

A theory on the part of Vogel's family that a body found near Hooversville, Somerset county, last week, as told in the Sunday Sun-Telegraph, might be that of the missing man, was exploded when word came from the coroner of Somerset county today that the body has been identified as that of Peter Pryeola, 60, a miner at Wilber, who disappeared last April.

VANDERGRIFT JEWEL THIEVES' LOOT $200

VANDERGRIFT, Pa., Nov. 28.—The jewelry store of O. A. Guppstadt, Grant avenue, was robbed of $200 worth of jewelry early this morning by thieves, who broke a display window with a padded brick. Two suspects were arrested and were to be given a hearing tonight.

THE NEW FORD CAR

An announcement of unusual importance to every automobile owner

by HENRY FORD

"NINETEEN years ago we made and sold the first Model T Ford car. In announcing it to the public we said:

"'We will build a motor car for the great multitude. It will be large enough for the family, but small enough for the individual to run and care for. It will be constructed of the best materials, by the best men to be hired, after the simplest designs modern engineering can devise. But it will be so low in price that no man making a good salary will be unable to own one.'

"If I were starting in business today, or asked to restate my policy, I would not change one sentence or one word of that original announcement. In plain, simple language it gives the reason for the very existence of the Ford Motor Company and explains its growth.

"IN THE last nineteen years we have made 15,000,000 Ford cars and added to the world nearly 300,000,000 mobile horse-power. Yet I do not consider the machines which bear my name simply as machines. I take them as concrete evidence of the working out of a theory of business which I hope is something more than a theory of business—a theory that looks toward making this world a better place in which to live.

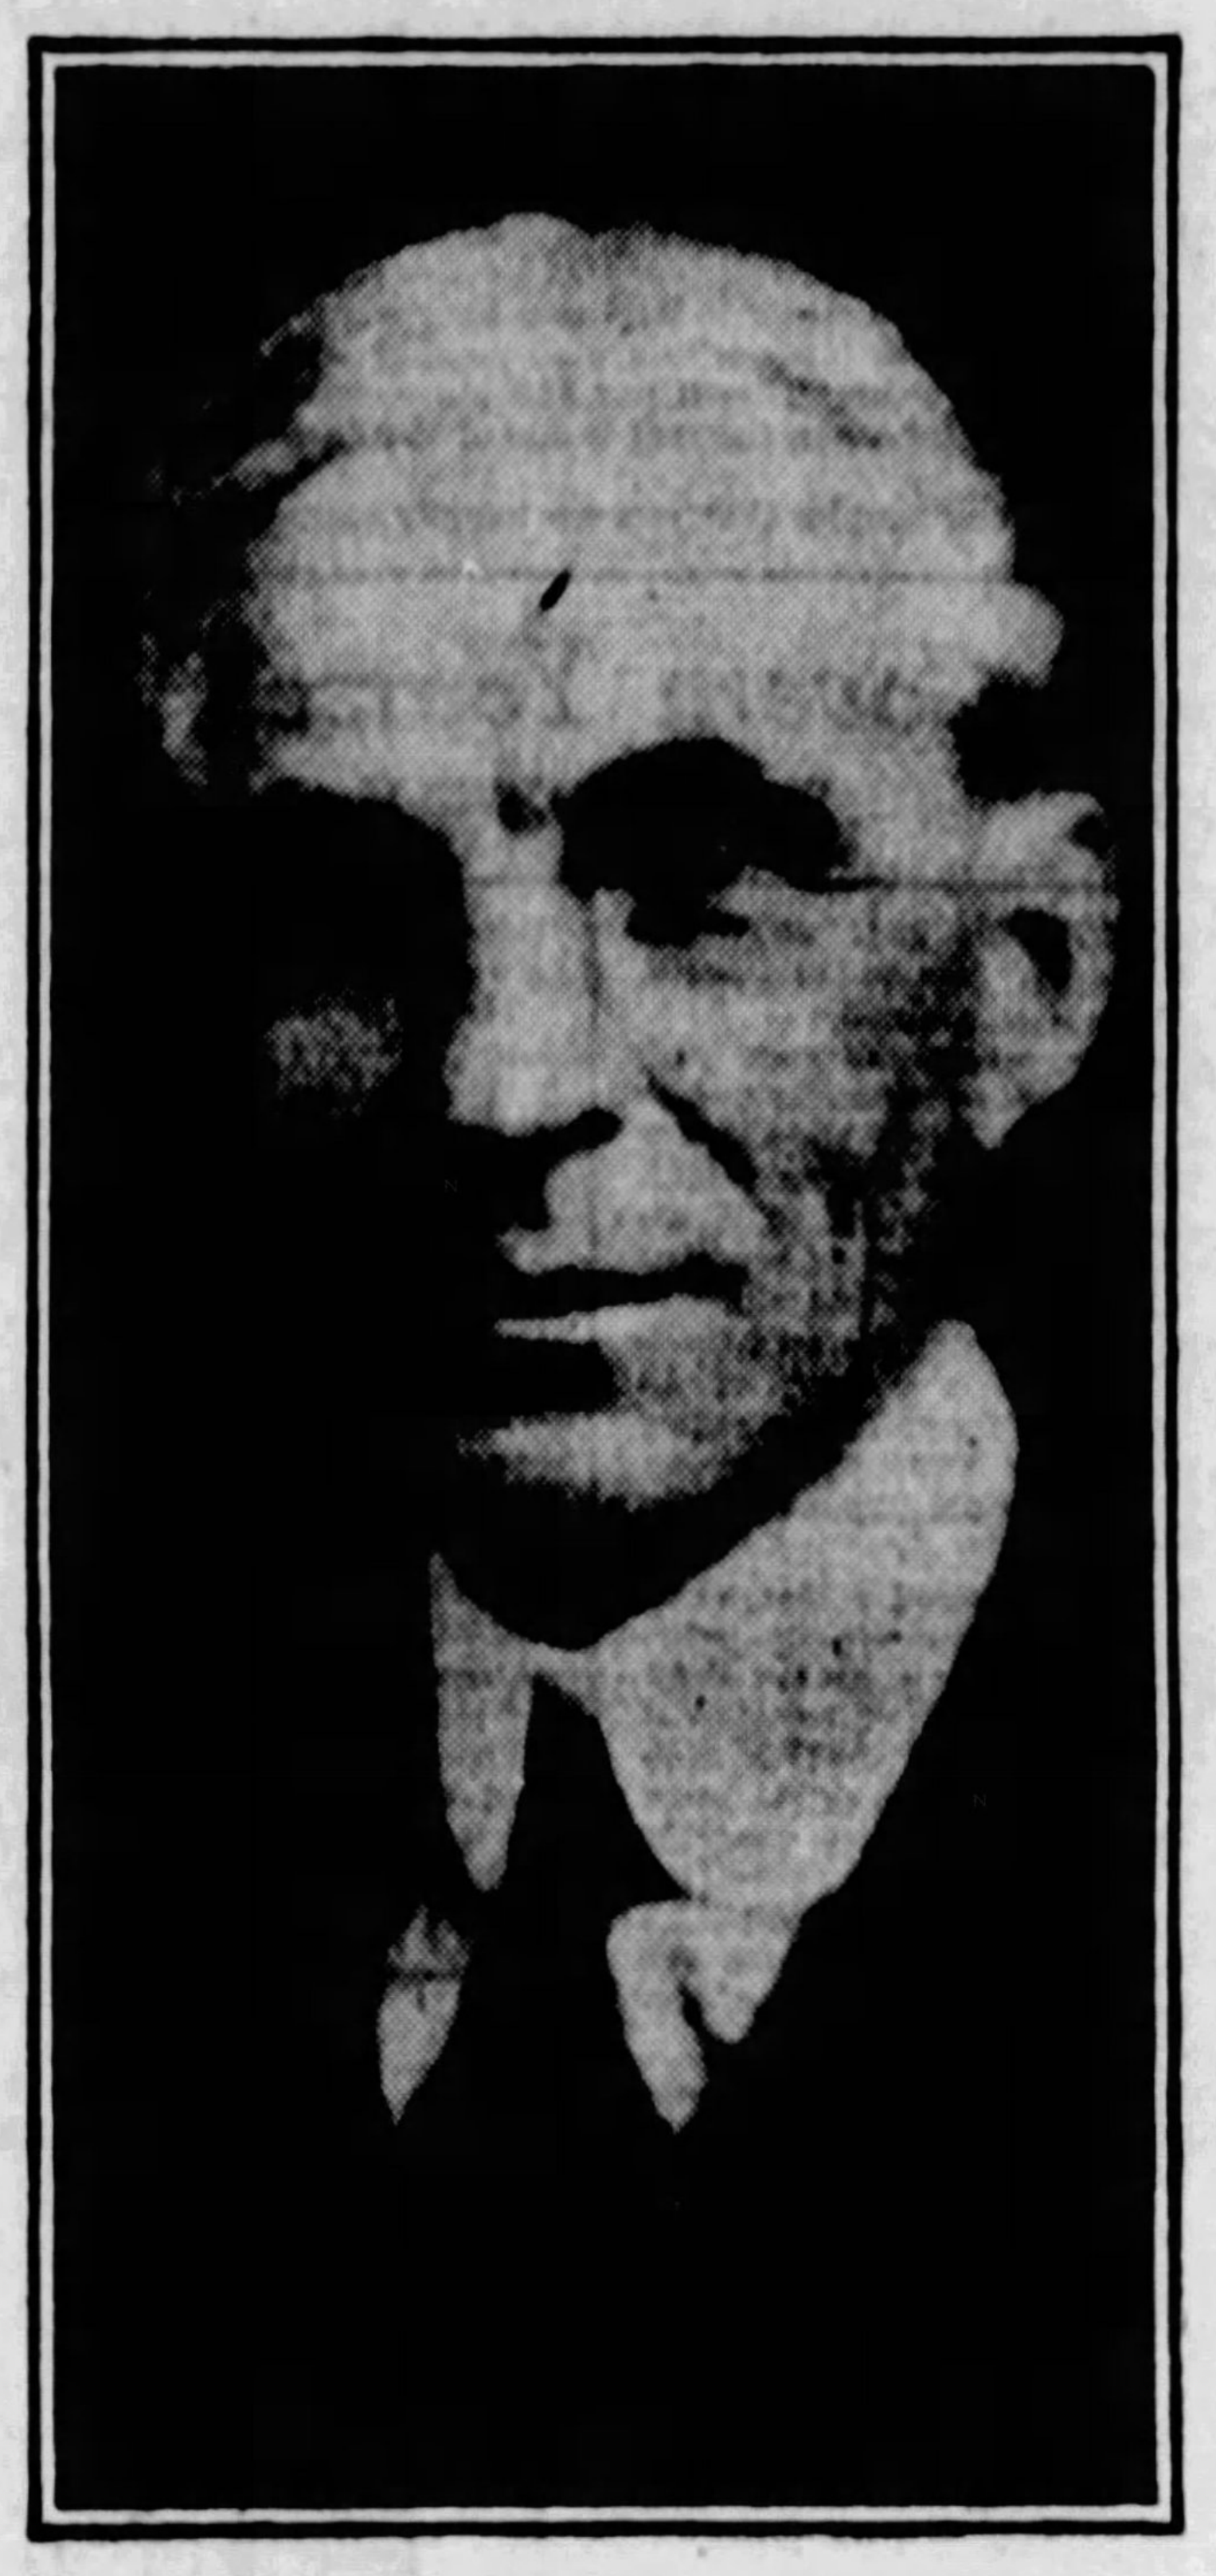
"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. There was no conscious public need of motor cars when we first conceived it. There were few good roads and only the adventurous few could be induced to buy an automobile.

"The Ford car blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads. It broke down the barriers of time and distance and helped to place education within the reach of all. It gave people more leisure. It helped people everywhere to do more and better work in less time and enjoy doing it. It did a great deal, I am sure, to promote the growth and progress of this country.

"We are still proud of the record of the Model T Ford car. If we were not, we would not have continued to manufacture it so long. But 1927 is not 1908. It is not 1915. It is not even 1926.

We have built a new car to meet modern conditions

"We realize that conditions in this country have so greatly changed in the last few years that further refinement in motor car construction is desirable. So we have built a new car. To put it simply—we have built a new and different Ford to meet new and different conditions.



"We believe the new Ford car, which will be officially announced on Friday of this week, is as great an improvement in motor car building as the Model T Ford was in 1908.

Smart new low lines and beautiful colors

"The new Ford is more than a car for the requirements of today. It goes farther than that. It anticipates the needs of 1928, of 1929, of 1930.

"The new Ford car is radically different from Model T. Yet the basic Ford principles of economy of production and quality of product have been retained. There is nothing quite like the new Ford anywhere in quality and price.

"The new Ford has exceptional beauty of line and color because beauty of line and color has come to be considered, and I think rightly, a necessity in a motor car today. Equally important is the mechanical beauty of the engine. Let us not forget this mechanical beauty when we consider the beauty of the new Ford.

"The new Ford has unusual speed for a low-price car because present-day conditions require unusual speed.

"The world moves more quickly than it used to. There are only so many hours in the day and there is much to be done.

"Fifty and sixty miles an hour are desired today where thirty and forty would have satisfied in 1908. So we are giving you this new speed.

Quiet and smooth-running at all speeds

"The new Ford will ride comfortably at fifty and sixty miles an hour. It has actually done sixty-five miles an hour in road tests.

"Since modern conditions demand more speed, they also demand better brakes to balance this speed. So we are giving you four-wheel brakes in the new Ford.

"The new Ford will be quiet and smooth-running at all speeds and you will find it even easier to handle in traffic than the old Model T Ford.

"The new Ford has durability because durability is the very heart of motor car value. The Ford car has always been known as a car that will take you there and bring you back. The new Ford will not only do that, but it will do it in good style. You will be proud of the new Ford.

"THIS new Ford car has not been planned and made in a day. Our engineers began work on it several years ago and it has been in my mind much longer than that. We make automobiles quickly when we get in production. But we take a long time planning them. Nothing can hurry us in that. We spent twelve years in perfecting our former Model T Ford car before we offered it to the public. It is not conceivable that we should have put this new Ford car on the market until we were sure that it was mechanically correct in every detail.

"Every part of it has been tested and retested. There is no guessing as to whether it will be a successful model. It has to be. There is no way it can escape being so, for it represents the sum total of all we have learned about motor car building in the making of 15,000,000 automobiles.

The new Ford will sell at a low price

"The price of the new Ford is low in accordance with the established Ford policy. I hold that it is better to sell a large number of cars at a reasonably small margin of profit than to sell a few cars at a large margin of profit.

"We never forget that people who buy Ford cars are the people who helped to make this business big. It has always been our policy to share our profits with our customers. In one year our profits were so much larger than we expected that we voluntarily returned $50 to each purchaser of a car. We could never have done that if this business had been conducted for the sole benefit of stockholders rather than to render service to the public.

"No other automobile can duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price because no other manufacturer does business the way we do.

"We make our own steel—we make our own glass—we mine our own coal—we make virtually every part used in the Ford car. But we do not charge a profit on any of these items or from these operations. We would not be playing fair with the public if we did so. Our only business is the automobile business. Our only profit is on the automobile we sell.

"WE ARE able to sell this new Ford car at a low price because we have found new ways to give you greater value without a great increase in our own costs.

"We did not set out to make a new car to sell at such-and-such a figure. We decided on the kind of car we wanted to make and then found ways to produce it at a low price.

"The new Ford car, as I have said, will be officially announced on Friday of this week. In appearance, in performance, in comfort, in safety, in all that goes to make a good car, it will bear out everything I have said here. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Royal S. Copeland, M.D.
U.S. Senator from New York

Right Use of Handkerchief Prevents Infection

HAVING occasion to call on a friend, I found his young son in bed. On my inquiry as to what was wrong, the lad said he had a cold. Asked how he got it, the reply was: "Caught it from a boy."

DR COPELAND

Here was a well-informed youngster. He didn't get his feet wet, sit in a draft of cold air, or catch it one of the other ways commonly blamed for a cold. The boy knew he caught it from a playmate.

When everybody knows that colds are "catching," then everybody will seek to avoid them. They will learn, too, what it is they must do to escape colds.

It makes me shiver when I see what happens so frequently in this benighted world. A lady gets out of an automobile, announcing to her inquiring friends and family, "I'm all right except for a terrible cold." Then with intimate impartiality she presses sweet and juicy kisses upon the willing lips of the assembled group.

If she had a revolver in each hand and proceeded to take a shot at each of the family, she'd be arrested. But she bombards them with the germs of acute illness and nobody says a word.

"Caught it from a boy." These words tell the story. "Caught it from a girl," is all we need to add. That is the way a cold comes—it is passed on from another human being.

Everybody having a cold is a dangerous associate. He needn't be, but he is. He is dangerous because he fails to do the simple things essential to the protection of society.

Almost all the infections, the "catching" diseases, are conveyed by the moisture from the nose, mouth and throat. Whenever these secretions in the moist state are brought in contact with the nasal tissues, lips or tongue of another, there is great danger of infecting that person.

You can see that the air and the hands are the chief means of transmitting the germ-laden moisture. To sneeze into the air, to cough, to talk loudly—any one of these acts will spray into the atmosphere thousands of droplets of moisture, each drop teeming with disease-producing agents.

To sneeze or cough into the palm of the bare hand covers the skin with infective material. This may be passed on to the hand of another, or to a door knob, a street car hanger strap, or some other object which may convey it to another's hand. From that hand it goes to the nose or mouth and the damage is done.

If you have a cold, use a multitude of handkerchiefs or squares of gauze. Never sneeze or cough without covering the face with this cloth.

Keep your own hands clean so that your dangerous secretions will not be carried to others.

If you are free from colds, keep your hands from your face. Never eat without washing them first. Wash your face and hands thoroughly several times a day.

These are a few suggestions about colds. Ponder them and be governed accordingly.

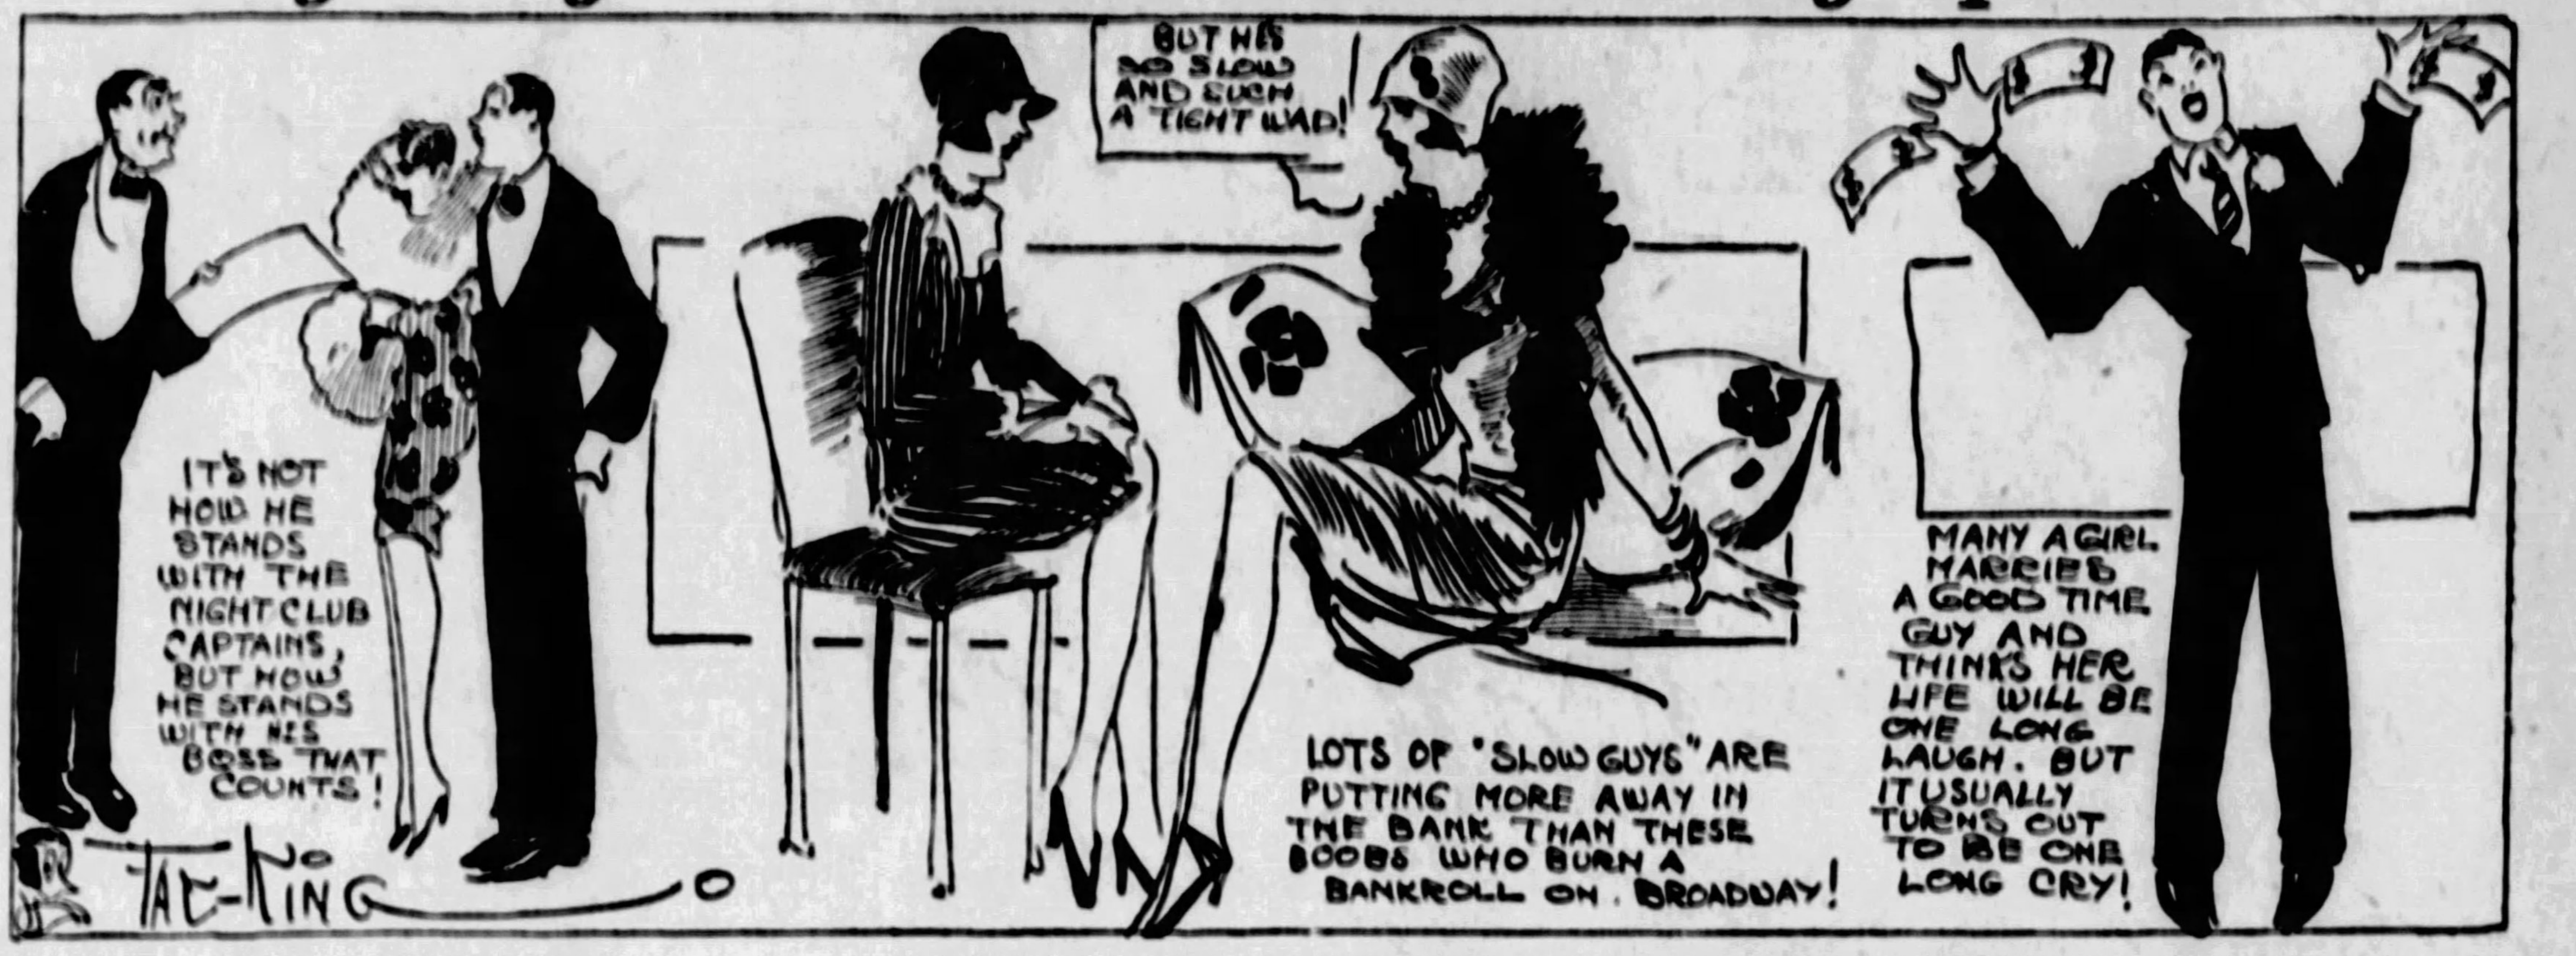
Fay King Tells Truth About Flashy Spenders



IT'S NOT HOW HE STANDS WITH THE NIGHT CLUB CAPTAINS, BUT HOW HE STANDS WITH HIS BOSS THAT COUNTS!
FAY-KING
BUT HE'S SO SLOW AND SUCH A TIGHT WAD!
LOTS OF "SLOW GUYS" ARE PUTTING MORE AWAY IN THE BANK THAN THESE BOOBS WHO BURN A BANKROLL ON BROADWAY!
MANY A GIRL MARRIES A GOOD TIME GUY AND THINKS HER LIFE WILL BE ONE LONG LAUGH. BUT IT USUALLY TURNS OUT TO BE ONE LONG CRY!

By FAY KING.

FOOLISH girls still fall for the flash roll.

If a fellow takes them out and squanders $50 or $60 in some night club the girls think he must be a millionaire!

If a "slow guy" asks them out, and glides them into a good table d'hote dinner and drives a cheap car which he OWNS, they are not likely to give him much of a tumble.

If they would only get wise and realize that it is better to judge a man by his income than his outpay!

The man who does not know the value of money seldom knows the worth of anything else.

A lot of these "slow guys" have got more in the bank than these bankroll boobs will ever have!

It's not the attention he gets in a night club that counts. It's the attention he gets in the business world. It's what the boss thinks of him that is going to matter when he marries.

The unhappiest girls you'll ever meet are those married to some fellow who has a bank roll today and coffee and rolls tomorrow.

They live high while it lasts and lie low when it's gone.

A lot of these birds who are so popular with the gang are a grouch in the home. They'll pay the big check with a grin, but, oh, how they kick when the rent is due or the kids need new Winter coats!

The young couples that you see happily eating a sensible Sunday dinner together in some plain little restaurant will be taking a trip around the world together some day.

While a lot of these "wise" wasters will be sitting around some cheap lodging house wishing they had their "lives to live over again"—DIFFERENTLY!

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

FIFTH-SEVEN VARIETIES OF MARRIAGE

IT LOOKS as though we should soon have 57 varieties of marriage.

Everybody is suggesting "modern improvements" for the dear old institution, all of them guaranteed to make it more comfortable and practicable for this age of speed.

* * *

There is the "companionate" or short-time marriage, which carries a nice divorce-coupon or return trip ticket attached to your marriage certificate. The Take-it-and-leave-it marriage! If you don't like the service or the scenery, all you have to do is to get right off at the first station and run back to the old job and Mother.

HELEN ROWLAND

A perfectly lovely "ladies change!" All the comforts of home for the men and none of its responsibilities! All of the honors of matrimony for the women, and none of its monotony! And WHAT a delightful chance for the average man to realize his beautiful dream of impersonating old King Solomon!

And there is the "part-time marriage," in which you keep separate establishments, and see each other only every other Tuesday, by telephone appointment and on Mondays and Wednesday in January, by special invitation. The perfect union of two artistic souls!

* * *

Well, even two authors or two actors or two musicians could live happily together, forever, if they could manage to keep SEPARATED most of the time. That's a cinch!

* * *

And there is the progressive marriage—the "Now-you've-got-me-and-now-you-haven't" marriage, which begins in Palm Beach and ends in Reno or Paris or a society scandal.

And, last but most interesting, there is the "now-and-then" marriage. The "hit-or-miss" marriage. The "Come-and-see-me-when-you-can-maybe-I'll-be-home" marriage, recently introduced by a popular writer and a popular actress.

Every day, somebody pops up with a brand new "dee-vice" for making matrimony safe for the world!

And every little "dee-vice" turns out to be a plan for making it possible for you to be "just a little bit married."

* * *

But you CAN'T be just a little bit married, any more than you can be just a little bit honest or a little bit dead!

It does not matter in what form you take your marriage, so that you take it seriously. But don't try to take it as a JOKE.

* * *

Because marriage is NO JOKE! Neither is it an avocation. Either it's a life-work, a life-partnership, and a life-companionship—or it isn't MARRIAGE! It's something else, again.

Govern Yourself

By LUCY LOWELL

"WHOM the gods would destory," goes an old proverb, "they first make mad."

That is, whom the gods wish out of the way they anger and so allow him to destroy himself. For it is not a super-human intelligence which destroys; it is the blind, uncontrolled force one holds within himself and allows to take possession of his own intelligence which is destructive. An unintelligent force; for no raging emotion ever is intelligent.

Read the truth as put down by St. Mark:

"Do ye not perceive that whatsoever thing from without entereth into a man it cannot defile him . . . that which cometh out of the man, that defileth him. For from within, out of the heart of man proceed evil thoughts . . . murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit . . . pride, foolishness; all these evil things come from within and defile the man."

Thus the gods, or what the gods stood for when the proverb was written, have no power to destroy. But, being cunning, they manage to rouse in man such noisome things as he allows to lurk in his heart, and these destroy.

The safeguard, obviously, is for the man to clear his heart of all which might be destructive. And this, of course, is a life work.

"If you would be revenged of your enemy, govern yourself," said Benjamin Franklin. Which is another way of stating the truth.

One who acts under compulsion of anger—and what fantastic things anger will make one do!—always lives to regret.

Nor does it help to say afterward, "I was sore when I did that and allowance must be made." Others seldom make allowance and even if they do such tolerance will not wipe out a wrong.

This is written down upon the doer's spirit and great are the hardships he must endure to wipe it away.

Panocha

Put four cupfuls of brown sugar into a saucepan with a cupful of rich milk and boil seven minutes. Stir in a tablespoonful of butter, a teaspoonful of vanilla, and two cupfuls of chopped English walnuts. Beat until it is creamy, then pour into a buttered pan to cool.

Oyster Salad

Take a dozen and a half of freshly opened oysters and scald them in their own liquor for three minutes, drain and cool. When cold cut each oyster in four pieces with a sharp knife, add a small cupful of celery cut fine, a tablespoonful of capers, a tablespoonful of French dressing, the juice of an onion, and when mixed add just enough heavy mayonnaise to bind. Then fill little pepper-cups with the salad, set them on lettuce leaves and garnish with stuffed olives.

For the Lovelorn

Undecided

DEAR MISS GALE:

I am going to ask you for some advice. I am a girl 19 years old and keeping steady company with a fellow six years my senior. I have been going with him for eight months and he asked me to marry him, but I am afraid to because he always teases me about his girl friends, and I think he would not make a very ideal husband. I agree with you on the kissing question.

UNDECIDED.

You are too young to marry, anyway, my dear. Wait for two or three years and you will be more sure of yourself.

America Forever

DEAR MISS GALE:

Have just finished reading a letter in your column signed "The Man With the Sardonic Smile," and plainly speaking, it did make my blood boil. What right has he to come over here from Britain and say that "Our younger generation is devoid of even the fundamentals of decency?" Come on, all you American fellows and girls, won't you give this radical fellow a piece of your mind? Listen, does not the younger generation of Britain have its faults? I am a college miss, just 21 and pretty, and if I were near you I would certainly make you swallow some of your harsh statements concerning our college graduates. And I'm sure I have a great number of backers. AMERICA FOREVER.

I quite agree with you in your stand for our young people, my dear.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

Pluto Water Bringing Health and Happiness to Millions

Los Angeles, Calif.
June 27, 1927

I used to suffer a great deal with headaches. Some time ago my physician prescribed a small dose of Pluto each morning in hot water. Thanks to Pluto, I have not had a headache in more than a year.

Florence Shuman

ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
U. S. Senator from New York and formerly Health Commissioner of the City of New York

Dr. Copeland says: "Mineral waters of the right sort are preferable to many of the cathartic compounds on the market. Their power to overcome the immediate effects of constipation is unquestioned. They are soothing and healing to the tissues. Sugar coated pills are pleasant to take which may add to their danger. That is the reason they are coated with sugar. They are no less drastic and habit-forming because they appeal to the taste. Mineral waters pass through the system, doing nothing else but to flush and cleanse the intestinal tract."

How often you hear "Give Nature a chance." In the hurly-burly of today we too often disregard nature's command for the elimination of waste. Gradually we find ourselves in the grip of constipation, with headaches, dizziness, inertia, sallowness and other ills, often serious, penalizing our carelessness.

Thousands in desperation resort to drugs to force nature to function. The habit grows and unless arrested enslaves its victim. The unfavorable effect of drugs on the body will be noted in an extract from a Bulletin herewith of a national authority on public health.

Pluto is a water laxative. It loosens, cleans and flushes the waste accumulations. Its mineral content makes it practically a "non-absorptive", passing intact through the stomach and intestines. It is pleasant, prompt, gentle, complete and non-habit forming.

Never be without it. Constipation is the mother of too many diseases to disregard its dangers. Pluto Water is bottled at French Lick Springs, Ind. Sold at all drug counters and at fountains.

They Called Her Scrawny But Not for Long

Is your face drawn and pinched? Your skin flabby? Are your cheeks sunken with great hollows under the eyes? Does your figure show unbecoming angles instead of the softly rounded slimness of youth?

All these conditions rob you of attractiveness and make you look old. But worst of all, these may actually be the symptoms of simple anaemia—that dread ailment so often suffered by women.

There's nothing so good as McCoy's Tablets to put on firm flesh, round out face and figure and build up rich, red blood.

So if you need a few pounds of flesh to round out the hollows, if you want to get back old-time energy and health, get a box of McCoy's Tablets today. Just a short treatment will make you look and feel like a new person.

McCoy takes all the risk — Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at May's Drug Stores, or any drug store in America.

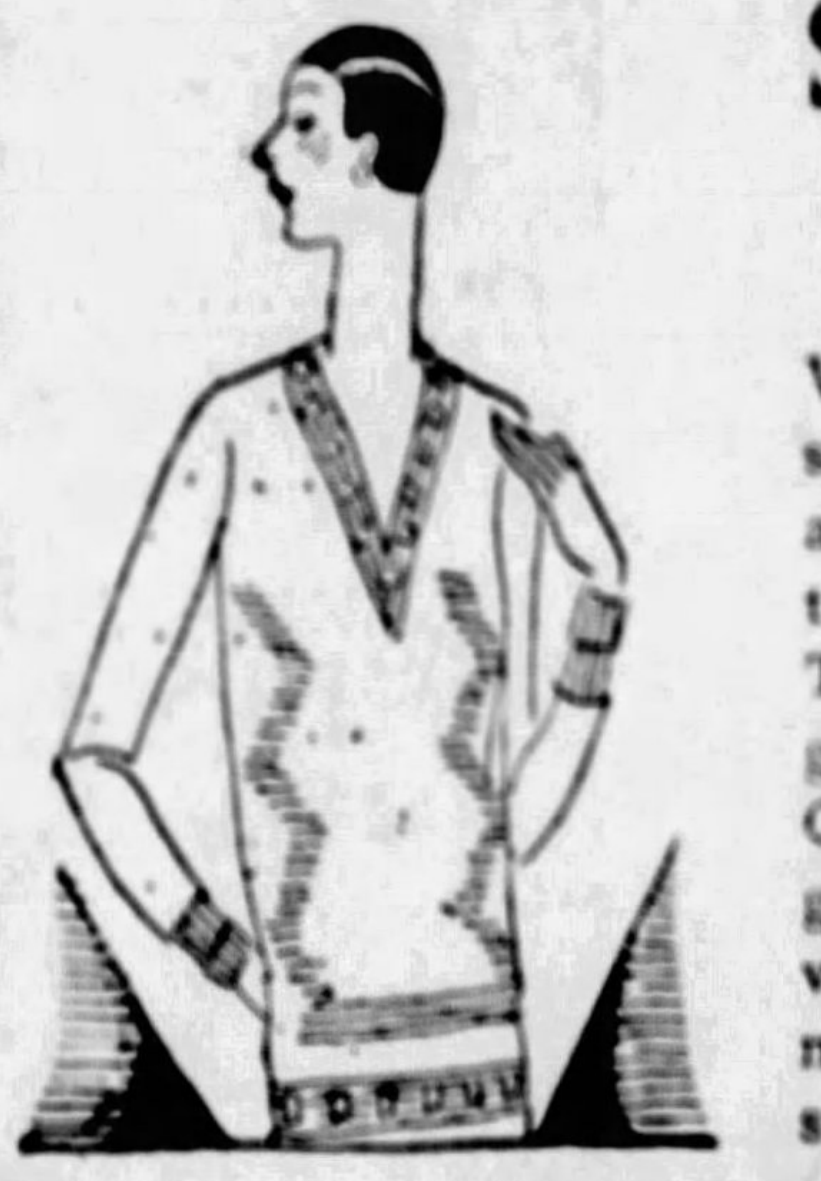
THE STORE OF THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

New Wool Zephyr Sweaters Specially Priced

6.95

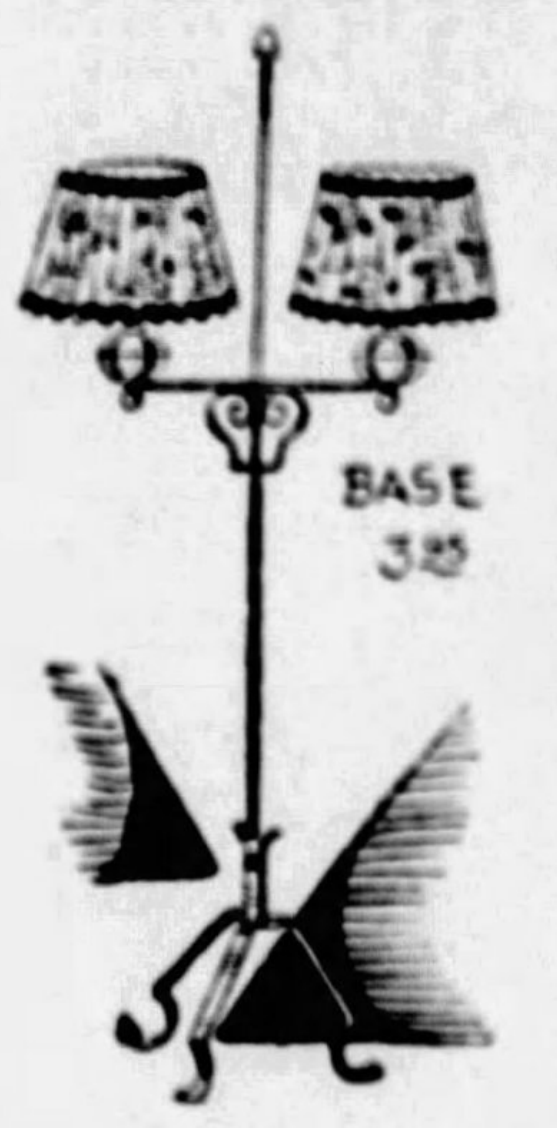


Wonderfully soft zephyr! These new sports sweaters are worn with separate skirts, or under the coat for extra warmth—and, of course, with suits. The one sketched is brown with woven geometric pattern in a darker shade. Other sweaters in blue, green, Autumn glory (rich red), beige. Necks are in varied styles—crew, V, square, or the new diagonal line. Slip-on or coat styles. These are splendid for gifts.

(Kaufmann's—Fourth Floor).

Colonial Double Arm Bridge Bases

3.95



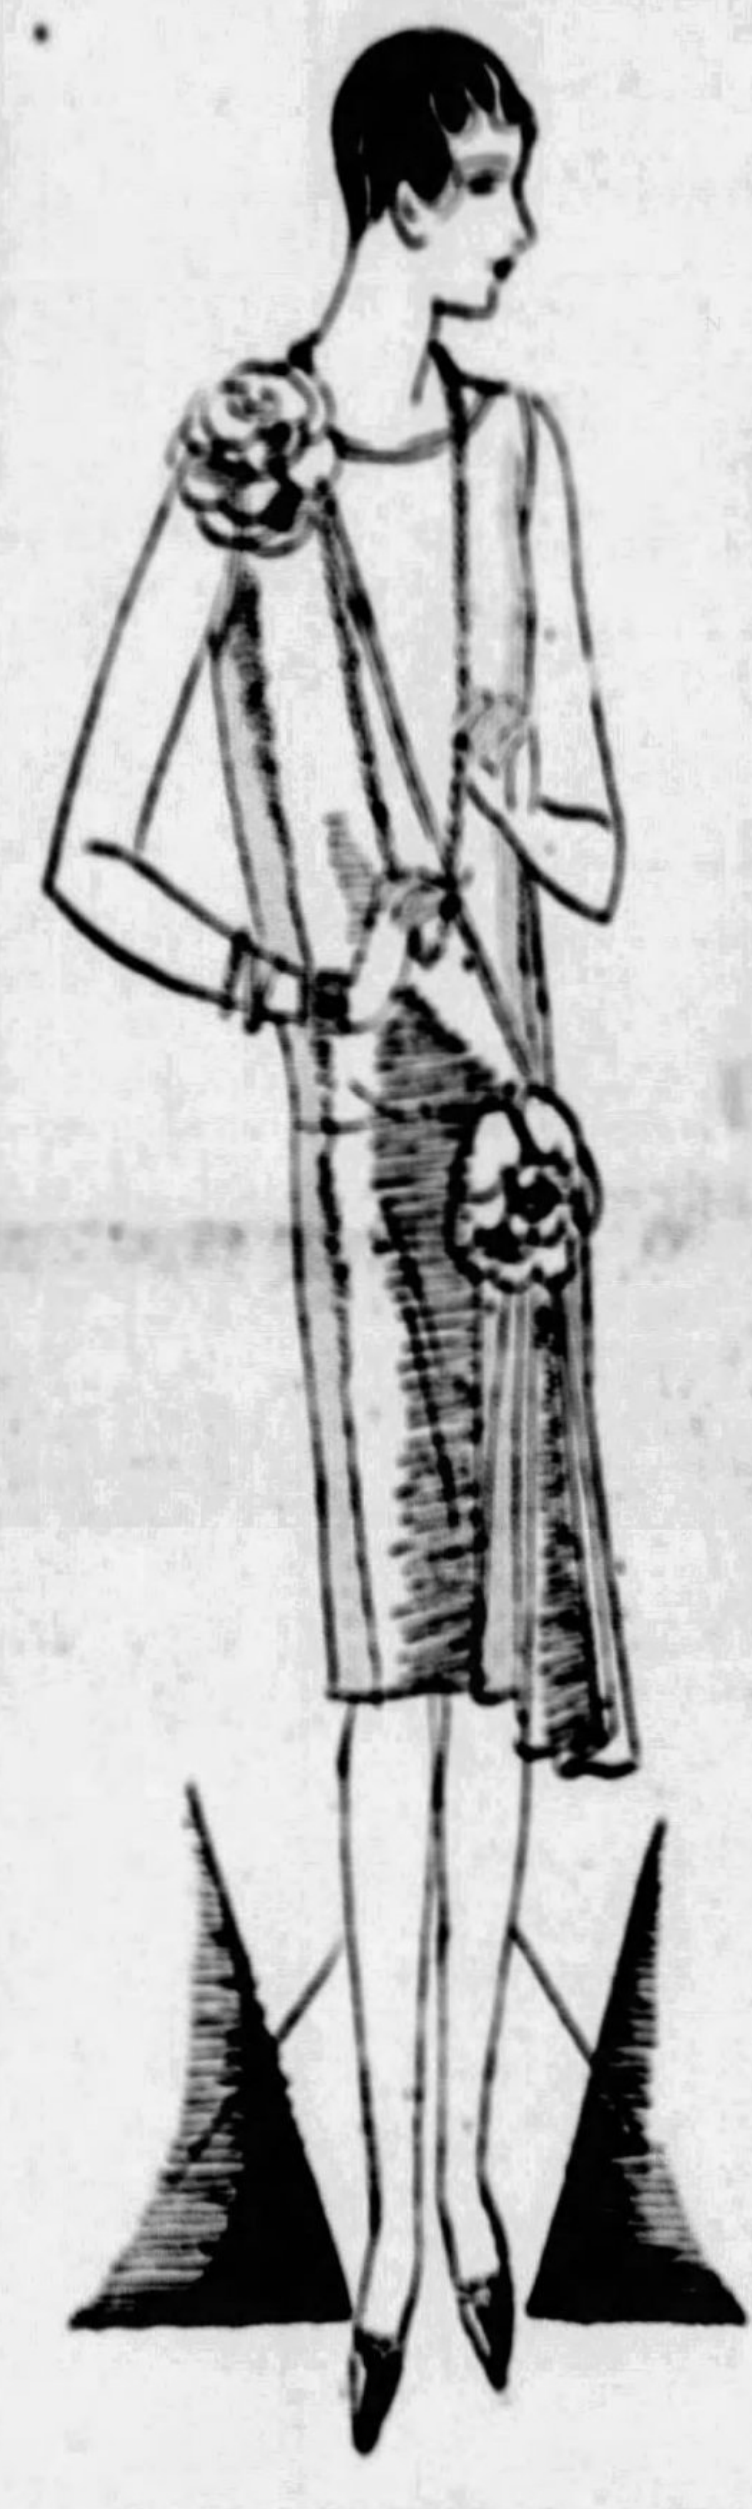
As sketched at the left, these bridge or reading lamps of wrought iron have double brass colonial oil fonts. Adjustable to any height. Splendid gifts for the man who reads, the student, the woman who likes to sew or read, the bridge enthusiast.

New Pleated Chintz Shades—To use with these bases, 1.95 to 2.95.

(Lamps—Fifth Floor)

Gracious Charm Accents These New Dinner-Dance Frocks

39.75 $59 $79



The social season whirls along towards the holidays and the wardrobe needs another "little frock." A vivacious affair, youthfully alert in every smart line and soft drapery. Sizes for women and misses.

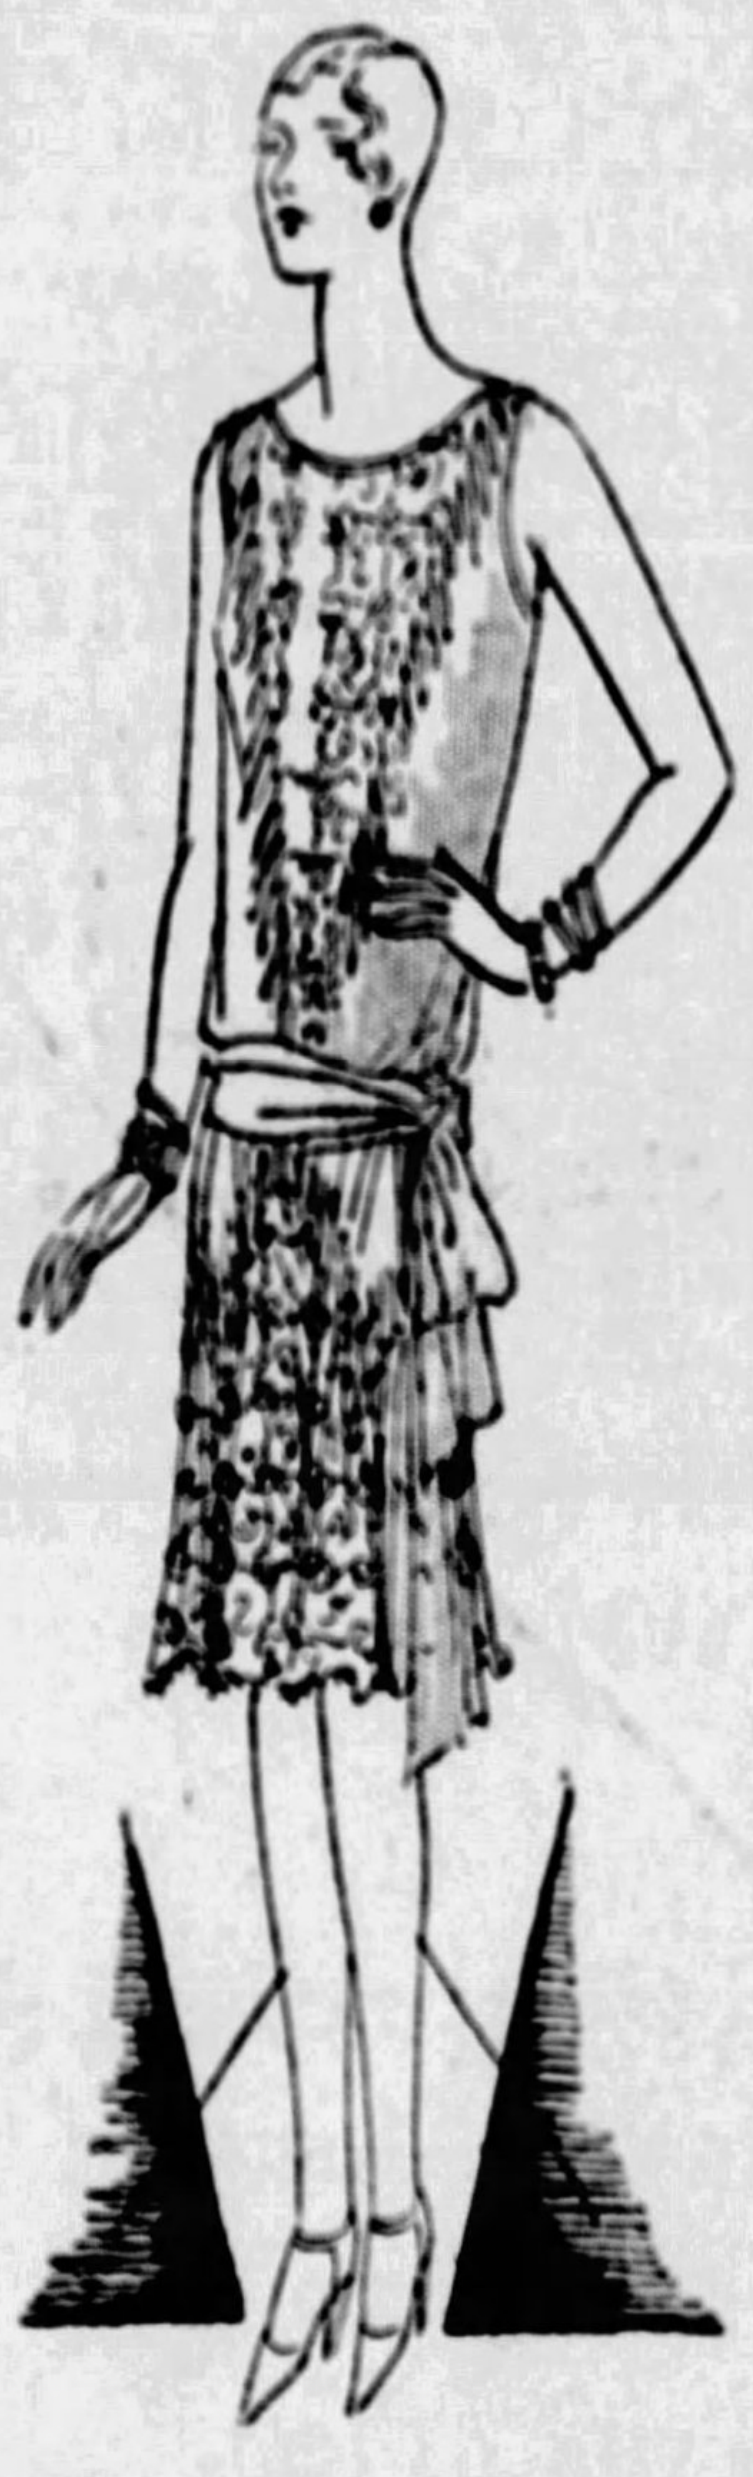
The "fish-tail" back is distinctly smart in a tiered green crepe romaine—and there's a new neck throw.

A crepe satin uses the diagonal closing effect in both back and front—and drapery makes the uneven hemline. (Sketched at left).

From Paris comes a particularly lissome chiffon, enlivened with beaded lace. (Sketched at right).

A lace frock in soft blue wears an impertinent little bolero—and a youthful almost-normal waistline.

Crepe romaine in a rich red has the swathed hipline, the uneven hemline—and a generally smart air.



(Kaufmann's—Fourth Floor)

Hand-made Nainsook Gowns for Gifts,

1.00

The gowns are wonderfully dainty in their trim bindings. Applique work in unusual geometric shapes. Hemstitching and drawnwork. And every stitch by hand! Made of fine nainsook in flesh, peach and orchid — with trimmings of contrasting colors and combinations of colors. Excellent gifts—and so inexpensive.

Nu-Eve bloomers, also $1. Made of nainsook, with elastic knee. Fitted band at the waist.

(Kaufmann's—Sixth Floor).

Men's Neckwear—A Selling of Interest to Gift-Givers

1.00

Both American and imported cravats in fabrics as widely varied as their general pattern types—many of them presenting values most surprising for the price. Knitted and crocheted, or close-woven silks, silk mixtures and rayon mixtures and silk-and-wool — with stripes, all-over designs of conservative or spirited mien—and colors in 900 or more combinations. If requested, these ties will be packed in holiday boxes—their uniform low price suggests savings for gift allotments that are limited.

The Smartest Winter Hats Favor the Vogue for Pastel Shades

Such charm! New hats of silk faille, silk belting or of felt glorify Winter with their pastel shades. Early-April green—rich ruby—rose, the shade of sunrise—blue, orchid, beige, silver wing, flesh, banana. And there are a dozen ways to smartness in the clever cut of the crown, tiny little brims, a graceful fold, a flare or a tuck. Ear laps are impertinently interesting. And so we brighten our fur coats, our dark frocks. You'll find these fresh new hats in both the Debutante and the Adoria Shops. See them to-morrow.

Jimmy McCormick Calls Ann, Who, Slightly Dazed, Hangs Up on Him

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Ann and Georgie Hastings, sisters, live together at Mrs. O'Leary's boarding house. Ann, the elder, works in a factory, and Georgie works in an insurance office. Ann is proud of her sister's good looks and charming manner. She thinks it would be a good thing if Georgie married Bill Warren, who has no money, but who is madly in love with Georgie. Bill invites Ann to lunch and shows her an engagement ring he has bought for Georgie. Jimmy McCormick, manager of one of the departments, an admirer of Ann's, asks her out for the evening, but she refuses. On the way home she sees Georgie riding in a shining new car with a stranger. Later the car stops at Mrs. O'Leary's door. Georgie does not introduce her sister to the young man in the car, and Ann hears her agreeing to meet him the next day. She makes up her mind to have a talk with her sister.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER IV:

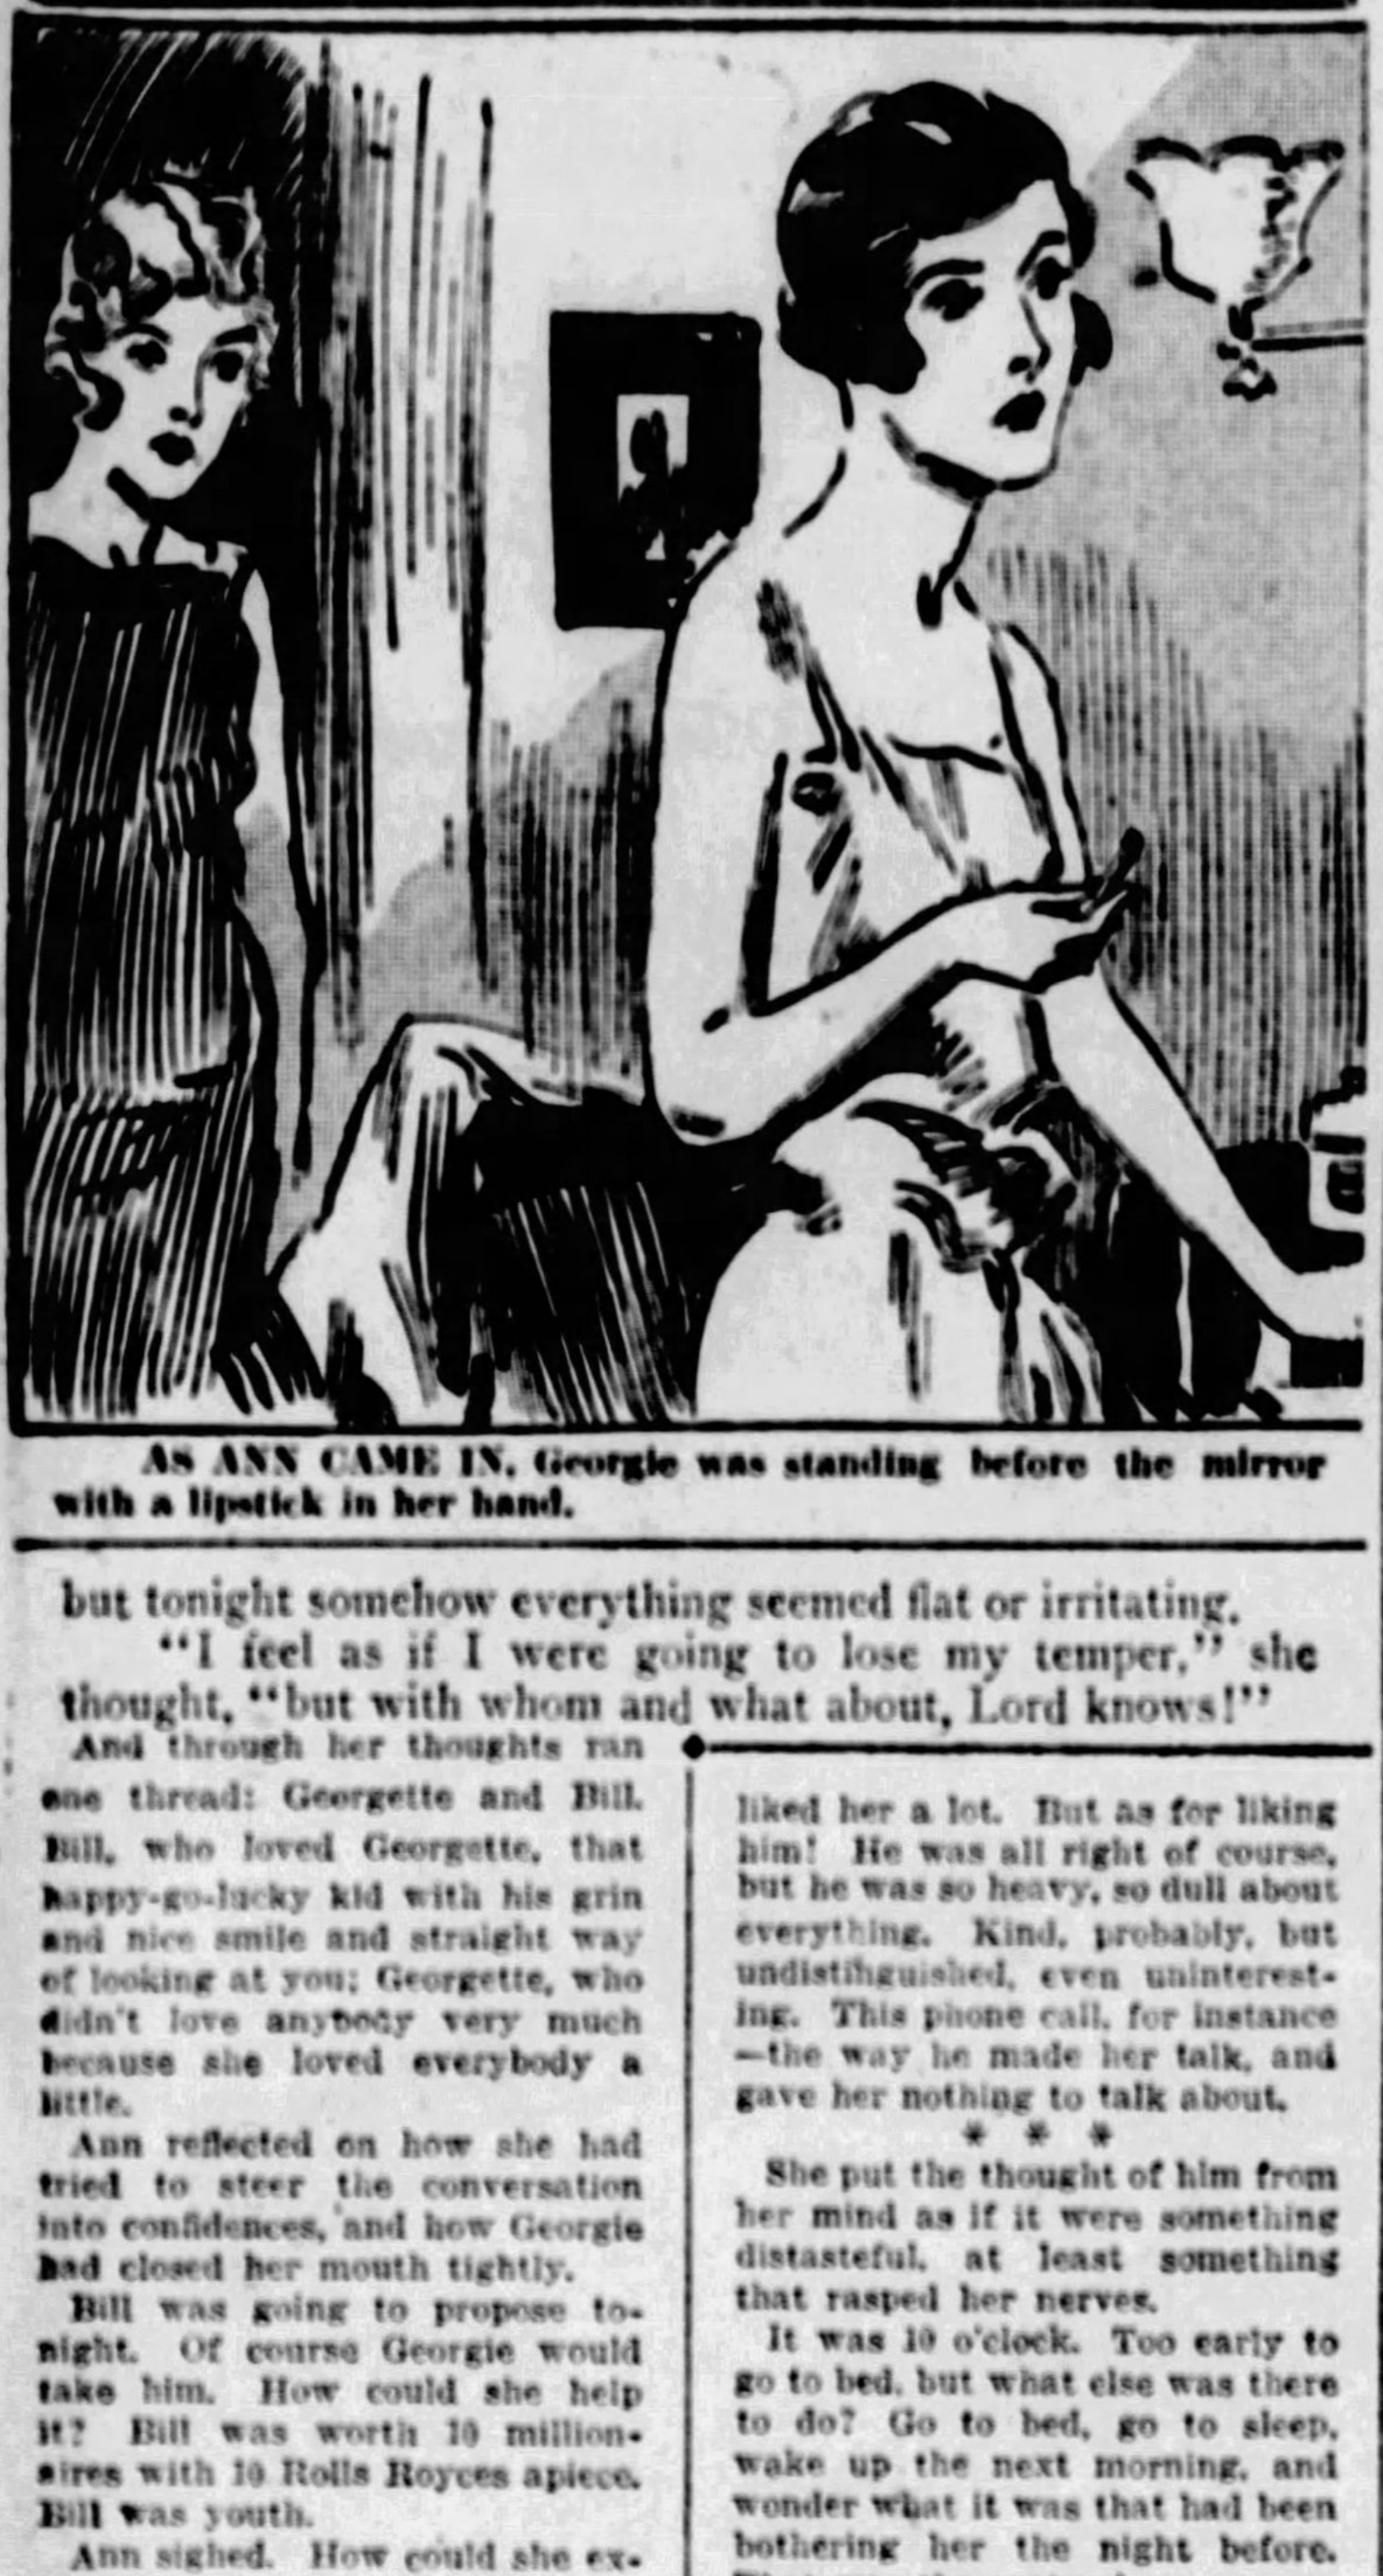
ANN had tried to read a magazine and couldn't. She had tried to talk with Col. Montgomery and fled. She had started to take a walk and returned to the house almost the moment she had gone down the steps.

"What is the matter with me tonight?" she asked herself. She felt fretful, nervous, depressed. She had sewed on Georgie's dress, as if finishing it were a life-and-death matter, with the result that the evening had stretched out interminably.

Ordinarily she found it a simple matter to amuse herself, but tonight somehow everything seemed flat or irritating.

"I feel as if I were going to lose my temper," she thought, "but with whom and what about, Lord knows!"

USELESS WARNING



AS ANN CAME IN, Georgie was standing before the mirror with a lipstick in her hand.

And through her thoughts ran one thread: Georgette and Bill. Bill, who loved Georgette, that happy-go-lucky kid with his grin and nice smile and straight way of looking at you; Georgette, who didn't love anybody very much because she loved everybody a little.

Ann reflected on how she had tried to steer the conversation into confidences, and how Georgie had closed her mouth tightly.

Bill was going to propose tonight. Of course Georgie would take him. How could she help it? Bill was worth 10 millionaires with 10 Rolls Royces apiece. Bill was youth.

Ann sighed. How could she expect Georgie to burst into sudden confession. Naturally she had her own thoughts, her own emotions. Why should she pour them all out?

"I shouldn't have expected her to tell me anything."

And yet she had, and still did. Trying to find out what it was that bothered her, Ann suddenly decided that it was because Georgie took Bill's devotion so casually, had been so spoiled by life that she didn't appreciate what luck she had had in attracting a man like Bill Warren.

She would accept him, of course, but she would do so without a sense of proud delight. She would take it so much for granted.

Ann told herself it was that that was making her angry. As for being depressed, of course that was due to the fact that this really was the beginning of the end. Soon Georgie would go out of her life, and she would be really alone.

Sitting in the dismal living room, her hands in her lap, her eyes staring into nothingness, her thoughts circling confusedly, she heard herself called to the 'phone in Mrs. Leary's cheerful brogue.

Answering it, she found Jimmy McCormick was calling her.

But he had apparently, not a thing to say. He asked her how she was, and because Ann couldn't talk amusingly about nothing, awkward silence fell. She tried to cover them up. Jimmy hung on. Solemn remarks about the factory—and yes, even a comment about the weather. Pauses. Deliberate replies. Then a longer pause.

Jimmy cleared his throat. "I—I—er just thought I'd call you up to find out how you were," he mumbled miserably.

"Thanks. Thank, Jimmy," Ann answered. "Well—er—see you tomorrow, Jimmy."

She rang off, and stood there, puzzled. Not exactly puzzled, more annoyed. Jimmy liked her—liked her a lot. But as for liking him! He was all right of course, but he was so heavy, so dull about everything. Kind, probably, but undistinguished, even uninteresting. This phone call, for instance—the way he made her talk, and gave her nothing to talk about.

She put the thought of him from her mind as if it were something distasteful, at least something that rasped her nerves.

It was 10 o'clock. Too early to go to bed, but what else was there to do? Go to bed, go to sleep, wake up the next morning, and wonder what it was that had been bothering her the night before. That was the system!

A system, however, that did not work. Lying there in the dark, closing her eyes, telling herself to go to sleep, made her only all the more wakeful. She stirred restlessly, turned this way and that. Hours went on, hours and hours—or were they merely minutes. What had happened to Georgie? Where was she? Why wasn't she home by this time?

Ann got out of bed, turned on the light, hunted for her watch. Before her fingers had closed on it, there was a creak on the stairway, and the door was flung open.

Georgie, her eyes very bright, her cheeks glowing, her smile radiant and charming. Georgie having the best time in all the world, and knowing it!

And yet Ann had seen her come in like this so often. There was no particular change in her spirit this evening, nothing to indicate that she had engaged herself to Bill.

How clever she was at concealin things, Ann thought. Georgie was what people called a born actress. But when was she going to admit the truth?

Not a word from Georgie except a rattle of talk about places and people, about things that had made her giggle, where she had been, what she had seen, done, said. What Bill had said.

But not the important thing that Bill had said. Unless—unless Bill had lost his nerve, had hugged the poor little ring in his pocket, and not dared to risk everything on a single toss!

Georgie was pulling off her things, chattering away. She was whispering of course, out of deference to Mrs. Leary's none too soundproof walls.

"And then, Ann, then we went on to Hollis Park, and Bill said to me . . ."

But what he said was inconsequential.

The next minute the lights were out, and Georgie slipped into bed.

Ann struggled to keep very calm very rational.

"Tell me, Georgie, did Bill propose to you tonight?"

She hadn't meant to say it as bluntly as that. Not quite so bluntly.

She heard Georgie's stifled exclamation:

"Really, Ann. Does Bill tell you everything he's going to do—in advance?"

"He told me this, anyway."

"Well, he did. The music was so loud I could scarcely hear him. And I like proposals."

Ann turned. Her arm went around Georgie, protectively, warmly. "Tell me really, Georgie. I've a right to know, haven't I?"

A long silence, a deep silence, in the darkness of the dreary room of Mrs. Leary's boarding house.

Then Georgie said in a quiet voice:

"Yes, of course, he did. I knew he was going to for weeks, so you see I knew just what I wanted to say."

"What do you mean by that, Georgie?"

"I mean there's a lot of fun I can still have, a lot of things I can still do. It isn't as if Bill were a millionaire."

"You don't mean—oh, Georgie, you don't mean—you turned him down!"

"Of course I turned him down!"

There was a silence again in the darkness, a silence not easily to be defined. Then the depressions and the irritations flamed up in Ann, threw her reason into the wind, made of her another person.

"I think you don't know what

Balkan Dogs Only Barking, Says Will Rogers

WILL ROGERS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 28.—The Balkan nations have gone into a huddle. It looks like Bulgaria's ball on Rumania's 10-yard line. Poland was penalized 10 yards for an off-side against Lithuania. Mussolini is the triple-threat man of the game. It will all wind up like the last one, just another incompleted war. They will have to bring it back and line up again.

HIGH COURT AFFIRMS RULING

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The Pittsburgh municipal authorities were upheld by the Supreme Court today in their action in ordering the removal of an advertising sign 300 feet long and 30 feet high in conformity with the zoning ordinance.

Dudley S. Liggett, owner of the real estate on which the sign was erected, and the Alpha Sign Company appealed to higher court from Common Pleas Court of Allegheny county in an effort to overcome the decision of the Board of Appeals under the Pittsburgh zoning ordinance. The appellants were properly authorized to erect the sign board, but with the "distinct understanding" that the permit was for the period of one year. At the expiration of the permit the sign was ordered removed.

Court proceedings followed. The lower court found that the billboard was in a residential district and that the zoning ordinance had been properly applied by the city officials. This ruling the Supreme Court in an opinion by Chief Justice Moschzisker affirmed.

Other decisions follow:

Per curiam:

Goodrich Rubber Company, appellant vs. Motor Tire Corporation, Allegheny county, order affirmed.

Steiner et al., appellants vs. Greater Sharon Realty Company, Allegheny county. Order affirmed.

McAteer, appellant vs. Highland Coffee Company, Allegheny county. Order affirmed.

Schomaker, appellant vs. Haver, Allegheny county. Order affirmed.

By Chief Justice Von Moschzisker:

Smith's petition—declaratory judgment—Bennett et al., appellant, Allegheny county. Judgment affirmed at cost of appellants.

Vitro Mfg. Company, appellants vs. Standard Chemical Company, Allegheny county, judgment affirmed.

Loew's estate—Loew's appellants, Allegheny county. Order affirmed at cost of appellant.

Thompson's adoption—Heasley et al., appellants, Allegheny county. Decree reversed and record remitted to court below with a procedendo.

Appeal of Dudley S. Liggett et al., Allegheny county, zoning ordinance. Order affirmed at cost of appellants, Kephart dissents.

By Justice Fraser:

Commonwealth ex rel. vs. Elliotte, appellant, Allegheny county. Judgment affirmed at appellant's costs.

Frochly vs. Harton Co. et al. vs. Mass Bonding Company, appellant, Allegheny county. Judgment affirmed at appellant's costs.

In re appeal from decision of the Board of Appeals in refusing to issue a permit to J. Clyde Gilfillan, etc., New Castle, appellants, Lawrence county. Judgment affirmed at appellant's costs.

By Justice Walling:

Folger, appellant, vs. Pittsburgh Railways Company, Allegheny county. Judgment affirmed.

Petrie vs. Kaufman, etc., Allegheny county. Judgment affirmed.

LOEB TESTS MAY SAVE RUTH

By International News Service.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—An attempt to save Ruth Snyder from the electric chair by the application of psychiatry, such as featured the defense in the famous Leopold-Loeb case, was said to be the aim of Dr. Clarence A. Neymann, noted Chicago alienist, who today is speeding toward New York.

Dr. Neyman conducted elaborate tests on the two slayers of Bobby Franks and it is believed his testimony had no small part in saving the youths from the gallows.

The Snyder defense, it was reported here, will attempt to establish through Dr. Neyman that Mrs. Snyder and Judd Gray comprise a supreme case of "folie a deux"—insanity of two. It is said to be the rarest combination known to psychiatric science.

RODGERS SENT BACK TO CELL

Michael (Mickey) Rodgers, 30, of 172 St. Patrick street, former pugilist, on parole from Western Penitentiary, was marched back to prison yesterday when he was held in South Side Police Court on a charge of slugging and robbing John Anselle, 60, of 2205 Brownsville road. He was paroled from a seven-year term for beating a woman and breaking into a Brookline dwelling while impersonating a prohibition agent. He has 20 months to serve.

KLAN GETS TIME TO ANSWER COUNTERSUIT

Federal Judge W. H. S. Thomson has granted Attorney M. J. Hosack, counsel for the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, an extension of 10 days in which to file answer to a countersuit brought against the Klan by the Rev. John F. Strayer, Dr. Charles S. Hunter, Dr. Charles F. Oyer and Attorney Van A. Barrickman. The countersuit charges the Klan with promoting riots and other depredations.

Attorney Barrickman, representing the plaintiffs in the countersuit, objected to the extension, and requested the court set the case down for final hearing, but the court ruled the pleadings would not be complete for a final hearing until the Klan should have filed answer to the charges brought against it.

Jimmy McCormick Calls Ann, Who, Slightly Dazed, Hangs Up on Him

you're doing!" And her voice had anger in it, and worse still, contempt.

CHAPTER V.

GEORGIE resented Ann's tone. In the darkness Ann could feel the subtle sense of hostility, of conflict, that she had aroused.

And suddenly Georgie, with her directness, brought things to a head. She sat up in bed, swept the hair clear of her forehead, and said passionately and angrily:

"Oh, you're always trying to run my life. I've known—for months and months—that you've wanted me to marry Bill Warren. He's all right—of course, he is. But I'm young. I can have a lot of fun yet, and when I marry Bill Warren, or any other man, I want to be sure I've had all the fun I can. I can't have it afterwards, can I?"

Ann was telling herself to be calm, not to be a fool. But she was trembling, her heart was thumping. She was angry at someone or something—impossible to say whom.

"Fun's all right—why shouldn't you have fun—why shouldn't anyone have fun. But if fun really interferes with what's important, then fun's all wrong. Listen to me, Georgie, don't take even the slightest chance of losing Bill—really don't! Oh, Georgie, darling, you don't know how wonderful he really is!"

She hadn't meant to say exactly that. Perhaps it was excitement. Just a loss of self-control. After all, she was only trying to persuade Georgie. In imagination she saw the scene, Bill's proffer, mingling the most unabashed boldness with the most pitiable timidity, Bill stammering, turning scarlet, growing pale; Georgie self-possessed, indifferent, flippant.

A long silence had fallen, a silence of emotion. It was dark, pitch dark, and Georgie was breathing so that in the silence even that could be heard.

"Georgie, darling, please! I want you to be happy! You'll be happy if you take Bill—as happy as anyone anyway. I know that, I know that!"

"What right have you to advise me?"

Georgie's voice was harsh now, full of sharp undertones, a little electric.

"Because I really do love you, and because I feel—"

"You feel!" Georgie was openly scornful now. "Do you think you're me? Well, you aren't. I'm not going to be bossed around, pushed into a marriage I don't want. I tell you that right now. And you're not going to boss me. I'm sick and tired of you. If you want me to hate you, just keep on. I almost—I almost hate you already!"

Ann turned away, a sudden ache in her very heart, a feeling of utter desolation.

She no longer even had the solace of her own conviction. What right had she, after all, to interfere with Georgie's private existence. What right had she to lecture, to scold? She hadn't made such an astounding success of things herself!

She reached a hand over timidly to touch Georgie's cheek, remorse coming to her now too late. But Georgie drew herself obstinately away. She was dreadfully silent, almost as if she were stifling her sobs and her breath at the same instant.

Ann's heart misgave her. Not often in her life, seldom even, that she could count them on the fingers of one hand, had she quarreled with Georgie. And never had she quarreled quite so bitterly as this.

Georgie was lost to her, Georgie had broken free, and asserted her independence. At the thought, Ann was troubled, felt mournful. And yet—somehow there was a sense of peace confusedly mixed with that, a sense of actual relief.

Where did it come from, what had caused it? She was too worn out to inquire of her own mind and soul. Only she knew that now she was no longer nervous. She could sleep. Presently the two sisters were lost in their dreams.

Morning came, and Ann was up as always before Georgie had given her first yawn of protest. Up and off, remembering the evening as she might have remembered an actual dream.

She caught the Ashton avenue trolley and transferred at Main and Blenton, as usual, but she felt less certain of herself. No time to arrange things with Georgie, no time to settle the quarrel that had been anything except trivial.

But her thought circled around it during the long day, and again and again she strove to find the answer. Her dying mother had charged her with Georgie's care. She had tried to follow out to the letter that last desperate request. But now Georgie, young and charming Georgie, had broken away.

What was she to do? Whom could she turn to? No real relatives—a cousin here and there whose knowledge of her and Georgie was limited to the facts that she and Georgie existed. There was no one to tell her, no one to offer a word of advice in the problem that had suddenly confronted her.

Georgie, attractive to at least half the men she met, Georgie reckless of anything, impatient of counsel, determined upon her own way! And Ann, trying hard to hold her firm, to keep her from some blunder that might turn her prettiness into a familiar disaster, into an empty and desperate outcome.

She did her work faithfully, glad of the chance to be able to forget her own troubles in the minor troubles of her employers. But when five o'clock had come, she was still thinking of Georgie—of Georgie who had dismissed Bill for the sake of "fun."

Getting on the Main and Blenton street car, she found a seat. Looking up, she saw Jimmy McCormick's broad, reassuring smile. He had held back the others somehow until she herself was seated.

She was grateful for that. She remembered how she had felt about his calling her last night, and was sorry. After all, just because Jimmy hadn't the dash of—of someone like Bill—there was no reason for disliking him, disregarding him!

She smiled at him as he got off, and she was left alone to her thoughts and her newspaper. Her newspaper! For turning to a page she had often read, for the first time she thought earnestly of its purpose. Advice! Advice to those confronted with the problems and tangled intensities of love—with the problems of life itself!

She read the letters and the answers. Other people besides herself were perplexed and troubled. Other people had their own problems. They had written for counsel and received it. Why shouldn't she?

When she reached Mrs. Leary's, there was no smart roadster at the door. Georgette had not even arrived yet.

She went up to her room. Almost an hour before dinner, three-quarters of an hour anyway. How could she tell everything in a few simple lines. She tried, and tore up the result. She tried again, and tore up that one. Then at last, she found the words that seemed to say everything; the words that expressed something of her unconscious longing.

Georgie must marry Bill—that was the only thing that she should do. But how could Ann hope to open her eyes, hope to make her realize, as she herself did? Something of this was in the short letter she finally wrote to the Advice to the Lovelorn Column.

The next day passed, and the day that followed it, Georgie still was cold to her. Ann was worrying now, because she was even uncertain of herself. And when she had almost forgotten the impulse that had led her to write for advice, the answer came.

Ann held the paper between her fingers, thinking, and thinking hard, then she read it.

ANN'S FIRST LETTER

Below is my answer to Ann's first letter to me setting forth her anxiety about Georgie and asking my advice.

"Dear child: You have my sympathy in your great anxiety about your sister—but remember, no one can force love. Don't lose her confidence. The moment may come when she will turn to you for help. In the meantime, let me hear from you again. — Beatrice Fairfax."

CHAPTER VI.

THE letter encouraged Ann. She found comfort in its prediction — some day Georgie would turn to her. Meanwhile it was foolish, useless, to try to force love.

Of course Georgie ought to adore Bill and marry him, but then she couldn't be expected to do so overnight. Give her time, let her see a little more of life and living, and she would come to her senses.

Robert Savarin and Harry Underwood Dragged Out of the Dim Past

THERE was something so whimsical as well as childishly vindictive in Mr. Veritzen's reference to "that archaic artist, Robert Savarin," that my dismay at the task which he asked of me vanished in the mirth which his speech brought forth. I laughed outright, and with an odd, startled glance at me, he joined in my merriment.

"I suppose I am absurd as well as alliterative," he said with a little grimace. "But I must confess to a distinct prejudice against that man, Savarin. Don't misunderstand me. I yield to no one in my admiration of his genius. He probably is the most outstanding landscape artist of the country today. And he is a most likable chap, I understand. But he certainly isn't my idea of a life companion for my old friend, Lilian Underwood. Imagine an exemplification of modern feminism united to a masculine early Victorian—I am sure he goes back that far at least in his ideas. About two years ago, however, I was sorrowfully certain that such a joining of divergent personalities was imminent. Then Savarin suddenly departed for Europe, and I breathed more freely. I've been hoping ever since that the affair was definitely off. I suppose it is distinctly forbidden to ask you if my hope is justified."

"Your supposition is eminently correct," I told him, trying to soften the note of decision in my voice with a smile. I certainly was sailing between Scylla and Charybdis, I said to myself grimly in trying to keep faith with Lillian without offending my temperamental employer. But not for anything in the world would I speak to anyone of anything so vitally personal to my friend as her friendship with Robert Savarin.

"Forgive me!" he said with courteous contrition. "It is a question I should not have asked. But here we are in Mrs. Underwood's street, and you have not given me your decision as to telling her about the manuscript I have received which I am sure is from her husband."

"I will tell her that," I promised him promptly, glad that the other embarrassing question had been so definitely shelved. "And may I ask you that, if you receive further news concerning Mr. Underwood—"

"I shall let you know it at once," he said. Then his eyes grew quizzical.

"I don't think I am doing the right thing," he said. "As I remember him, Harry Underwood was a most fascinating devil. Perhaps I may regret having raised intriguing speculation in your mind concerning him."

His smile pointed the audacity of his words. I was thankful indeed that the car had come to a stop, and that I was able to evade an answer by an exclamation at the sight of Lillian standing upon the section of the third floor balcony which ran in front of her room. Those old-fashioned balconies running across each story of the hotel were, I knew, its chief attraction for Lillian.

"There is Mrs. Underwood now," I exclaimed, rising from the car seat. Mr. Veritzen at once helped me to alight, and his hand held my arm possessively for an instant before he released me.

"Do you know how deliciously provocative you are?" he murmured in so low a tone that I was sure even the attentive Otto could not hear him.

I was furious at the flush that came into my cheeks at his words, but thankful that he did not see it. In answer to my wave of the hand Lillian was signaling us, and Mr. Veritzen was saluting her exaggeratedly with uplifted stick. By the time our greetings were exchanged, and Lillian had beckoned us upstairs, I had regained my composure. But even more fervently than when Philip Veritzen's proposal for a day in the country was first made to me, did I thank my particular little joss that Lillian was to be a third member of our group.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, November 29.

The unlucky have but hours and those they lose.—DRYDEN.

A GENERALLY propitious stellar influence is noted in this day's astrological chart. It is a time for enterprise and constructive work and for dealing with those in high places, who will be disposed to be friendly and of service. Push for advancement and for favors, with employers and superiors. Advantageous openings may call for change, but do not act hastily or with undue extravagance or expenditures.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of many propitious situations, with openings for advancement and increased fortunes. It is a time for grasping opportunities and seeking friendly aid from those in high position. But be not over extravagant in any outlay. A child born on this day should be very well equipped for success in many directions. It may also gain position by the favoritism of important and powerful persons.

Notable Nativity: Rod La Roque, movie star.

DRIVER ADMITS LYDON DEATH GUILT

Sequel to the wild auto ride in Wilkinsburg August 9, which cost the life of Martin Lydon, 48, 1465 Nixon street, came today in Criminal Court when Raymond Rahn, 29, driver of the car, pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter.

Mrs. Lydon, mother of 11, was present to hear Rahn admit to Judge William T. Darr, of Jefferson county, that he had been too drunk to know what occurred. Lydon was struck as he was repairing tracks at Penn and Center avenues Wilkinsburg.

Police testified that a woman was heard to cry "Step on the gas", after Rahn's car hit Lydon and another workman. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gorman, of the same apartments as Rahn, 127 South Fairmount avenue, also were in the car.

M'CASKEY SONS APPEAL WILL

W. Rhodes McCaskey and John A. McCaskey, sons of John G. McCaskey, wealthy oil man, whose will was upheld by an Orphans Court decision Saturday, have appealed to the Supreme Court. McCaskey left $2,500,000 to be distributed to the children at 10-year intervals, with one-fourth to remain in trust for their benefit.

The sons claim this action makes the trust a perpetuity and therefore illegal. Judges J. J. Miller and H. Walton Mitchell dismissed the objections, but Judge Thomas P. Trimble wrote a dissenting opinion.

HIS SHRINER'S PIN COSTLY

A Shriner's pin proved a costly ornament to Harry Weaver, 32, 5599 Baum boulevard. He was held for court today in Morals court, on charges of false pretense and perjury because of statements previously made to Magistrate A. D. Brandon that he possessed the pin as a member of Lulu Temple, Philadelphia, in addition to a charge of keeping a disorderly house, resulting from a raid last week.

Magistrate Brandon said he had investigated Weaver's claim to the pin and found it false.

ORDERED TO PAY POPES BACK

Found guilty of fraudulent conversion by a jury in Criminal Court today, Andrew Lucas, broker, 2357 Brownsville road, was paroled to restore $14,000 to the plaintiff, August Pope, Gibsonia, Pa., former well-known hotel proprietor of Pittsburgh.

Pope and his two daughters, Betty and Freda Pope, cabaret proprietors, testified that Lucas had failed to return $18,000 in stocks and cash turned over to him in 1923.

"OSTRACIZED" WIFE WINS DIVORCE SUIT

Pretty Anna R. Wampler, 21, of 529 Hill avenue, Wilkinsburg, has been granted a divorce from her wealthy husband, John E. Wampler, Irwin business man. Judge John A. Evans, who heard the case in which the young wife declared her husband and his family "ostracized" her, granted the decree.

TWO ROBBERS BEAT MAN INTO UNCONSCIOUSNESS

Charles Hart, 38, of 6956 Upland street, was robbed and beaten by two men near his home at 10 o'clock last night. Two hours later he was found unconscious by a neighbor and taken home. He reported $15 was obtained by the robbers.

FINE FOR CHILDREN!

Give them a good start in life, with happy smiles and healthy little bodies. Children need a mild corrective occasionally to regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a safe vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They tone up and regulate the eliminative tract. Not a nasty cathartic or a habit-forming medicine, but a safe, pleasant remedy for constipation, sour stomach, torpid liver, bad breath, and similar disorders. Dr. Edwards, a widely known family physician of Ohio, prescribed these tablets for many years in his own practice. Children from six years up are greatly helped by them and like to take them. Recognized by their olive color. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets overcome those irritable spells that many children are subject to, keep their bodies in active healthy condition, skin clear and eyes bright with the light of perfect health. 15c, 30c and 60c sizes.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Mrs. W. Harry Brown Reopens Fifth Avenue Home

PITTSBURGH this winter will enjoy the presence of one of its former prominent matrons and the opening of one of the large Fifth avenue homes, which was the scene of many parties during the years preceding the marriage of her children.

Mrs. W. Harry Brown, who, since the death of Mr. Brown, has spent her winters either in Washington or in London, has opened her house at Fifth and Murrayhill avenues.

Among the events Mrs. Brown plans for this winter is an evening reception she will give in her home Tuesday night. The event will really celebrate her homecoming and give her an opportunity to greet old friends. The European "reception" has a more formal sound than our own ball or dance, but is practically the same form of entertainment.

Mrs. Brown returns to a family and social group but little changed since she spent her earlier seasons here. Her contacts with Pittsburgh folk, too, have been almost continuous, for many of them visited her in London and Washington. Then she has returned to the city for brief visits.

Her daughter, Mrs. Charles Albert Painter, Jr., who formerly resided in Morewood avenue, and Mr. Painter, purchased recently the former Frank J. Kier home on Bennington avenue, which they are now occupying. The Kiers are living in their new home on Beechwood boulevard, built several years ago by the George Mestas, who, however, never resided in the home.

Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. Edward Heaton Brainard, lives at Wilkins avenue and Woodland road.

ATTENDED SERVICE GAME

Miss Mildred M. Anderson, of Latrobe, whose engagement to Lieut. Harry Draper Hoffman was just announced, attended the Army-Navy game Saturday in New York.

MISS MILDRED MORRISON ANDERSON

Mrs. Brown expects to give a ball on December 15, I hear, for her debutante niece, Margaret Brainard.

Mrs. Brown's son, William Harry Brown, Jr., who is abroad at present, will spend the greater part of the winter with her in the city.

A ball the married set is now anticipating is the first of the Friday night dinner dances to be held in the Pittsburgh Club. The committee, which includes George M. Laughlin, Jr., William Christopher Robinson, William Penn Snyder, Jr., and McCleane Brown, will be assisted by a group of women. Among them are Mrs. William Christopher Robinson, Mrs. W. [illegible] Frew, Mrs. R. V. Messler, Mrs. B. F. Jones, Jr., Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mrs. McCleane Brown, Mrs. Henry Chalfant, Mrs. J. Frederick Byers, Mrs. Frederick G. Kay, Mrs. Harmar D. Denny, Mrs. W. P. Snyder, Jr., Mrs. W. J. Holland, Mrs. R. B. Mellon, Mrs. W. P. Snyder and Mrs. C. F. Holdship.

After an Eastern trip Mr. and Mrs. Flynn will be at home in Schenley Heights.

The engagement of Miss Alva Mildred Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederick Jones, of Roup street, to Robert William Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Thomas, of Glenshaw, was announced Saturday afternoon at a bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Jones in the Garden tearoom. Five tables were in play. Miss Jones is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and the Carnegie Library School, and Mr. Thomas is also a Pitt graduate. A fall wedding is planned.

Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther L. Knox, in Bellevue, the marriage of their daughter, Miss Katherine Loucine Knox, and Warner Force Parker, of Los Angeles, was solemnized by the Rev. Frank Helme. The bride was gowned in white velvet with a tulle veil secured with a cap of Duchesse lace and orange blossoms, and she carried orchids and white roses showered with lilies of the valley. Chiffon frocks with silver girdles were worn by the attendants, Miss Mary Marshall, the maid of honor, appearing in pink and carrying Columbia roses and pompoms; Mrs. Gilbert T. Heddaeus, her sister's matron of honor, in orchid; Mrs. H. E. Vickerman, of Los Angeles, in peach, and Miss Margaret Hoyt Kistler, in blue. The latter three girls carried fall flowers. Jane Arnold was flower girl, wearing white chiffon and carrying a basket of roses. Mr. Heddaeus was best man and the ushers included William D. Scull, Robert L. Murphy and Edward T. Kerr. A dinner and reception followed the ceremony, with covers laid for 24 at the bridal table, which was decorated with pompoms, roses and snapdragon. Mr. and Mrs. Parker have left for a motor trip in the East, and after December 15 will be at home in Los Angeles.

The Secret

The real secret of the surprising goodness of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans is that they really are baked in ovens, and like the best home-baked beans, are nut-brown, mealy and digestible, with a flavor that brings the plates back for more.

Beans that aren't oven-baked can't be labelled "baked". For truly baked beans look for the Heinz label that says "Oven-Baked" · The taste is the test.

CALL THE MARINES!

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 28.—(Universal Service.)—The thirty-fourth game for the world's chess title was adjourned last night after the fortieth move by blacks, played by Capablanca. Alekhine, the challenger, had seven pieces against the champion's six when play was suspended until tonight. Another victory will give Alekhine the title.

CHILLY SAUCE

By CHILLY DOYLE

ST. LOUIS fans, including Sid Keener, sports editor of the St. Louis Times, are worked up over the probability of the Giants acquiring Ki Cuyler. Keener devotes an interesting column to the various swapping angles that surround the Pittsburgh star. Here is an excerpt from his comment.

> On the desk of President Sam Breadon at Sportsman's Park are stacks of letters appealing to the Cardinals to block the proposed deal of the Giants to obtain Outfielder Hazen Cuyler.
> According to latest trade gossip the Giants are to get Cuyler, not from the Pirates, but from the Phillies. The three-cornered angle shows the Pirates drawing Infielder Frankie Thompson and Pitcher Ulrich for Cuyler, Infielder Rhyne and Catcher Smith.
> After these papers have been signed the Giants enter the case. They are to forward Third Baseman Freddie Lindstrom and Pitcher Virgil Barnes for Cuyler. Ouch.
> Excited home fans plead with Breadon to outbid the Giants' offer of Lindstrom and Barnes with Flint Rhem and Lester Bell.
> I can assure the fans Breadon is not asleep on the job in the negotiations for Cuyler but if the Giants are in the running all competitors practically are eliminated.
> I value Kiki Cuyler so highly that I believe he is the one to decide the 1928 National League pennant. Put him with the Cardinals and he gives Bill McKechnie just what is needed—another solid hitter. Place him with the Giants and McGraw's outfield worries come to an end.

KEENER advises the Redbird directors to bid high for the Michigan speedboy. Sid suggests they offer Pitcher Flint Rhem and Third Baseman Lester Bell for Hazen, and to go even further if necessary.

THE hint that Cuyler may go to New York with a stopover privilege in Philadelphia is a new slant to the case. Keener, however, makes note of the idea that if Dreyfuss and Bush did make a swap with the Quakers they would have a clause in the agreement whereby Cuyler could not be traded to the Giants.

WHILE Lester Bell is a good third-sacker and dangerous slugger it is hard to see where he could fit into the Pirate scheme. The Harrisburg boy is hardly a second-baseman, and another hot-corner tender in the Pirate family would be about as useful as the two good first-basemen are to the Reds.

CUYLER probably would end the outfield worries of McGraw—McKechnie's, too. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the Giants and Cardinals will be flag contenders, but each is shaky in the pasture. Taylor Douthit, Redbird centerfielder is a classy fly-chaser, who can field well and run the bases, but he does not have Cuyler's offensive. Nevertheless, Douthit is a fine prospect and if Donie Bush does enter into negotiations with St. Louis he might insist on landing the California collegian.

THE Cleveland Indians are all dressed up with nobody to take them where they'd like to go. Under home ownership for the first time in many years, the Indians are without a pilot. Art Fletcher, Eddie Collins and Bucky Harris have been prominently mentioned as successors to Jack McAllister, but President Bradley has given no intimation as to the identity of the next boss of the Tribe.

HARRIS, according to reports, is not pleased over the receptions he receives in Washington. Bucky was a hero with the bleacherites as he grabbed off two pennants for the Senators. The boys in the peanut seats, it seems, turned on Bucky after he married into Washington society, the story being that they accused the erstwhile breaker-boy of wearing the well-known "high-hat." All of which may be an injustice to Harris, but once the bleacherites get the idea that one has donned a tall topper, they are sure to let loose with a verbal barrage.

FILIPINO VS. CANZONERI

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(INS.)—Ignacio Fernandez, Filipino fighter, who boasts a knockout over Abe Goldstein, former world's bantamweight champion, has been matched for a 10-round bout here Thursday night with Tony Canzoneri, claimant of the world's featherweight title. Bud Taylor, who was to have opposed Canzoneri, suffered a fractured right hand and was replaced by Fernandez.

Scholarships Used as Bait

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The Washington Herald yesterday printed the following story:

A scheme organized on a nation-wide plan for the purpose of enlisting every star high school football player at $2 each for registration on a "selected list" to be sent to colleges desiring athletes has been uncovered by the Herald.

Postoffice inspectors are endeavoring to ascertain the scope of the "College Athletic Bureau," with national headquarters in Washington, the amount of money collected from registrations through alleged misuse of the mails, and the list of "contributors."

At the same time the National College Athletic Association has begun an individual investigation of the "bureau." Letters sent out by the "bureau" point out that "Athletic scholarships are freely offered for many teams, other financial assistance is given to football men."

Investigation by the postal authorities involves Charles C. Wolz and Earl Kirchner, both of this city.

Young Wolz late last night denied to the Washington Herald participation in the scheme or any knowledge of the "bureau." But earlier he had made a statement to officials in Philadelphia, they said, acknowledging a major part in the scheme, and naming Kirchner as his partner. Kirchner tonight admitted his connection with the "bureau" and told of the short and unsuccessful life of the enterprise.

A glowing letter of praise to prospective registrants accompanied a printed questionnaire to be returned with the $2 fee.

One of these letters was received by Charles R. Soder, captain of the Friends' School team of Philadelphia. He turned it over to his principal and it later reached Dr. Roy Mercer, former All-America football player, now director of athletics at Swarthmore.

Mercer presented the letter to the committee of five in charge of football affairs for the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Frank Barclay, chief of the postoffice inspectors of this district, last night said that if there was any victimizing of high school boys through the use of the mails, it would be stopped at once and those behind the scheme prosecuted to the full limit of the law.

"Of course, our own investigation is just getting under way," Barclay added, "and we have no way of telling, at this time, just where it will lead, and how far."

The business of the "College Athletic Bureau" is understood to have been carried on from the home of Wolz, whose name and address appeared on the letters as those of "Director, College Athletic Bureau, Eastern Division."

Kircher last night first said that the organization had only been "contemplated." "Only a hundred or so" of these form letters had been sent out, he said, "and only six responses had been received."

He hastened to add that in each case the "fee" had been returned to the sender. He said that Wolz and himself had "taken the matter up with the postal authorities early, but they refused to comment."

PLANS SPECIAL RACE TRAIN

TIA JUANA, Mexico, Nov. 28.—Six thousand miles to see a horse race that will last a fraction over 120 seconds; 50 miles for each second.

That has crossing the continent or the ocean to see a championship fight beat all hollow.

Yet that's what will come to pass if the plans work out that Billy Gibson, manager of Gene Tunney, outlined to Jim Coffroth.

Gibson proposes to run a "Coffroth Handicap Special" from the city that Father Knickerbocker, Tex Rickard and Texas Guinan have made famous, right slam-bang to the gates of the picturesque little race course across the border.

Gibson, who has chaperoned many a championship "fight special" has elaborate plans to bring a big party of sportsmen out to the Golden West to see the running of the richest race in the world, the $100,000 Coffroth Handicap.

The champion's manager proposes to have guests from nearby cities like Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington come to New York and board the train there. From Gotham it will go to Chicago, picking up passengers at Buffalo and Cleveland. Those from Pittsburgh and Detroit will join the train at Chicago. The trip from the Windy City will be made over the Santa Fe and it is planned to make this in the fastest time ever hung up between Chicago and the Pacific Coast.

The Gibson "Cofforth Handicap Special" will be unique and set a precedent because of the fact that accommodations on the train will be available by invitation only. Gibson has already mapped out his program along these lines and will work in conjunction with the leading clubs in New York and other "key" cities.

After the running of the Cofforth Handicap, Gibson proposes to split the train in two sections. One section will be rushed back East for the accommodations of those who are pressed for time. The passengers who elect to return on the second section will first be given a 10-day tour of California and Lower California. This tour will be placed in the hands of the most experienced people, in this line, in the business.

Helffrich to Quit Track

By LEWIS BURTON.
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Simultaneous with the announcement that Alan Helffrich's world's indoor record of 1:54 for a half-mile had been accepted by the A. A. U., came the announcement from Helffrich himself that he does not expect to run again. Helffrich "just can't find the time to train," and he will quit competition, not so much because he is fed up on racing, as because of his inability to spare the time for it.

The withdrawal of Helffrich from foot-racing is as bad a shock to the track meet promoters as it is to America's chances in the 800-meter event at the Olympics. Helffrich, when in condition, is well-nigh invincible. He was the only American to outspeed Paavo Nurmi when the Finn visited this country in 1925.

On that occasion Helffrich was in condition, which prompted Lawson Robertson, the Olympic coach, and Nate Cartmell, who developed Helffrich at Penn State, to say that they believed only a big bite into the world's record would cause his downfall. Helffrich ran a comparatively slow half mile to win from Nurmi, but it will live as his greatest race.

The contest came as the culmination of a remarkable campaign by Helffrich, which would have been the subject of many more columns of space if it had not conflicted with Nurmi's invasion. Helffrich was proving himself invincible at distances from 400 meters to a half mile, and Nurmi's eyes began to open up.

The Finnish distance runner saw Helffrich at the peak of his career the night of the K. of C. games on March 17, in the old Madison Square Garden, and afterward he expressed a desire to meet the Penn State flier before leaving these shores.

Helffrich set up a world's record for 600 yards that night, covering the distance in 1:13 3-5, yards ahead of Cecil Cooke, who was runner-up. The distance is probably the best for which Helffrich is suited. He has won the "Millrose 600" four times, and would be the favorite again if he were to run this winter.

CLEVER BOXERS SET FOR BOUT THURSDAY

One of the bouts on the program of the benefit boxing show at the Penn Armory, Penn and Station streets, East End, on Thursday evening, will bring together A. Andrucci, of the Willow Club, and Tom Harris, of St. John's Lyceum.

This show is being staged for the benefit of the Homewood club, of the Allegheny County baseball league, and the program will consist of seven bouts, all between topnotch amateur ringsters.

Andrucci and Harris are both well known to followers of the sport in this section. They have taken part in numerous battles, and always given a good account of themselves. They have assured the promoters of the show that they will be in fine physical trim when they enter the ring.

The other six bouts on the program bring together lads who have been paired off with a view to providing a maximum of action for the fans.

TUBBY SPEARS DENIES HE'LL QUIT MINNESOTA

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Dr. C. W. Spears, coach of the Minnesota football team, will be back with the Gophers next year despite all rumors to the contrary, he made known today before returning to Minneapolis after attending the Notre Dame-Southern California game here yesterday.

It was reported that Coach Spears might resign at Minnesota to go back to West Virginia, where he coached before taking over football for the Gophers.

"There is nothing to the rumor," Coach Spears said. "I will be back at Minnesota next year."

SOCCER

by TOM BIRKS

THE inclement weather served for the fans Sunday practically put all the games in the district out of commission, most of the referees using a little common sense and calling off the games.

Nothing important was on the schedule and the league games up for disposal can easily wait one more week.

The regular monthly meeting of the West Penn Referees' Association was held Saturday with one of the largest aggregation of members on hand.

The piece de resistance on the program was the Sherard case, which now is becoming famous in soccer circles from coast to coast. The popular official was given a clean bill of health by the members, and this will be conveyed to the cup committee of the West Penn Football Association in due course.

Gossip states that the cup committee of the governing body is becoming flooded with protests. This could have been avoided in the early part of the season by annexing some of that $10 fee and throwing out the protests, which in the main part were of the flimsiest nature.

Some of the clubs should be sports and win the games on the field and not in the council chamber.

On Sunday that Heidelberg wrecking machine again got in its deadly work and piles up 20 goals against the McKees Rocks outfit. Just whether this is a good policy or not against a weak club is a matter of doubt. Johnny McCosky kicked in with five, Grilli, playing outside left, netted four. Even Joe Fagan scored from the fullback position. The Donnelli brothers accounted for seven between them.

The West Penn cup tie replays will dominate the soccer situation next Saturday and Sunday. The best game stacking up apparently is the Rovers-Swissvale game. This will be the fourth meeting of these rivals this season, and all games have been close.

Donora defeated Monongahela City by a 5 goals to 0 score at Donora Sunday. Adams led the shooting, finding the net twice, with Sedar well beaten on both occasions.

In the Chartiers Valley League Cuddy annexed two points by stopping Primrose by a 2 goals to 1 score at Cuddy. The field was a hopeless mess. Prosini and Taylor scored the goals for the winners and Strimmel netting the goal for Primrose.

DETROIT SIX WIN OVER CANADIENS, 2-0

DETROIT, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The Detroit Cougars, playing without the services of Duke Keats, star center, who was withheld from the game pending action in regard to his alleged attack on a spectator in a game at Chicago last night, defeated Les Canadiens of Montreal, 2 to 0, in a National League hockey game here last night.

PITT STARS' RANKING HIGH

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—After placing among the leading Eastern football scorers for two years, but not quite reaching the top, Myles Lane of Melrose, Mass., Dartmouth halfback, has at last attained the coveted goal in his senior year.

With the end of the football season, Lane yesterday was acclaimed the king of Eastern scoring backs with his total of 125 points gained in seven games. The only team to hold him scoreless was Yale. Lane finished with a long lead over his nearest rival, Bobby Nork of Georgetown, 98 points. Capt. Jack Connors of New York University beat out Capt. Johnny Roepke of Penn State for third place with 94 points to his 89.

Gibby Welch, Pittsburgh's captain and leading contender for all-America halfback honors, finished with 66 points, scored with 11 touchdowns. Dick Booth, his fullback teammate, scored 81 points, tallying 10 touchdowns, booting one field goal and kicking 18 placement goals after touchdown points.

Lane's scoring record stands as one of the best in recent years. Wilson of Lafayette, who finished far down the list this season, won last year with 120 points, and Eddie Tryon of Colgate the year before with 111. Both years Lane was a leading contender, finishing fourth last season with 81 and second the year before with 102.

The lanky Dartmouth senior this year also wins the honor of scoring the most touchdowns with his total of 18.

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

LOOKING back over the list of football teams that went to Pitt Stadium this season in a vain endeavor to mar the Panthers' unbeaten record and to interrupt the Blue and Gold's march to the Eastern championship, recollections of the best work done by invading gridders from week to week show that few equaled the standard of Pitt's play even in an individual sense.

In fact the superiority of the Panthers was so marked that not many except Pitt players would make an "All-Stadium" eleven for the 1927 season. Presnell, the Nebraska halfback, and Douds, the W. & J. tackle, would be among the few having even a chance to win places in such a string of selections.

HERE are the visitors who distinguished themselves in games at the local stadium during the season just ended:

Ends—Not a man on the eight visiting teams displayed anything like the skill of Donchess and Guarino of Pitt.

Tackles—Douds of W. & J., the equal of any lineman in the district this season; Bliston of Thiel, Cooper of Carnegie Tech, Malcolm of W. & J. and Pannaccion and Greenshields of Penn State.

Guards—Cowan of Carnegie Tech, Gallagher of W. & J. and Holm of Nebraska.

Centers—Aschman of W. & J. was the only one comparable to the Pitt star, Andy Cutler, though the Allegheny captain, Dave Behrhorst, had no chance to play his usual fine game because of injuries suffered a week earlier.

Backs—Presnell and Howell of Nebraska, Glenn of West Virginia, who showed great gallantry in the midst of a rout for his team; Heisel of W. & J., spunky little Smith of Irish Card U. S. C., Navy

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—Another thrilling intersectional football game between the University of Southern California and Notre Dame was promised today to the 117,000 Middle Western fans who watched Notre Dame beat the Trojans of the West, 7 to 6, Saturday at Soldier Field. The teams have signed another two-year home-and-home agreement, the 1928 game to be played at Los Angeles and the 1929 tussle somewhere in this region, perhaps at South Bend if Notre Dame's proposed new stadium is complete by that time.

Spectacular play and plain dogged football were shown the record-breaking crowd Saturday. Both teams scored in the first 10 minutes, on forward passes, but the aerial game thereafter was largely discarded for end runs and line smashes, which gained but a few yards, if any, against determined opposition.

MEETS NAVY AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The Navy, which played the Army at Soldier Field here last year, will be back in 1928, but with Notre Dame as the opposition. The game will be played October 13, Coach Rockne of Notre Dame announced.

The South Bend school will play both service elevens next year, Army already having been scheduled for a game in New York. The schedule has taken on an intersectional complexion through the arrangements for games also with Loyola of New Orleans, Georgia Tech and the University of Southern California.

College Leaders Clarify Rule On Blocking

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The rule on blocking, considered ambiguous by leading basketball officials and long the subject of controversy, probably will cause no further difficulty for referees of intercollegiate court games.

Clarification of the rule that stated merely that "blocking is impeding the progress of an opponent who has the ball" resulted yesterday at the annual fall meeting of the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League here.

The following interpretation of Rule 7, Section 12, was adopted:

"No blocking foul results unless personal contact is made with the following exception: If a player attains a position on the floor which results in cutting off an opponent and subsequently makes any movement or motion that impedes the progress of the opponent cut off, even though no personal contact with his opponent is effected thereby, it may be a block."

Speaking for the executive committee of the league, of which he is a member, Ellwood W. Kemp, Jr., of New York, declared the league adopted this interpretation in an effort to make the game more uniform. The game will be speeded up, he said, less fouls committed, and the play made more interesting to the spectator.

William M. Barber, of Yale, was re-elected president of the league. Mr. Kemp again was named secretary and treasurer.

MATCH WITH CHAMPION HANGS IN BALANCE

By HARRY KECK,
Sun-Telegraph Sports Editor.

IT seems that every time Young Saylor, nee Homer Gobert, of Charleroi, goes to the post these days he has a great deal at stake.

It will be remembered that at the fag end of last season there was some talk about matching him with Jack Zivic and he was put in against Tug Phillips in the last of a series of build-up bouts. Be blew up in the last two rounds of that battle and didn't look so impressive, although his big early lead assured him the decision. So the Zivic "shot" was out.

Then, early this season, he won several bouts and again there was talk of matching him with Zivic. They threw him in with Teddy Esterbrook, of Niles, O., first and Teddy had him pacing uncertainly in a couple of the rounds and the fans booed the decision in favor of Saylor. It looked as if the Zivic bout was off again, but the Motor Square Club took a chance and made the match, and Saylor came through with flying colors, beating the former local champion with plenty to spare.

Talk of a match with Joe Dundee, the welterweight champion, followed, and the bout was lined up for tonight, but Joe found he couldn't go through with it on this date and so the club signed Willie Harmon, of New York, a grand old veteran, who has done some of his best fighting here, to fill in for Dundee.

Now Saylor faces a crisis once

Carnegie's Grid Stars Speeding Home

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 28.—The gridiron tourists of Carnegie Tech, who held Oregon State to a 14-14 deadlock at Portland Saturday, left here yesterday on the return trip to Pittsburgh. The Tartans were in the best of condition mentally as well as physically, the tie with the giant westerners being regarded as something of a moral victory. The next stop of the Carnegie squad is to be Chicago, tomorrow evening. The Tartans are scheduled to arrive in Pittsburgh at 8:45 Wednesday morning.

Sprague to Lead Cadet Eleven In 1928

By Universal Service

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 28.—The ancient stage coach which has awaited Army elevens returning from the annual service game for 5 years was joyfully called into action yesterday to receive the victorious 1927 cadet eleven.

Twelve thousand pairs of willing hands grasped the long tow rope and dragged the rickety wooden affair creaking under its burden of husky football players, to the Academy parade grounds a mile from the station, where a big celebration took place.

Bud Sprague, of Dallas, Tex., was elected to captain the Army team next year.

WHEN the Panthers go to Los Angeles it is to be hoped that Jock Sutherland will be introduced to Mr. Hap O'Connor, unofficial guide of that great city, and a member of the unofficial committee of welcome. If Jock doubts that Mr. O'Connor does not know his Los Angeles let him write to any easterner who has made the rounds with Mr. O'Connor.

HAVEY BOYLE

From Hugo's French restaurant, where an 18 course lunch is served in boarding house fashion (large plates and deep dishes holding tons of food being passed around to the guests) to Beverly Hills, Hollywood, and all the rackets known to mankind, Mr. O'Connor guides with skill. Meanwhile, he keeps up a running fire of wise cracks which later crop out in various columns throughout the land.

WITH a nation looking on, a former pupil will meet his old-time professor when Sutherland's Panthers meet up with Pop Warner's Leland Stanford team. The setting is not new, of course, because Sutherland at Lafayette several times met Warner at Pitt, but these games did not attract the national notice that the coming contest will attract.

Sutherland knew no football to speak of until he came under the alert eye of Warner. As a guard, Sutherland learned easily, and after graduation he developed into what he is today—one of the outstanding coaches in a rich field.

That some day he might coach a team that would be selected by Warner himself as the favorite over a Warner team doubtless was very far from the scattered thoughts of the immature Sutherland when first he heard the celebrated Warner telling a Pitt team the rudiments of football.

The story is even a little richer in appeal when one remembers that there was a time during the Pitt-Lafayette feud, with Sutherland and

Gibby Welch Named On All-Eastern Team

THE fleet eleven of Dartmouth and the Yale Bulldogs that ruined Dartmouth's championship hope each furnished two men for the all-Eastern team for 1927, compiled by the Associated Press today from the consensus of 56 critics, sports writers and officials throughout the sector.

Pittsburgh's Panthers, chosen to represent the East in the Tournament or Roses clash with Leland Stanford and generally conceded an equal claim with Yale for the mythical eastern title, placed but one man on the first eleven in "Gibby" Welch, rival of Dartmouth's Al Marsters for recognition as the outstanding eastern back of the season.

Princeton, while unable to provide a star for the first eleven, furnished three men for the second team. Through second team selections, Yale and Dartmouth acquired three places and Pittsburgh two.

Pirates Invade N. Y.

THE Pirate hockey brig will leave tonight for New York where tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden, Shorty Green's Americans will be met.

Somewhat shaky, but full of confidence the local skaters hope to come out of their slump at the expense of the equally faltering Gotham sextet. The Bucs are none the worse off from their hectic battle with Toronto Saturday night. Every man, except Duke McCurry, is in fairly good condition and confident that the Americans will be the first club to feel their sting this season.

Manager Cleghorn had hoped to bolster his defense for tomorrow, but he is at a loss to understand what has happened with the two men he was negotiating for. The deal was practically closed Friday and one of the men was expected to be here for the Toronto game, but wires and long distance telephone calls have failed to reach the missing men. The Pirate boss still has hopes of having the players involved report to him for Thursday night's game here with Boston at Duquesne Garden.

Although the Bucs have lost their first four battles, they showed in defeat Saturday night that they are fast rounding into their regular form.

W. P. I. A. L. COMMITTEE TO MEET WEDNESDAY

THE five Western Pennsylvania high school gridiron teams clamouring for recognition as 1927 W. P. I. A. L. champions, will likely know their respective fates after the meeting of the W. P. I. A. L. rating committee, scheduled for the Fort Pitt Hotel Wednesday night.

The title is to be awarded this year on a scoring basis, and the old method of staging post season games to determine the champion has been done away with for the time being, at least. The Syracuse alumni chapter of Pittsburgh will award the championship cup as they have done in past years and will recognize the champion team as selected by the committee Wednesday.

At present, there are five teams in line for honors. They are Greensburg, Jeannette, New Castle, Clairton and Westinghouse. The latter just got in under the wire by playing their fifth W. P. I. A. L. game with Wilkinsburg Saturday, tying with the Holy City eleven in a game on a muddy and treacherous field.

Greensburg and Jeannette are considered to be possessors of the best records of any of the five. Each have come through the year with impressive victories and both have escaped defeat. Westinghouse has the tie with Wilkinsburg, defeated 20-0 by Greensburg, to mar its otherwise undefeated record.

Clairton, also with an unblemished mark, has not been opponents of the caliber of Greensburg or Jeannette or of the teams these two have played.

New Castle, with impressive victory over Washington, scored Thanksgiving, also has a fine mark for the year to lay before the committee Wednesday.

Dreyfuss Denies Bucs in Deal for Quincy

QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 28.—(UP.)—An offer of $8,620 made by the Pittsburgh Pirates through the Indianapolis American Association club for the Quincy Three-Eye League team franchise will be considered by directors of the Quincy club tomorrow night. Heretofore the Quincy magnates have held out for $10,000. Indianapolis representatives will attend the meeting.

Officials of the Pittsburgh club this morning denied they were negotiating for the acquisition of the Quincy team. "We have enough teams now to take care of without angling for any more," one of the officers of the Pirates said when informed of the report from the Illinois city.

Quincy, by the way, was managed this year by Charley Schmidt, former Detroit catcher and brother of Walter Schmidt, who worked under the bat for the Buccos. It is quite probable that the Quincy folks have another offer for the team and are using the Pittsburgh hint as a means to boost up the bid they have received.

PANTHER, CRACKER RECORDS BEST

By JESS CARVER.

THIS old die hard 1927 football campaign, which is to extend its talents and interest into 1928, has been a gruelling one, and out of the fire and smoke of battle five lone teams have emerged without defeat, and two of these may be listed among the fallen. The five, alone left out of a possible five score, have the only true claims to the mythical national title, which is never awarded and which, with a dime, will buy a doughnut and a cup of coffee any day. Here they are—and ranked in the order in which it seems they should be according to their records and accomplishments:

Georgia,
Pitt,
Illinois,
Minnesota,
Wash-Jeff.

Both Georgia and Pitt, the latter to carry the action into next year with a game in the Pasadena Rose Bowl with Stanford on January 2, have tough assignments ahead before they

New Trade Rumors Spiked

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

BILL M'KECHNIE, Cardinal manager, today threw cold water on a report out of Philadelphia featuring a probable deal involving Second Baseman Fresco Thompson of the Phils and Outfielder Hazen Cuyler of the Pirates.

The Quaker City item declared that President Baker of the Phils was about to close a deal with the Cardinals which would send Thompson to St. Louis in exchange for Third Baseman Lester Bell and First Baseman Jack Hurst. The Cards, in turn, would transfer Thompson and Pitcher Flint Rhem to the Pirates for Cuyler and Pitcher Emil Yde.

"Well, that's a nice deal for the Phillies," was McKechnie's retort when he learned of the article.

"Hurst is as good a player as Thompson right now without considering Bell at all," added McKechnie, who indicated clearly there would be no swap between the Redbirds and Phils on the terms mentioned in the yarn from Philadelphia.

The Cardinal's skipper has a high regard for the young firstsacker, who this year played for Syracuse, which team is a part of the extensive Cardinal farm system. McKechnie did not give his estimate of Lester Bell, but it is known that the Harrisburg athlete has some playing traits that are pleasing to his boss.

Another firstbaseman in St. Louis, nevertheless, is not needed. McKechnie has one of the greatest in Sunny Jim Bottomley and naturally he would be willing to listen to dickers looking toward a player in exchange for Hurst.

While it is known that McKechnie would like to get Cuyler, nothing definite has passed between Bill and the Dreyfuss-Bush combination.

"I expect to attend the Dallas meeting next week," said McKechnie. "I don't look for anything to develop in the way of trades until that time so far as St. Louis is concerned. I hope to be able to negotiate with Donie Bush in Dallas."

May Place Bets By Wire to Havana

By Universal Service

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 28.—State officials are watching the racing situation at Hialeah Park, but decline to make any comment concerning the latest plan announced from Miami Saturday to have the wagering on the races conducted by telegraph to and from Havana, where it is proposed to maintain a central office at which place the actual betting will be done. The actual sale and cashing of the "tickets," according to the plan will be transacted in Havana, being sent there by telegraph from the track and the disbursements accomplished through telegrams from the Cuban office.

It is proposed to establish a commission plant at Miami to operate as a branch of the Havana office to buy in the tickets for cash and receive their remuneration plus a small commission for service, from the Havana office.

Reports from Miami say physical preparations are going forward for the winter horse and dog races scheduled to start there soon after New Years.

The state authorities have heretofore stood firm on the policy that there cannot be any betting on races in Florida.

ALL is in readiness for the opening of the Pittsburgh and Ohio League tonight when the crack Siano Club entertains the St. Richards quintet on the Columbus Temple floor.

The Sianos are one of the favorites to win the first-half championship and they are eager to get off to a good start tonight. They have been training hard for the last three weeks in preparation for the opener and will take the floor tonight with every man in fine shape. Al Speer of the Tristate Officials' Association will handle the game.

THE Philadelphia Company League, composed of six clubs, makes its season's debut tonight at Fifth Avenue High School, Pittsburgh Railways meeting Philadelphia Company in the opening battle.

While there is considerable interest in the outcome of this battle, the game Thursday between House of Service and Duquesne Light promises to be the best attraction of the week.

DRIBBLES

The Snyder family seems to thrive on managerial positions. While Solly Snyder manages Homer Robertson, former local middleweight boxer, Sam Snyder, his brother, is the pilot of the Boston Whirlwinds, New England basketball champions.

Waddell and Sheehan, Siano stars, appear to be in for an excellent season on the floor this winter judging by their work in the preliminary workouts.

The Enoch Rauhs, preparing for their opening battle of the season with Pittsburgh and Lake Erie next Tuesday night at Columbus Temple, met the Duquesne University varsity squad in a practice game on the Bluff yesterday.

The Y. M. H. A. senior team and the Reserve team each scored victories Saturday night. The varsity defeated Heinz House in the main attraction while the reserves scored a victory in the Metropolitan League.

D. J. Broderick, well-known local athletic director, has been chosen coach of the Goodwill team, last year known as the Clark club.

Applicants for berths in the Allegheny County League will meet tomorrow night in Kaufmann's to arrange plans for the opening game. Six clubs are assured for franchises.

WELCH PICKED

Fourteen colleges were represented by the leading 22 players.

Selection of outstanding ends appeared most difficult with a horde of fine wingmen developed on Atlantic gridirons this season. Amos of Washington and Jefferson, and Connor, New York University quarterback, were general choices to team with Marsters and Welch in the backfield. Influenced perhaps by the greater experience several Army and Navy stars boast through college play before entering the service academies, critics gave Cadets but one place on the first team. Navy gained one second team choice.

By RED GRANGE, Former All-America Halfback.
Written Expressly for the New York American and Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Football luminaries were numerous in the Big Ten Conference this year, some of them standing out so clearly that there was no reason to hesitate in selecting an all-star team. I have followed the work of Conference teams and players since long before I donned my togs as a member of the freshman team at Illinois, and I presume Conference football will always hold special interest for me.

I have not seen some of these players in action this season but there are several in the two elevens whom I have seen and followed closely. I have played against some of them, who closed their college careers this season, and I have talked to coaches and critics whose ideas I value highly. Thus I am able to select two elevens which I am sure would hold their own with first and second teams from any section of the country, if such competition were possible.

In making these choices I have paid no attention to the right and left side of the line or backfield, choosing the men by position only as good ends, tackles or guards who can play on either side, and the present-day arrangement of backfields puts no premium on right or left side.

ENDS ARE GOOD

For ends I believe Oosterbaan of Michigan and Haycraft of Minnesota deserve first honors. There will be no argument about Oosterbaan, who was, in my opinion, the best end in college football last year, and just as good this year, or, perhaps, a little better.

Haycraft is also big, though not as big as Oosterbaan. He shines alike on offensive and defensive play, catches forward passes in baseball fashion, and it is almost as difficult to get a play around him as around the Michigan star. Fisher of Northwestern and Cameron of Wisconsin are second choices for end.

Raskowski of Ohio State is the outstanding tackle in the Conference this year and Nowack of Illinois, playing his first full season as a regular, has come along fast. I played against Raskowski in my senior year when he was a sophomore, and he was a great player then.

Nowack is a player who never forgets anything he is told, and constantly strives to improve his own playing. You might call him a keen student of tackle play, who is always striving to learn.

Baer of Michigan is a great guard, with all the size that is needed and with speed that often takes him down the field ahead of the ends. He is a consistent player who seldom has an off day. Hanson is big and strong, not as fast as Baer, but a player so powerful that it is next to impossible to gain through his part of the line.

It is a bit difficult to choose a center, as Reitsch of Illinois and Rouse of Chicago are so near equal in playing skill. Both were captains this year, both pass accurately, and there is little to choose between them on defense. Each has a habit of going out of the line to break up forward pass plays. From what I know of the two I am inclined to give the edge to Reitsch, but it is only an edge.

Second choices for other linemen are Nelson, of Iowa, and Gary, of Minnesota, as tackles, and Schultz, of Illinois, and Dart, of Northwestern, as guards.

Crofoot, of Wisconsin, is my first choice for quarterback, with Gilbert, of Michigan, and Almquist, of Minnesota, as halfbacks, and Joesting, of Minnesota, as fullback. Eby, Bennett, Welch and Lewis make up the second team backfield.

Crofoot is a smart palyer, mixes his plays well, and also puts a lot of pep and dash into the play of his team. Gilbert is the best triple threat man in the Conference if not in the country. He is the best passer in the Conference, a great kicker and a strong open field runner.

Almquist is the best college player I have ever seen on off-tackle plays and he is a good end runner as well. He is a hard runner and fast, and always is good for gains.

Joesting is a line smasher extraordinary, who can batter an opposing line to shreds. He can always pick up two or three yards when needed. He is big and strong and he can back a line in wonderful fashion.

can put in their title claims. But if they should come through with victories in the coming games, Pitt over Stanford and Georgia over Georgia Tech Saturday, their claims will be far and away the best of the lot.

W. & J. TIED TWICE

Wash-Jeff, placed last in the first five ranking, was twice tied, once by Pitt and again last Thursday by West Virginia. Illinois, while not considered as powerful as any of the first three, must have something to have been able to come through a Big Ten season without defeat. Indiana ruined Minnesota's record with a 14-14 tie, and then, the Gophers didn't get a win over Notre Dame.

There are five other teams that could be given some consideration as title possibilities. But they have all been defeated, and it seems hardly fair to give them rank with five unbeaten teams, especially since some of the quintet without defeat lambasted the once downed ones.

The second five would be ranked somewhat in this fashion:

Yale.
Army.
Notre Dame.
Nebraska.
Southern California.

Yale was beaten by Georgia and Notre Dame lost to Army. U. S. C. lost to Notre Dame and was tied by Stanford, and the Irish also have a tie game with Minnesota to explain. Pitt licked Nebraska, and in crushing Nebraska, Penn State, Carnegie Tech, West Virginia and Drake, the Panthers shoved their slip right to the fore. As Stanford tied old U. S. C., the Pittites can claim all honors, and hardly be denied, by taking the Cardinals on New Year's Day.

GEORGIA MEETS TEST

Georgia's record has not been as strong as some of the others in the first five, due to the fact that the Crackers have not met the opposition the rest have encountered, but when they did face a test, against Yale, they won the ball game, even though it was by a close score. Some may argue that it was an early game for Yale and that Eli was not "right" for the battle. Well, October is October for Georgia as much as it is for Yale. That is the best answer to such a crack.

Despite the fact that the main season is over and gone, there are the three important loose threads to be gathered up—two of them this coming Saturday and one New Year's Day. Another will be taken care of when Penn plays California, but this game means little as a title-fixing affair. It is just another ball game.

Saturday U. S. C. will face Washington's Huskies in a battle that may decide the Coast Conference championship, but will not have the victory wreath to either of the contesting elevens. If Washington wins, Stanford will be the Western titlist, and if U. S. C. drops the Huskies, then it and Stanford will be tied.

TECH MAY STOP CRACKERS

Georgia Tech can end Georgia's Southern Conference and national title hopes by crumbling the Crackers at Atlanta. Georgia will enter the game a favorite, but not a heavy one, and there is no real assurance that they will win. The Tornado has been defeated but once, by Notre Dame, and the chances are that the Irish would have licked Georgia too, if the teams had met.

Pittsburgh is agog over the trip to the coast the Golden Panthers are to make. It is a tribute to Pitt that the eleven was selected by the Rose Bowl and Stanford folk to represent the East in such an important game and is very unfortunate that Stanford had to lose to Santa Clara and St. Mary's, for both are minor teams and defeats at such hands cannot help but detract from the rating of the Cards.

If Pitt licks Stanford, the Panthers will have defeated one of the most powerful elevens in each section of the country, except the South. They walloped Penn State, considered one of the best teams in the East, and they pounded Nebraska from the Midwest and Stanford in the Far West. Not such a bad season's work.

When it comes to a showdown, figuring on the basis of present attainments, the hon[illegible] the year seem to be before [illegible]gia.

DRURY IN ACTION—A BLOCKED KICK

more. He must get over the Harmon hurdle tonight if he hopes to meet Dundee in the same ring December 12. Life is just one tough test after another for the Charleroi auto mechanic and stablemate of Willie Davies, the state flyweight champion.

Saylor says he'll make the grade. He's trained faithfully and is confident his speedy maneuvering and versatile left-hand sniping will overcome Harmon's edge in experience and really welcomes this trial, for he believes that a victory over Harmon will give him a higher standing with the fans and insure a capacity crowd for a meeting with Dundee later.

Harmon arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday, pronouncing himself fit to hand Saylor the first setback of the latter's career. The pair will weigh in at 3 p. m. today in the Motor Square gym.

Jack Katkish, rugged welter of Lawrenceville, meets Walter Dickerson of California, Pa., in the eight-round semi-final tonight, with Eddie Carver, veteran Negro lightweight of the South Side, tangling with Jack Bany of McKeesport in the second bout and Jimmy Belmont of Braddock and Scrappy Whitelaw, Negro lightweight of the East End, mixing in the six-round opener.

DAVIES MEETS CARPENTERO

The Jim Buchanan stable of Charleroi is in for a busy week. Besides having Saylor in with Harmon here tonight, Buchanan will pilot Willie Davies against Luis Carpentero, the Filipino of Columbus, in the main bout at McKeesport Thursday night.

Two other shows are booked for Thursday night. The new Carnegie Club gets under way that evening in the Moose Hall, Carnegie, with Tug Phillips and Jackie Murray meeting in a repeat number in the main bout, and the Homewood Baseball Club of the County League stages its benefit amateur boxing show in the East End Armory.

Phil Scott, the English heavyweight champion, who was dumped in the first round by Knute Hansen in his American debut recently, tries again tonight, when he boxes Monte Munn in the main event in Madison Square Garden, New York, while Leo Lomski, who is matched for a light-heavyweight championship battle, does his stuff against Tony Marullo of New Orleans in the windup at the Arena, Philadelphia, with Jack Dempsey looking on as an honor guest. Marco Polo, McKees Rocks heavy, and Pietro Corri of New York meet in the 10-round main event of a show in the Mishler Theater, Altoona, and Jack Humbeck, the Belgian, makes his bow on U. S. soil against Arthur DeKuh in a 10-round bout in Brooklyn.

GOOD 'UN BEATS SEIFERT

Sandy Seifert, local heavyweight, lost to one of the most promising of the youngsters when he dropped a 10-round decision to Jack Gross of Philadelphia in the semi-final to the Paulino Uzcudun-Johnny Risko bout in Madison Square Garden last Friday night. Gross is a tall, rangy southpaw managed by Boo-Boo Hoff of Philadelphia. He hails originally from Wilmington, Del., and has compiled an impressive list of knockout victories. He outweighed Sandy by six and one-half pounds and hurt the Pittsburgher with his left uppercuts and crosses to the body in the first round and damaged Sandy's nose and cut his right eye in the fourth session, but found he had a tough battle on his hands before it was over. It was a hard-fought engagement to the final bell, according to ringside reports.

The new Detroit Olympia arena had to place some red ink on its ledger following its Jimmy McLarnin-Billy Wallace bout last week. A gate of $50,000 was expected and Wallace was guaranteed $10,000 and McLarnin $7,500. The receipts totaled only around $30,000 and when all the bills were paid there was a deficit. It was the big club's first losing show.

Mike McTigue knocked out Paul Berlenbach and Mickey Walker knocked out McTigue in the first round and couldn't stop Berlenbach in 10. Make that prove anything you want it to. And Paulino Uzcudun pulled out of a match with Phil Scott, the English resin-sniffer, who was knocked out in one heat by Knute Hansen, a sub for Paulino. Then Paulino went in against Johnny Risko last Friday night and lost the decision in 10 rounds. The answer is "yes."

Rockne Praises Assistants on Victory

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—Tickled with his Notre Dame team's victory over Southern California last Saturday, Coach Knute Rockne passed along part of the glory to his coaching assistants in a dinner speech after the great battle.

"Hunk Anderson," said Rockne, "is head coach on the Saturdays we lose. Anderson coaches the team, Tommy Mills does the scouting, and all I do is blow up the ball."

At a luncheon yesterday in honor of the boys of Polish extraction on his Notre Dame team, which glories in the title of "Fighting Irish," Rockne said that his school wanted more boys of Polish blood. Johnny Niemic, halfback, and John Polaski, tackle, stars of the first string eleven, were the particular guests of honor.

FOUR NEBRASKA STARS PLACED

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—Nebraska drew the lion's share of the places on the all-Missouri Valley Conference football team for 1927, selected by the Associated Press after a tabulation of votes from conference coaches, athletic directors, officials and sports writers.

Nine of the 10 valley coaches joined in the selection, and most of the athletic directors named their choice.

The Scarlet Nebraska Cornhusker team, which lost only to Missouri in the conference, placed four men on the first eleven, and two on the second team. Missouri drew second place with three men on the first team and two on the second. Iowa State was close behind with two on the first, three on the second. Oklahoma placed two men on the first team, one on the second.

All Missouri Valley selections:

Warner at their respective helms, when the one-time master and pupil did not hit it off so well.

The kernel of a fairly good short story is contained in the fact that Sutherland and Warner meet again, with a few millions on the sidelines.

IT IS generally conceded that comparative scores in football mean little, if anything. Therefore, staying close to that accepted dogma, it is not fair to assume that because Pitt defeated West Virginia with ease and that Wash-Jeff got only a tie Pitt is superior to Wash-Jeff. One can't get around the fact that, after all, Wash-Jeff tied Pitt. And in spite of Pitt's glorious climax against State and in spite of Wash-Jeff's inglorious failure at Morgantown there are still many who believe that if Pitt and Wash-Jeff were to meet again next week that a duplicate of what happened before would be seen. It is only fair to say this on behalf of the Presidents.

ATHLETICS score high when one hears that William Muldoon, at 82, a strong man in his day, was selected to referee amateur bouts in New York. Refereeing is not the mildest form of exertion. At 82 Muldoon was deemed fit for such assignment.

Now after having just written that I notice in a paper where owing to bad weather Muldoon withdrew from the assignment. The whole thing is therefore a little reminiscent of the girl who after having been voted the healthiest girl in the world, could not appear at the ceremony where she was to be crowned—on account of a bad cold.

CLEVELAND, at least, is unique. Without a good baseball club and without a manager, the new management plans to build a new stadium seating 85,000 persons. Usually one gets a good team first, but Cleveland is about to show that Shakespeare was wrong in saying "the play's the thing."

The new stadium, by the way, is to be one of the finest. It will be built on the lake front. New capital recently took over the Cleveland franchise. Possibly, a few big fights will be attracted to Cleveland, if the builders arrange the stadium to handle fight crowds.

OF COURSE, you've heard of the Scotchman who put the food for his dog in front of a mirror so the dog thought he was getting a double portion. Please refrain from telephoning protests. All complaints must be in writing.

DULUTH SIX LOSE TO WINNIPEG, 3-2

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The Winnipeg Maroons evened their series with Duluth and won the first game of the present American Hockey Association season when they defeated the Duluth Hornets, 3 to 2 here Saturday night.

HUMBECK ON TRIAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(UP.)—Another likely-looking and highly-advertised foreigner will make a bid for a position in the ranks of the heavyweight boxing contenders tonight, when Cyclone Jack Humbeck of Belgium, meets Arthur DeKuh in Brooklyn. Humbeck was brought to this country by Tommy Burns, former heavyweight champion.

Post-Season Grid Card

DECEMBER 3.—Georgia vs. Georgia Tech at Atlanta; Alabama vs. Vanderbilt at Birmingham; Southern California vs. Washington at Los Angeles; Florida vs. Maryland at Jacksonville.

December 31.—Pennsylvania vs. U. of California at Berkeley.
January 2.—Pittsburgh vs. Stanford at Pasadena.

Governor Inspired W. Va. Eleven

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 28.—That West Virginians take their football seriously, and that they have an unlimited amount of state pride in the West Virginia University football team is well known wherever Mountaineer football teams are known.

Reflecting that pride and loyalty, Gov. Howard M. Gore, braving a heavy downpour, was one of the first to arrive at the Stadium last Thursday nearly an hour before the kickoff. West Virginia's Chief Executive expressed his faith, and the confidence and friendship of the people of West Virginia, in a brief but inspiring talk to the members of the West Virginia University football team in the gymnasium, just a few minutes before they went over to the stadium dressing rooms.

Gov. Gore cheered and encouraged the varsity by saying, "Numerous criticisms have been broadcast against your coach, but we can never forget the time that a Mountaineer eleven won a great victory over Princeton and the great Roper, which resulted in Walter Camp's selection of Ira Rodgers as captain of an All-American team.

"All great teams have off years such as you have experienced, but through it all you have shown your manliness and courage, and I have the greatest faith that you will go out today and do the very thing which few people think you will do. You can do it if you get the real Mountaineer spirit and I am counting on you to go out there and show that spirit."

Gov. Gore's fine speech played no little part in the outcome of the twenty-sixth meeting of the ancient grid rivals in what turned out to be one of the greatest and most thrilling games ever witnessed on Mountaineer Field.

SPORT COMMENT

Allegheny and Berkman of Thiel, the equal of many "big-time" halfbacks.

IN CARNEGIE TECH'S home games, also, there were few players on invading teams that stood out with unusual prominence, except, of course, on the occasion of the game with Detroit, in which practically the entire invading team performed in impressive fashion.

The most prominent individual star on a visiting team at Forbes Field against the Plaid was Lloyd Brazil, the star triple-threat halfback of Detroit. Halfback Connell also made his presence felt in the same game.

Just as they did later against Pitt, Tackle Douds, Halfback Heisel and Center Aschman of W. & J. also played brilliantly against Carnegie Tech, and another notable visiting performer was Quarterback Justin Blatz of Western Reserve.

THE 14-to-14 deadlock played with the Oregon Aggies at Portland, Ore., Saturday forms a very creditable closing chapter to the story of Carnegie Tech's season.

It was not the best season that the Skibos ever had, but the four games lost were dropped to powerful teams, and when it is considered that the schedule was an uncommonly hard one, and that the Tartans had been weakened by the loss of five exceptionally good players from the 1926 team, the year was one of credit to the Plaid.

It is something more than an ordinary team that can go through such a tough schedule as Carnegie Tech ployed, and then make a long trip across the country and hold the Oregon Aggies to a tie on their own field.

THE Skibos scored in every game played during the campaign, which is another bit of distinction for Wally Steffen's lads.

Peering forward in 1928, it is not easy to find another college with a brighter outlook than Carnegie Tech. With most of this year's players remaining over, and a whale of a freshman team coming up—a group of capable huskies that measure up almost to Nebraska proportions—all prospective opponents may well take warning right now that they'll have to look out for the Skibos next season.

ONE of the most brilliant football careers in the history of the college sport came to an end Saturday. Harry Wilson, captain of the Army eleven, Sharon boy and former star halfback for Penn State, has passed out of the picture, and his going leaves a place that will not soon be filled.

Few players except Elmer Oliphant, Ed Garbisch, Charley Daly and one or two others have remained in the eye of the football public for so long a time as Wilson, and even fewer have continued to shine through all that period with such extraordinary brilliance.

There is only one Wilson seen in football in a generation, and when you consider that he played four years with Sharon High School, four years at Penn State and finally four years at West Point, and was a shining star all through his career, it becomes apparent that you will have to look around quite a while to find his equal.

THROUGH all that time Wilson was his team's main prop as a ball carrier.

The countless rough tackles he experienced in playing more than 100 games of school and college football, the tremendous amount of ground he covered in his runs, and the fact that through it all he preserved his durability so well that even in his final game he was able to make the two touchdowns that won for the Army Saturday against the Navy, makes it evident that when the names of the greatest and most durable football players of all time are written, the Sharon boy will have to be given a lofty place on the honor roll.

M'CORMACK, SINGER, ENTERS RACING GAME

DUBLIN, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—John McCormack, Irish singer, is going after new laurels. With a stable of six he has entered the racing field. He will run his first horses in Ireland next year under the colors of red and gold.

HOWARD KELLY

The only regular on the Westminster College eleven of this season who will be lost to Coach Dyke Beede by graduation. Kelly, who hails from New Castle, is a crack end and his loss, while it will be an only one, will be keenly felt by the United Presbyterians.

New Army-Navy Ticket Plan Sought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(U.S.)—Complete revision of the plan by which tickets for the Army-Navy football game are allotted probably will be worked out as a result of the scandals incident to the disposition of this year's seats, it was indicated here today.

Officials of the War and Navy departments were represented as incensed at finding that tickets allotted by the military and naval academies to members of Congress had been hawked around Washington at exorbitant prices.

A new system may be worked out before distribution of the coveted pasteboards for next year's game rolls around, it was freely predicted.

One plan suggested to stop the practice of speculating in congressional tickets is to have the admittance cards allotted to members of Congress printed in a distinctive color and make them worthless unless signed by the person to whom they were issued.

NEW YORK GIANTS STRENGTHEN GRID LEAD

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—With the professional football season drawing to a close rapidly, the New York Giants assumed a lead today that virtually clinched the pennant in the National Football League.

With a lead of three games over the Packers of Green Bay, the Giants need only to hurdle the New York Yankees of Red Grange Sunday to clinch the title. The Giants proved too versatile for the Chicago Bears yesterday and pushed the Bruins from second to third place in the standing by a 13-to-7 defeat.

Cleveland took a firm grip on fourth place by trimming the Chicago Cardinals, 32 to 7. Providence humbled Grange's team, with the famous redhead confining his efforts mostly to passing, by a 14-to-7 count, in the only other game played Sunday.

BIG TEN TO ARRANGE SCHEDULES ON FRIDAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(U.S.)—Directors and coaches of the Big Ten conference will meet here next Friday and Saturday to arrange schedules in all branches of sports for the seasons of 1928-29.

The coaches will draw up schedules for basketball, swimming, track, wrestling, baseball, gymnastics and hockey. The directors will discuss football dates.

LONE STAR GAS SAGS BACK IN LOCAL MARKET

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(Associated Press.)—The new week on the curb market started in with bullish activities on an extremely large scale causing violent fluctuations in many issues, but the advances and later reactions were without any basis so far as could be learned and represented, observers said, either violent speculation or continued accumulation similar to that that has been in progress for a long time. The most important movement of the forenoon was an advance of 39 points in Ford Motor of Canada, that stock selling at 633. This movement was connected with the announcement that the new models ready for inspection Friday. Aluminum of America had a further advance of over 7 points to above 145 and then lost all its gain. Tubize, which rose 35 points on Saturday, reacted 20 points to 460. Johns Manville was heavily traded, moving up to above 119 on a gain of over 2 points. Pennsylvania Salt after advancing over 3 points, had its gain turned into a loss. Maryland Casualty rose about 4 points to 183 and Firestone Tire after reacting over 2 points became strong.

There was heavy trading again in Industrial Rayon, which equaled its high record of 19⅞, and then yielded a point. Celanese issues were weak, the new common and preferred each declining over 2 points. Warner Pictures common yielded ⅝ to 12⅝, a new low for recent trading.

Mining stocks were active. Newmont fell about 3 points, while United Verde Extension advanced a point. Trumbull Steel to be included in the Republic merger was traded at 11⅝.

Utilities were quiet, but strength was shown in Commonwealth Edison, which rose nearly 3 points. Oils were generally heavy. Standard Oil of Ohio dropped 3 points and Standard Oil of Indiana and Illinois Pipe Line each yielded a point.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—Following is the official list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange giving all stocks and bonds traded, (00 omitted in sales column in bond list)

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The raw sugar market was easier today with prices 1-16c lower under more liberal offerings. Sales reported were 37,000 bags of Cubas for prompt shipment to a local refiner at 4.36c.

The issuance of 111 December notices had a depressing effect in the raw sugar futures market, throughout the forenoon session, prices at midday showing net losses of 3 to 6 points. The principal selling seemed to come from houses with trade and Cuban connections, [illegible]

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The bond market was steady, with trading in small volume and quite dull. New offerings at the beginning of the week were negligible, but some traders apparently were limiting their commitments, possibly in expectation of a temporary stiffening of money rates in response to end-of-month requirements.

Listed bonds showed only fractional changes, except in a few issues which are subject to wide movements, such as Brooklyn Union Gas 5½s. These bonds, being convertible, dropped back more than a point on realizing.

A fair demand for St. Paul liens continued to manifest itself. The 4s and convertible 4½s advanced fractionally to new peaks for the year around 68¼ and 69¼ respectively. Illinois Central 4s were moderately active around their 1927 high and Missouri Pacific 4s and Baltimore and Ohio 5s followed a firm trend.

Quiet ruled the utility and industrial groups. United Railway of St. Louis 4s, however, sold at a new peak for the year.

United States government obligations inclined to heaviness. Little business was done in the foreign department.

NEW ORK, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows. (00 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

Blaw Knox Steel At New High

Lone Star Gas ran into some selling on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today and sagged back a full point, the widest dip the stock has taken since it began the upward movement which carried it to the new high record price above 59. On the other hand Blaw Knox Steel went into higher ground and established a new record top for the shares.

Selling of Lone Star, while moderately heavy, was not sufficient to give the stock a weak appearance despite the back-down of $1 a share. The hesitation was interpreted as another resting period similar to those experienced on various occasions over the past few months while the stock has been on the upward move. Traders are expecting an announcement soon in regard to sale of the Lone Star properties, but opinion seems to be about evenly divided on the subject of whether the company's holdings will or will not be disposed of. According to rumor, there have been several conferences between Lone Star and Standard Oil of New York officials, but so far these reports have received no official recognition. L. B. Denning, president of Lone Star Company, is in Pittsburgh today, but declined to comment on the recent strength and activity in the shares of the company.

The move in Blaw Knox Steel to the highest price on record was in anticipation of favorable dividend at the next meeting. The company recently retired its $683,000 7 per cent preferred stock and it is expected the saving brought about by extinguishment of this charge will be passed along to the common shares. There are 248,305 shares of common ($25 par) outstanding.

The newly listed Worthing Ball Company shares appeared on the board for the first time today with several hundred shares of the Class B stock changing hands at 6⅞ to 7. The company manufactures golf balls, the plant being located at Elyria, O.

Miscellaneous manufacturing issues were rather quiet although prices were steady. Harbison-Walker moved a point a a new high price, but only a few shares of the stock were handled. Westinghouse Airbrake sold off slightly following the trend of the issue in New York. Pittsburgh Plate Glass changed hands in small amounts at 212, up a point.

AMERICANS SEND $7,000,000,000 ABROAD IN '27

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—American investors have sent more than $7,000,000,000 abroad during 1927 in capital and credits, establishing a new peace time record for all time according to figures obtained from the Treasury and Commerce departments.

The remarkable feature of this great outpouring of wealth into foreign sources, according to officials, is that it has been accomplished without the United States losing so much as one cent of its gold resources.

The $7,000,000,000 went abroad in this manner, according to the figures:

1. Foreign loans publicly floated $1,600,000,000.
2. Other private investments abroad $300,000,000 to $400,000,000.
3. Tourist expenditures and immigrant remittances, over $1,000,000,000.
4. Foreign commodity purchases about $4,200,000,000.

Due chiefly to the foreign movement of American cash and credit, world economic conditions are more satisfactory than at any time since the war, according to government experts.

Both private commerce and governmental financial affairs moved well forward to stable conditions in 1927 when a number of world-wide movements were successful in breaking down barriers to eventual stability.

While elections in France, England and United States, the French war debt controversy, and maximum payments of $600,000,000 annually by Germany under the Dawes plan spell some uncertainty for 1928 and 1929, officials here believe that the world will successfully weather the storm.

Two factors expected to have a favorable effect are the International Chamber of Commerce meeting and the world economic conference in Europe last summer. Of chief importance in both were moves to break down trade barriers that for years have interrupted smooth commercial intercourse on the continent. In both meetings the United States participated.

FRANKLIN FEARS FLOOD STAGE

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 28.—Rain for the last 48 hours caused the Allegheny River to climb rapidly toward a flood stage here today, the second time within 10 days.

The stage this morning was 11.1 feet, a rise of four feet over night. Flood stage is 15 feet.

Stocks Churned, Result Is Nil; Trade Rather Uneven.

By B. C. FORBES

THE stock market was churned rather violently last week, but average quotations ended exactly where they begun—a case of much noise for little result. The week's activities included a 3,000,000-share day and a new record for the number of individual issues dealt in at one session, fully 870. Again speculators paid scant attention to news of any nature. The stock market has become a law unto itself, so to speak.

BASIC developments last week were not of unusual importance. Grain quotations, as well as cotton quotations, moved irregularly, without strong definite trend. Money rates underwent no change. Industrial happenings were entirely unspectacular.

HAD the New York Stock Exchange been in a more rational mood, attention doubtless would have been paid to the accumulating evidence that retail trade is running below last year and to the intimations of the leading mercantile agencies that Christmas buying is not thus far meeting expectations.

Also, fresh expansion during the week in brokers' loans, bringing the total to $872,000,000 above last year's figure, would have been pointed to as an ominous development had the stock market been experiencing a downward movement. A rise in sterling to the highest peak ever recorded at this season of the year, with talk of gold exports in London, would likewise have been hailed as a sobering factor.

Instead, however, trading went gaily on, and such is the interest centered in speculation at the moment that a stock exchange seat brought the unprecedented price of $300,000.

IT IS rarely possible to trace definitely the sources of aggressive manipulation of stocks. The financial pages of the newspapers have declared emphatically and repeatedly that Mr. So-And-So and Mr. This and Mr. That are aggressively forcing up certain stocks, which also are specifically named. Such statements probably are in the main accurate. Certainly the market bears all the earmarks of being led by powerful professional operators.

This circumstance, while not unusual in Wall Street history, does not make for stability of quotations. What would happen were the principal bulls suddenly to become equally forceful bears?

POLITICS are beginning to excite more talk. President Coolidge's squelching of the plan to roll up a monster petition asking him to accept nomination has not been wholly without influence upon the minds of those men of affairs who clung to the hope that the President would consent to be drafted.

Since the present bull movement was originally christened a "Coolidge market," some are beginning to wonder if it would "peter out" should Coolidge be definitely eliminated as the next Republican standard-bearer. At least the bears try to take comfort in proclaiming, "The bull market began with Coolidge and will end with him." And the bears emphasize that the stock market does not wait for foreshadowed events actually to happen before "discounting them."

Secretary of Commerce Hoover is mentioned in business and financial circles more than any other Republican possibility, while Gov. Smith practically monopolizes Democratic attention.

JUDGING by the inordinate space devoted to it by most newspapers, the promised appearance this week of a new low-priced motor car is expected to work miracles, causing an instantaneous boom in industry, in business and even in stocks. To figure on anything of the kind is, of course, childish.

THE next few weeks should afford a clearer indication of how trade promises to move in the first part of the new year.

STOCKS FALL AS MONEY RATE RISES

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—Marking up of the call money rate from 3½ to 4 per cent, the first change in about a month, turned the course of stock prices reactionary today after an earlier period of strength. The higher call rate, which is generally believed to be temporary, followed the calling of about $20,000,000 in bank loans. In view of the rapid advance in prices in the last few weeks, a reaction has been widely predicted on technical grounds, and some of today's liquidation probably was inspired by the first announcement of the new Ford car and the publication of another series of unfavorable October railroad earnings statements.

Standard industrials and rails received fairly good support on the renewal of selling pressure, losses generally being held to a point or two, but some of the volatile specialties cracked 3 to 6 points. "Bears" put out short lines in a number of chemical, tobacco, paper, rubber and steel issues to test the character of the buying support, while operators for the rise succeeded in marking up a few public utility farm implement and food shares.

Twin City Rapid Transit showed special strength on the announcement of a new refunding plan, and a substantial gain was recorded by Peoples Gas, but New York Public Utilities were heavy. Continental Can, American International, American Republics and Jewel Tea reached new high ground.

Commercial Solvents, Abraham & Straus and H. W. Helme each broke about 5 points, and Intercontinental Rubber, Purity Baking B and Atlas Powder sold off 3 points or more.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—Influenced by a bearish crop estimate from Argentina, wheat values underwent an early sag today. According to a Chicago expert at Buenos Ayres the 1927 Argentine yield of wheat promises to total 231,000,000 bushels. Opening ⅛ to ½c off, the Chicago wheat market held near to initial figures. Corn showed relative firmness, starting at ⅛c decline to ¼c advance, and later gaining a little all around. Oats were easy. Provisions also tended to recede.

Inasmuch as the majority of recent forecasts of wheat production in Argentina this season have been around 200,000,000 bushels, a new estimate today of 11,000,000 bushels more in prospect was given considerable attention here as a bear factor. There was an absence of any aggressive selling from outside sources, however, and price declines did not make much immediate headway.

Wet weather prevailing in corn belt territory furnished strength at times to the corn market today. Numerous complaints were received that corn is moulding in the crib, and that husking at various places has been brought to a standstill.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The cotton market opened easy today, 7 to 12 points lower, and early in the day continued downward, making new low records for the movement and for the entire month. Quite general selling was attributed to weakness in Liverpool and in Alexandria, also on an unfavorable interpretation of trade accounts in general, including the tendency toward curtailment in the dry goods trade and poor demand for spot cotton in the south, where the basis was reported to be showing some signs of weakening. January declined to 19.07c and May to 19.50c, while the general list showed losses of 21 to 25 points toward the end of the first hour.

Private cables reported weakness in Liverpool due to the action of Alexandria, where the continent was credited with being an active seller.

Prices continued downward with only temporary rallies, making further new low records and showing losses of about $1.50 per bale from the final of last week. New Orleans, Liverpool and the South generally were the principal sellers while aside from trade buying and covering, the demand was slow. January sold at 19.02c and May at 19.42c around midday.

FATHER OF FIVE KILLED AT WOODLAWN

WOODLAWN, Pa., Nov. 28.—George Peja, 39, of Aliquippa, father of five, was killed early today while at work in the open hearth department of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation when he was hit with a piece of a steam pipe as it burst.

SHOT, DOG STOLEN, HIS HUNTING TRIP FAILURE

CAMBRIDGE, O., Nov. 28.—The hunting trip of Raymond Lake, of Massillon, was a failure. He was struck in the temple with stray shot which almost cost him the sight of an eye, and someone stole his dog.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Higher Money Brings Selling.

A rise in the call money rate to 4½ per cent this afternoon brought a flood of selling into the market and resulted in sharp declines in the erstwhile leaders such as Steel common, Radio, General Electric, Consolidated Gas and many others. These offerings were sufficient to break prices from two to five points, although the general opinion was that much of the stock was coming from professional traders trying for a quick turn on the down side. The advance in money rates was attributed to withdrawals in connection with month-end requirements of the big corporations and was looked upon as a temporary affair. The fundamental factors bearing on the money market are not otherwise changed from the conditions prevailing over the past month or so when the call rate held stationary at 3½ per cent. However, the incident furnished good ammunition for selling the market and even conservative opinion regarded the little shake-out as a more or less desirable development in view of the rather sharp gains recorded in some issues over the past week or so.

Rail Equipment Prospects.

Railroad buying of new equipment is the strongest hope for better business next year. The present trend of rail earnings is down and car loadings to date have indicated no change until after January 1 at the earliest. That the carriers will rush into the market for new equipment while their revenues are declining seems a rather farfetched idea. Of course, the managing control of many railroads is held by those interested in equipment, steel and other industries and they may influence placing of big equipment orders. If they were to do so it would stimulate steel and other lines of industries.

B. and A. Orders Rails.

The Boston and Albany Railroad placed an order for 6,500 tons of rails for delivery in January and February, 1928, with an option to be exercised to March 1, 1928, for 2,500 tons more. The road has also bought for 1928 maintenance 7,000 kegs of track spikes, 293,440 tie plates, 245,000 cross ties and 1,175,368 feet of switch timber.

Curtis Publishing Company.

Estimated earnings of the Curtis Publishing Company for 1927 are figured on the basis of between $13.50 and $14 a share on 900,000 no par common shares, after preferred dividends, indicating net earnings of between $19,100,000 and $19,400,000, against $15,225,541 in 1926, or $9.92 a share on the common stock. It is expected directors will consider another extra of 5 cents at their December meeting, which would bring common dividends for the year to $10.

Crude Stocks Up, Gas Down.

Preliminary oil figures for October indicate an excess supply of 2,700,000 barrels of crude and refined oils, exclusive of California, a daily average over-supply of 87,000 barrels. Complete figures for September showed a net gain in oil storage of 1,124,000 barrels, a daily average excess of 38,000 barrels. A gain of 83,000 barrels in gasoline stocks east of the Rockies, indicated the beginning of seasonal storing. Stocks of gasoline for the country were reduced 3,717,000 barrels in September.

FIGHTS FOR SISTER

While the trial of her sister, Mrs. Gertrude F. Gibbons, of Boston, charged with killing her husband to conceal a dishonorable love, goes on, Mary Austin sits at the counsel table, taking copious notes to her sister's fight against the death chair.

THIEVES' TOLL HEAVY OVER WEEK-END

An assorted variety of week-end robberies in the Hill, Oakland, Squirrel Hill and East Liberty districts was reported to detectives today and yesterday morning.

A padded brick was thrown through the show window of Selzman Brothers, 916 Fifth avenue, and men's furnishings valued at $300 were taken.

The grocery of C. F. Uphoff, 459 Adamville street, was entered Saturday night by thieves, who escaped with $10 in cash and jewelry.

A P. H. Butler grocery in the Bedford avenue district was entered early yesterday morning by thieves, who carted away a wagonload of groceries.

A purse containing $25 was snatched from Miss M. Dabney, 6828 Frankstown avenue, Saturday night by a Negro at Midland and Kelly streets.

While walking in Shady avenue near Hastings street, Ralph Davis, 5742 Woodlawn avenue, and Byron Kennedy, 6643 Dalzell place, were held up and robbed of $2.50 by two men in an automobile.

A thief entered the residence of the Rev. M. Fiancia, 1623 Bedford avenue, Saturday night, taking trousers containing $10, and a pair of earrings valued at $1,000.

Frank Carpenter, 26 Dunseith street, reported his trousers, containing a small amount of money, were stolen from his bedroom yesterday morning by a Negro burglar.

Identified as the robbers who snatched the $800 Urling Brothers' payroll Saturday night at the Buhl Building, Fifth avenue, William Cleage, alias John Ames, 6202 Penn avenue, and Clayton Hankinson, 2947 Crockett street, were held for court yesterday by Magistrate George H. England. The money was recovered.

BLAME TRAMPS FOR FIRE

Tramps are believed responsible for a two-alarm fire that raged through a row of houses in Roanoke street, South Side, early yesterday, and caused damage estimated at $4,500. The fire started in a vacant house at 53 Roanoke street and damaged the adjoining homes of Dennis Sexton, 51 Roanoke street, and Eugene Schmidt, 55 Roanoke street. Seven persons including three children, were routed by the flames.

Rushing into a blaze which for a time threatened to destroy the home of James J. Onoczo, 728 Herzel street, West End, yesterday morning, Patrolman James Butler, a Negro, rescued Onoczo, who was lying on a bed overcome by smoke. Onoczo was alone in the house.

BLACK EYE CLUE TO WOMAN'S ASSAILANT

A blackened eye was the clue on which G. L. Nash, naval recruiting officer, worked to arrest Patrick Mulkerin, 21, of 1242 Irwin avenue, later identified as one of three assailants of Mrs. Nash in East Park early Saturday.

After his wife had told police that one of the assailants had a black eye, Nash started his search. He found Mulkerin in West Ohio street Saturday afternoon and took him to Allegheny Police Station. Mrs. Nash identified the prisoner. Later police arrested Ralph Talbert, 17, of 1903 Buena Vista street. Both boys deny being implicated in the attack.

PATROLMAN HURT AS POLE ARM FALLS

While walking his beat in Voeghtly street, near River avenue, last night, Patrolman James Brown, attached to the North Side station, was struck by a falling cross arm of a telephone pole. He was taken to the Allegheny General Hospital, where he was treated for cuts and bruises.

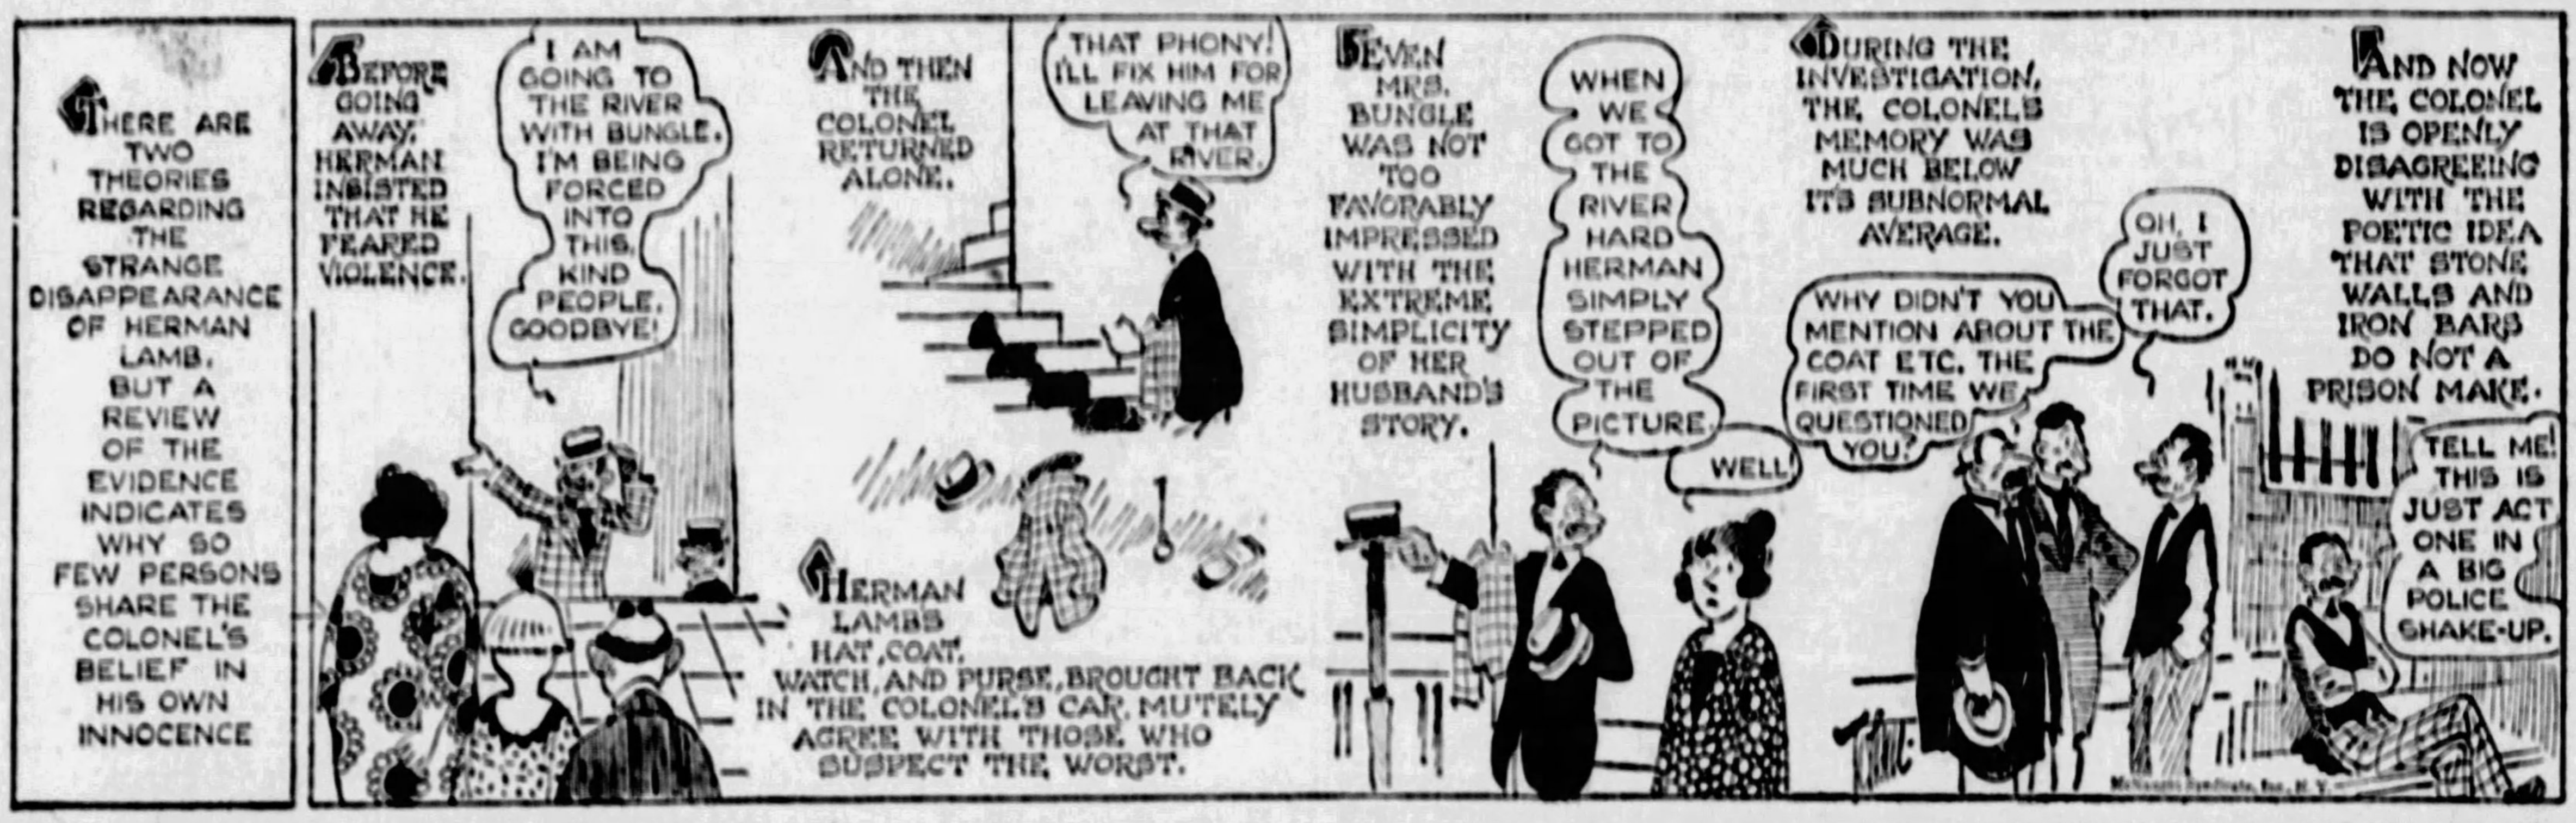
THE BUNGLE FAMILY . . . . Ladies and Gentlemen of the Jury



THERE ARE TWO THEORIES REGARDING THE STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF HERMAN LAMB. BUT A REVIEW OF THE EVIDENCE INDICATES WHY SO FEW PERSONS SHARE THE COLONEL'S BELIEF IN HIS OWN INNOCENCE
BEFORE GOING AWAY, HERMAN INSISTED THAT HE FEARED VIOLENCE.
I AM GOING TO THE RIVER WITH BUNGLE. I'M BEING FORCED INTO THIS, KIND PEOPLE, GOODBYE!
AND THEN THE COLONEL RETURNED ALONE.
THAT PHONY! I'LL FIX HIM FOR LEAVING ME AT THAT RIVER.
HERMAN LAMBS HAT, COAT, WATCH, AND PURSE, BROUGHT BACK IN THE COLONEL'S CAR, MUTELY AGREE WITH THOSE WHO SUSPECT THE WORST.
EVEN MRS. BUNGLE WAS NOT TOO FAVORABLY IMPRESSED WITH THE EXTREME SIMPLICITY OF HER HUSBAND'S STORY.
WHEN WE GOT TO THE RIVER HARD HERMAN SIMPLY STEPPED OUT OF THE PICTURE.
WELL!
DURING THE INVESTIGATION, THE COLONEL'S MEMORY WAS MUCH BELOW ITS SUBNORMAL AVERAGE.
WHY DIDN'T YOU MENTION ABOUT THE COAT ETC. THE FIRST TIME WE QUESTIONED YOU?
OH, I JUST FORGOT THAT.
AND NOW THE COLONEL IS OPENLY DISAGREEING WITH THE POETIC IDEA THAT STONE WALLS AND IRON BARS DO NOT A PRISON MAKE.

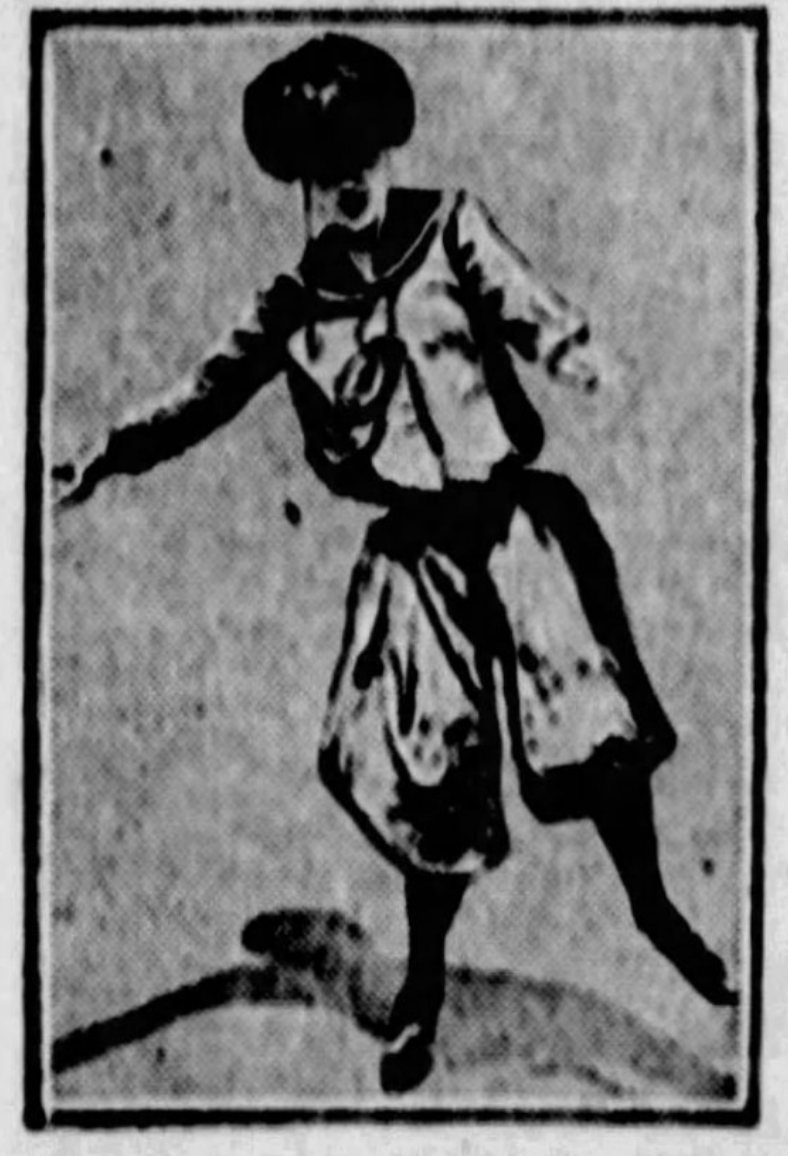
VICE WILL TAKE PART OF MR. FRISBY'S SPARE TIME



Standarized costume for Chorus girls which Mister Frisby is urging for adoption.

BY MISTER FRISBY
Congressman-at-Large

WASHINGTON, — Last week I was informed that there is vice, iniquity and crime in some of our large cities.

As soon as I was so informed I took steps to see what I could do about it.

I found a theater presenting what is known as a bare limb show. I am sorry I did not have time to find more of them.

I attended the disgusting performance seventeen times and I am convinced that it is no place for our young people.

Things are in pretty bad shape.

I have decided to start another fund to chase chorus girls out of cities of the first class.

My followers are urged to report to me any chorus girl who is running around. I will then proceed to annoy her until she leaves the locality to which she is accustomed.

I want to prove to the people that I am qualified to be the best Vice President this country has ever had to cope with.

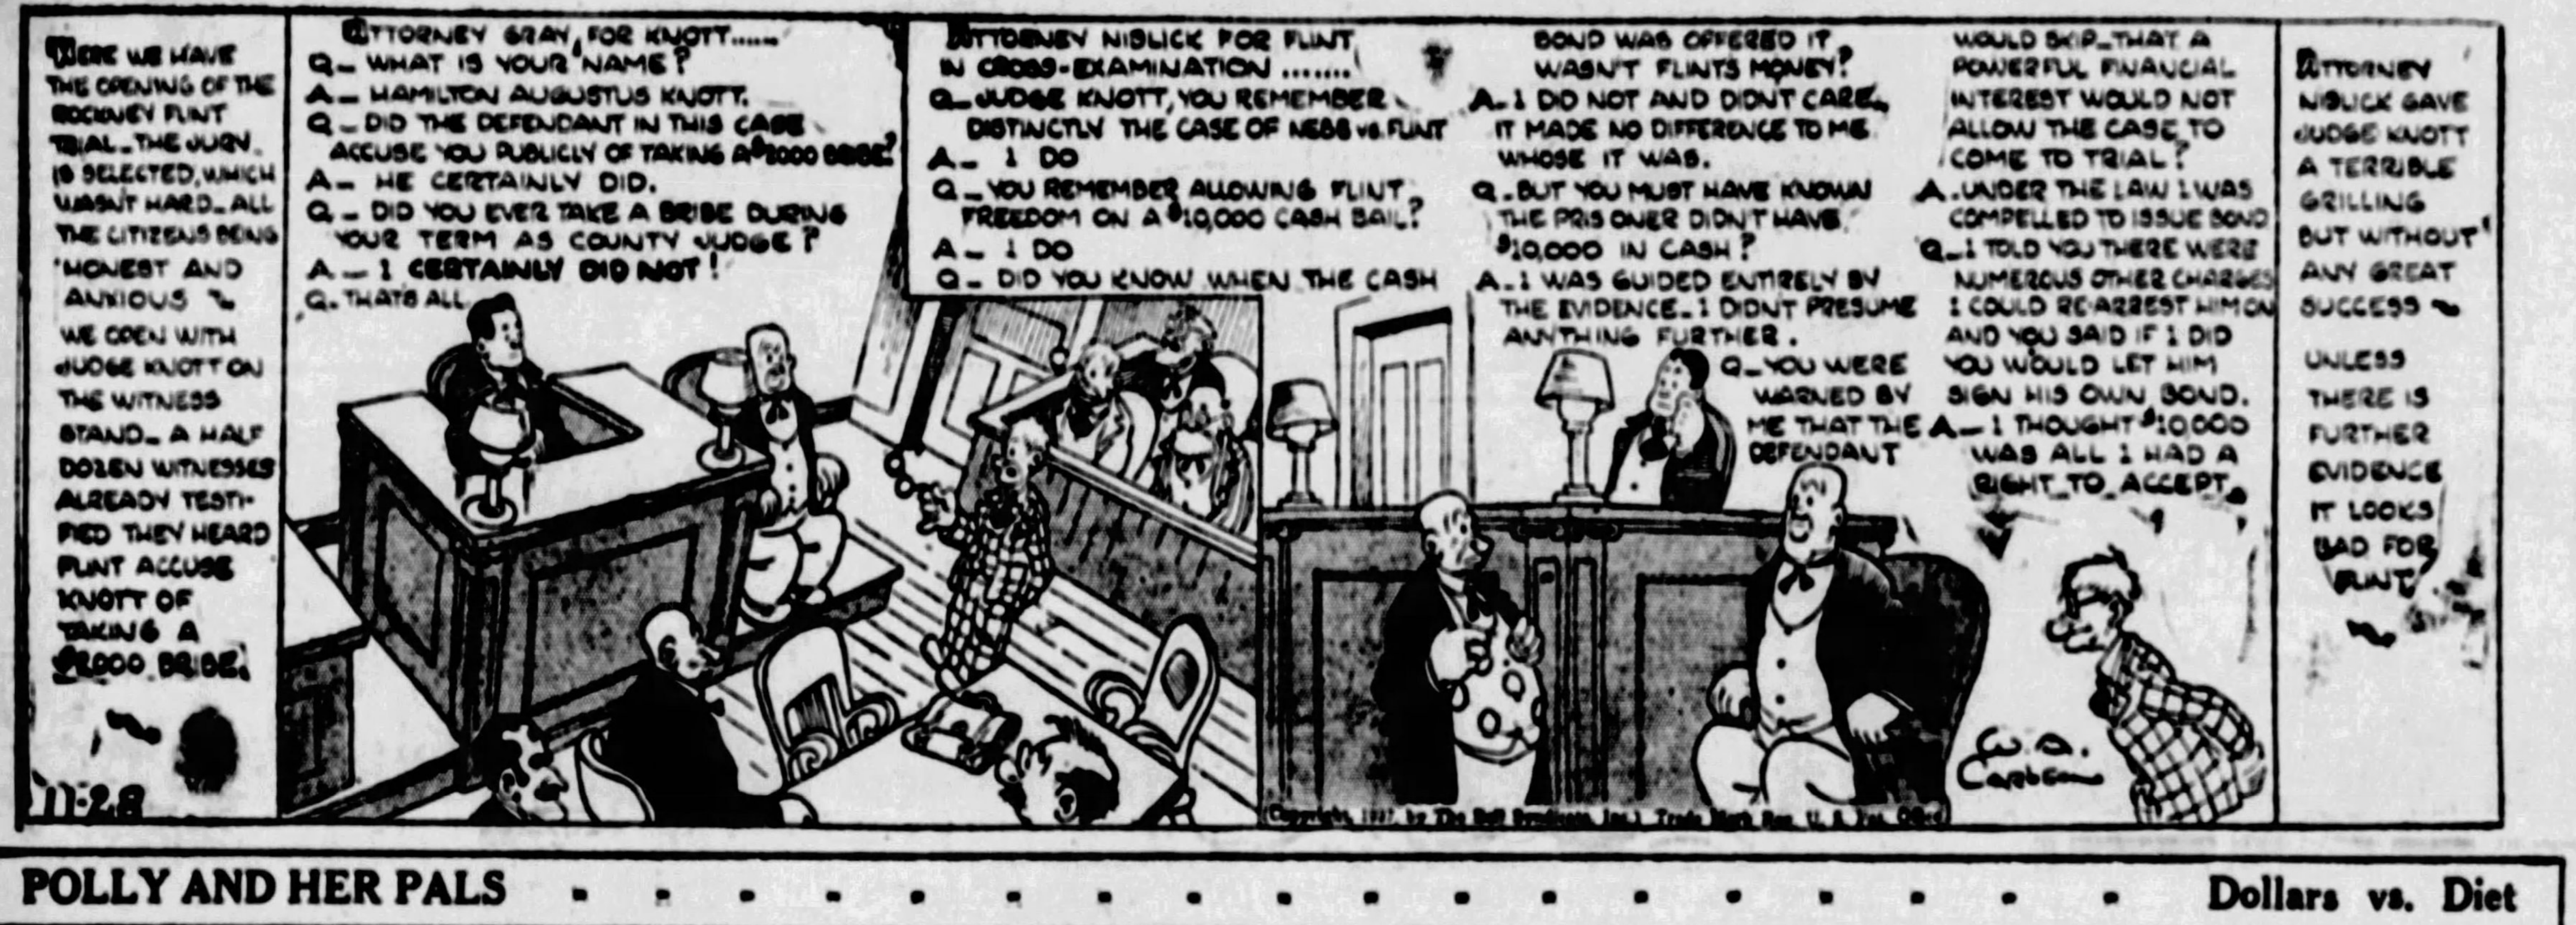
THE NEBBS

Now What?



HERE WE HAVE THE OPENING OF THE ROCKNEY FLINT TRIAL—THE JURY IS SELECTED, WHICH WASN'T HARD—ALL THE CITIZENS BEING HONEST AND ANXIOUS — WE OPEN WITH JUDGE KNOTT ON THE WITNESS STAND—A HALF DOZEN WITNESSES ALREADY TESTIFIED THEY HEARD FLINT ACCUSE KNOTT OF TAKING A $2000 BRIBE.
ATTORNEY GRAY, FOR KNOTT.....
Q.—WHAT IS YOUR NAME?
A.—HAMILTON AUGUSTUS KNOTT.
Q.—DID THE DEFENDANT IN THIS CASE ACCUSE YOU PUBLICLY OF TAKING A $2000 BRIBE?
A.—HE CERTAINLY DID.
Q.—DID YOU EVER TAKE A BRIBE DURING YOUR TERM AS COUNTY JUDGE?
A.—I CERTAINLY DID NOT!
Q.—THAT'S ALL.
ATTORNEY NIBLICK FOR FLINT IN CROSS-EXAMINATION ....
Q.—JUDGE KNOTT, YOU REMEMBER DISTINCTLY THE CASE OF NEBB vs. FLINT
A.—I DO
Q.—YOU REMEMBER ALLOWING FLINT FREEDOM ON A $10,000 CASH BAIL?
A.—I DO
Q.—DID YOU KNOW WHEN THE CASH BOND WAS OFFERED IT WASN'T FLINT'S MONEY?
A.—I DO NOT AND DIDN'T CARE. IT MADE NO DIFFERENCE TO ME WHOSE IT WAS.
Q.—BUT YOU MUST HAVE KNOWN THE PRISONER DIDN'T HAVE $10,000 IN CASH?
A.—I WAS GUIDED ENTIRELY BY THE EVIDENCE—I DIDN'T PRESUME ANYTHING FURTHER.
Q.—YOU WERE WARNED BY ME THAT THE DEFENDANT WOULD SKIP—THAT A POWERFUL FINANCIAL INTEREST WOULD NOT ALLOW THE CASE TO COME TO TRIAL?
A.—UNDER THE LAW I WAS COMPELLED TO ISSUE BOND
Q.—I TOLD YOU THERE WERE NUMEROUS OTHER CHARGES I COULD RE-ARREST HIM ON AND YOU SAID IF I DID YOU WOULD LET HIM SIGN HIS OWN BOND.
A.—I THOUGHT $10,000 WAS ALL I HAD A RIGHT TO ACCEPT.
ATTORNEY NIBLICK GAVE JUDGE KNOTT A TERRIBLE GRILLING BUT WITHOUT ANY GREAT SUCCESS — UNLESS THERE IS FURTHER EVIDENCE IT LOOKS BAD FOR FLINT.

BUGS BAER Says

WHEN Tex Guinan starts in to turn night into day she doesn't stop until she twists it into a week-end.

Tex is the well-known New York dowager of metropolitan insomnia and is the social leader of small, exclusive panics.

She is a poetess at heart, knows that the fight hath a thousand eyes, and hopes to make them all black and blue.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

The ski jumping hasn't been so smooth for Tex lately. It seems that every time the police have a parade, the line of march leads through Tex's club where she is at home every evening from twelve to wow.

The fatherly police believe that the little girl with the loud hands should be in bed by 3 a. m. in the morning. New York has a curfew law which states that law without order is like a telephone company without nickels.

Commissioner Quigley put the dampers on Tex's license, but Tex has a new orchestra composed of legal saxaphonists. She went right into court and put a judicial plaster on the commissioner.

Tex makes a very fine witness after she finds out whether she is the plaintiff or the defendant.

She gave the judge a big hand and got the license back. Tex claimed that she wasn't running a night club and the judge agreed with her that the Tex club was a farmer's market.

The judge admitted that he had never sold his butter and eggs there, but he had heard the farmers applauding after making a sale.

This encouraged Tex and now she is going to law to prove that the three a. m. curfew is a blot on the blotter of progress. It interferes with educated headaches.

There is something to Tex's argument. The Dakotas may think the day is over when the sun sets west of the municipal dump. But an evening is never through in New York until the next fight starts.

Tex wants validated permission to run her night club until the milkman calls it a day and the owl sprains its neck trying to get his head under the wrong wing.

We trust that the law will protect Tex, the clapping of roaring hands, the nasal chafing of unrestricted tenors and the banging of non-industrial hammers on wooden tables, for we know that going home at three a. m. in the morning breaks up the entire night.

As her name implies, Tex comes from the Lone Star State where they nail the star on the flag to make the night longer.

Mourning, Sad and Deep

A Little Too Picturesque, Perhaps,

PRINCESS ILEANA DRESSED PICTURESQUELY.

These pictures of Queen Marie of Rumania and her daughter, the Princess Ileana, in mourning for their father, the late King Ferdinand, will interest women.

It would be hard to conceive of more PICTURESQUE mourning costumes or more picturesque SETTINGS for mourning photographs.

The beautiful little Princess, said by a Rumanian authority to be the most perfect girl, physically, in Rumania, and perhaps in the world, is photographed in a black Turkish mourning costume at the palace at Balcic, on the Cote d'Argent, where she is staying with her mother.

There is probably no water in the jar she is carrying, but there is a sad look in her face. And, although the death of her father has not made it impossible for her to put on an attractive costume, you can tell that she feels sorry that he is gone.

The picture of the Queen of Rumania in deep, long black robe, sitting on a beautiful wall beside the handsome old jug or vase, is also picturesque.

Everything about the royal widow is black, except the little white band under her widow's cap. The dogs that accompany her are black dogs.

THE BEAUTIFUL QUEEN MARIE, ALSO DRESSED PICTURESQUELY.

The thing concerning all mourning, however, is this. Does it really do what the grief-stricken want, keeping strangers away, discouraging attention?

Some mourning in carefully trimmed shop windows seems planned to make widowhood as attractive and pleasant as possible. Our ancestors of ancient days mourned, cutting their flesh cruelly, howling with grief, making themselves uncomfortable, to please the departed spirit.

Savage tribes do that now; some of them even throw the young wives of the dead king into the grave with him and cover them up. But civilized people, realizing that howling and cutting the flesh cannot possibly please or bring back the dead person, are content to take off bright colors and wear black to show their sorrow.

Perhaps a still more highly civilized race will wear mourning in THE HEART only.

There is always something a little dubious about mourning that is "attractive and cunning."

Learn Machine Voting When Your Children Do

High school boys and girls of Pittsburgh are to be taught how to vote by voting machine. The Civic Club of Allegheny County is looking into the future. It is the organization which is behind the plan to demonstrate the modern method of voting to the voters of a few years hence.

By the time the youngsters are of legal age to vote it is felt the constitutional amendment permitting balloting by machine will have been passed. It is possible some of them may cast their first vote by machine. They WILL have that privilege if their elders do the right thing in 1928.

The constitutional amendment allowing use of voting machines will come before the electorate next year. Every citizen should begin NOW to inform himself as to its merits. One excellent way of preparing would be to become familiar with the operation of the voting machine. Learn about it at the same time the young folks do.

The Civic Club of Allegheny County is doing the county an important service. A few years ago voting machines were demonstrated in the City-County Building. Another demonstration now when there is more interest in the matter is commendable evidence of the promotion of progress.

Usual Jolly for Farmers

Just before national elections, farmers are very popular. They are, in fact, made heroic to the exclusion of most other classes of voters. A prominent Western Senator, who has named himself as a Presidential possibility, says: "The farmer is the backbone of the nation."

Perhaps, but, if so, the poor ultimate consumer in the city must be the wishbone.

Get Acquainted With Grief

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE real education of life seems to be getting acquainted with sorrow.

There are people who deny the existence of evil and turn their backs upon sorrow, but the cult of recognizing only the pleasant things of life is hardly practical.

Every once in awhile you hear of a suicide and for the most trivial of reasons.

One girl commits suicide who is 18 years of age and it is because her parents will not let her go to a party.

If she had gone there she would not have found it much of a muchness and probably would have forgotten all about it in a few days. The matter was really trivial, yet it loomed so terrible before her that it made life seem not worth living.

The trouble was she was not acquainted with grief and did not know how to act when she was confronted with a small sorrow.

A great many of our suicides are young people. Youth is tragic. Things mean a lot to young people and one thing we learn as old age advances is that nothing much matters. I have often noticed that young poets tend to deal with tragic themes.

Eternity and absolutivity are familiar to the mind of youth, but to old age things seem more temporary.

Life is long and the days are long and events are fateful with young people, but as we grow older things seem to move faster.

It behooves us to learn something of the temper of sorrow.

Sorrow is bound to come to us, sooner or later, and it is a good thing to get some practice in dealing with it.

Thomas Carlyle says that at the heart of every religious experience is a great sorrow, and certain it is that we all learn more from our tears than we do from our laughter.

Of all men it can be said, "with his stripes we are healed," and looking back over our past we can see that the really instructive things that have come to us have been our mistakes.

Get acquainted therefore with grief. Do not shun her, but look upon her as a great teacher that equips us for life.

Garrett P Serviss Says:

Hail, Mount Tacoma!

THE apologizers for American independence, those who, though accepting the honor of being American citizens, speak regretfully of the "unfortunate separation from the mother country," are conspicious among the opponents of the effort to restore to the great white mountain that grandly presides over the State of Washington its native American Indian name of Mount Tacoma, one of the most beautiful names known to geography.

Its present "official" title, defended by a body in Washington, D. C., called the "National Board of Geographic Names," is "Mount Rainier;" Rainier being the name of a British naval officer during our Revolutionary War who happened to be a friend of the British explorer, Vancouver, who sailed along the western coast of North America in 1798, and, seeing the great white peak far inland, bestowed upon it the name of his absent friend—a proceeding which, considering how far North America was at that time from being a newly discovered land, seems something like an amateur astronomer renaming the mountains on the moon! Vancouver didn't know and didn't care whether or not the inhabitants had a name for the big moutnain that hovered over them like an atavar of the Great Spirit. They were barbarians, so why should he trouble himself to inquire what they called things! Explorers frequently made this mistake of assuming that the aborigines of a country new to them, are destitute of imagination. As a matter of fact, however, the Indians of the Puget Sound region did have a name for the mighty mountain, and did possess sufficient imagination to make that name interesting even to invading white men with their age-long education in mythology.

It is not a flattering chapter in American local history which tells us that the name Tacoma, which had been formed from the original Indian appellation and applied to the mountain instead of Vancouver's unmeaning substitute, was displaced in consequence of the jealousies aroused by "a cheap real estate war" between the two rival new towns, Seattle and Tacoma. This is a thing which after being merely mentioned ought to be dropped as unfit for discussion.

If Tacoma and Seattle can not agree to settle the question upon its merits, then it is of sufficient national interest to be taken up all over the country, because every American who has ever seen this wonderful mountain lifting its grand white dome direct from sea level to an elevation of almost 15,000 feet, must feel the almost insulting impropriety of the foreign name that Vancouver thrust upon it. Don't think that names are of no consequence. They are of very great consequence. From the viewpoint of history alone the name of this mountain is important. Every Indian name that we have preserved—and fortunately they are many—throws a sidelight upon the early history and the ethnology of our continent. This particular mountain is so conspicuous, so majestic, so masterful a feature of the vast North-Pacific landscape that any other name for it than a historically and ethnologically American one is intolerable.

There is, I think, a bill still pending in Congress which provides for the getting rid of this incubus on our geographical nomenclature. One of the houses of Congress a few years ago passed such a bill; then "interests" got to work and the bill was blocked in the other house. The attention of every Senator and Representative should be called to the national importance of this question. It touches our national self-respect, it affects our sense of historic justice and our interest in the suitability and propriety of the names borne by those natural features of our country which are its indigenous ornaments that give it physical distinction.

Don't Do All the Talking

JUST because you are interested in a particular project, person or thing, is not sufficient reason for you to talk of it constantly to every person you meet.

With some folks it is their children, with others it is education; with some men it is golf, perhaps, or that trip to Maine.

It matters not how interesting your ideas are in general, no one cares to be held up by it.

Some folk are so effusive and so enthusiastic that they are almost incoherent in their jubilant chatter.

All idea of poise is lost in their impetuous desire to put the whole world wise to their experience.

Perhaps you have something to say that would be of benefit to those within hearing of your voice.

But the chances are that they will remember only the fact that you gave them no time to put a word in edgewise.

It is selfish to do all the talking.

It is narrow to be interested in only one subject.

Tales That Are Told

Made in Scotland

SOME one remarked to Harry Lauder that it was rather rough on the Scotch to have so many jokes in circulation about their stinginess when they are really generous people. "Dinna peety them," replied Sir Harry, "they invent most of the stories themselves. It's the verra finest advairtisment for their business acumen."

Waiter (to Scot who is half way through the meal)—Did you ask for another cauliflower gratin, sir?"

Aberdenian—"Gratin!" Losh man, I thocht it said "gratis."—Boston Transcript.

Didn't Dare

AT A country church a wedding had been arranged and eventually the happy morn arrived. In due course a young man and a buxom damsel presented themselves at the chancel steps.

When the youth was asked whether he would take the woman as his wife he blushed and stammered wildly:

"But, parson, sir, I'm not the man! I don't want to be married."

"Not the man?" echoed the clergyman, aghast. "Then where is the bridegroom?"

"He's down at the bottom of the church, sir. He's too shy to come up."—London Answers.

He that will not reason is a bigot; he that cannot reason is a fool, and he that dares not reason is a slave. —Drummond.

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Diary of a modern Pepys: Up and came Earl Carrol for breakfast and we talked all morning of this and that, but I find him greatly saddened. So to walk through the town and stopped by to see Blind George at his Bryant Park news stand.

To call on H. N. Swanson, the editor, and not finding him in, sat in the lobby and saw pasisng by, Lee Shubert, who always looks as though he had just stepped out of the proverbial bandbox, also Alice Brady, Gene Buck and a fellow who owes me $200, but seemed intent on reading a poster at the elevator.

In the evening to Lindy's for dinner and Al Jolson, going out, paid my chit, but neglected to tip my waiter. So to drive to Roy Howard's, but too late to see Will Irwin, John Golden and their wives, who had just departed. Very late to bed.

The majority of the fine art galleries in New York are now around Fifty-seventh street on Fifth and Madison avenues. Most of the time these salons seem deserted yet rents are high and most of them must retain representatives abroad. All of which proves that when they do sell a picture — somebody will yell, "Ouch!"

My experience in art galleries has not been pleasant. Several weeks ago in one, a Prince Albert-coated salesman approached me rather loftily with: "Do you wish to purchase or just look?" I had come in to use the telephone, which certainly made an old silly of him.

* * *

The master of ceremonies in a night club the other evening introduced an actress with extravagant encomiums. She sat serenely indifferent and a little bored. Thinking she had not heard, he repeated his flummery and asked if she would be gracious enough to make a teeny bow.

"Why should I?" she inquired with faint insolence.

"Because," he replied, "it would indicate you are a lady."

And to his surprise she responded: "Well, I'm not and never cared to be."

* * *

And, it might be added, the actress who has several time been headlined in high scandals received the soundest applause of the evening.

* * *

One of those hilarious youths who had probably listened to the ad, "Take six banjo lessons by mail and become the life of the party," was cracking smart in the same cafe and doing much interrupting. Finally the master of ceremonies asked him to the floor and insinuatingly suggested he take his place. And for the second surprise of a rather elegent evening, the youth did and convulsed a hard-boiled audience as it had not been convulsed for some time. Such evenings are rare in New York. I'm going to begin going around more.

* * *

In a midtown building there is an elevator starter whose four sons operate the elevators. All right. I know it, but it fills a little space.

* * *

The Tombs prison on Lafayette street with its Bridge of Sighs, wins my vote as the gloomiest spectacle in New York—or anywhere else. The forbidding high stone fence with spiked top and the sombre slate gray of the building are creepy. There are usually people circling around the Tombs and gazing up at the narrow slits of barred windows—hoping vainly to see some straying relative.

* * *

Sly vendors of smutty pictures and spicy pamphlets now relieve the tedium of coiling movie and grand opera lines by offering their wares to the patient throngs.

And all the college magazines should collect royalties from one collegiate musical show hit on Broadway. It survives on all their best jokes.

If You Could Choose

"IF YOU could choose, what would you take
Of all earth's vast delight,
If you could leave grief, care and ache,
Grim shadows of the night?"

"Oh, I would take the worldly way
Of riches and of ease,
In restless seeking I would stray
By all the lands and seas."

"And I would choose," another cries,
"The lofty road of art;
I want the way where learning lies,
To play a scholar's part."

"For me, I would not ask to know
The joys and cares of gold,
Down learning's ways I would not go:
Art leaves my vision cold.

"But I would choose, could I resign
All fear, all doubt, all pain,
To clasp my mother's hand in mine
And be a child again!"

Isn't It So?
